Were you living outside the Netherlands and did you have income from the Netherlands or, for example, a second home in the Netherlands?

We determine on the basis of your C income tax return whether you need to pay tax or will receive a tax refund.

Online tax return in the 'Mijn Belastingdienst' section

Since 1 March 2025, it will be possible to file an online tax return. For this, you will need a user name and password, your DigiD or an EU-approved login tool.

If you file an online tax return, some of your details have been prefilled for you. Check the details in your tax return and supplement them where necessary. If you have no user name and password, DigiD or EU-approved login tool, you can find information about what to do at belastingdienst.nl/internationaal.

OVERVIEW OF INCOME AND DEDUCTIBLE ITEMS

You can use this overview to enter the income and deductible items from your tax return. This gives you an overview of your taxable incomes in the 3 boxes. If you use this calculation tool for question 59b (tax partner's aggregate income), you fill in your tax partner's Dutch income, unless your tax partner lived in the Netherlands. His income outside the Netherlands is then included as well.

Filing a tax return

Please note!

If, in 2024, you were employed by the Dutch government and were posted abroad, it could be that you were a resident taxpayer. This is the case, for example, if you were posted as a member of the military or as a member of a diplomatic mission. In this situation, you will require a different tax return. For more information, call the Tax Information Line Non-resident Tax Issues: +31 555 385 385.

Rules for non-resident taxpayers

If you live outside the Netherlands, the so-called scheme for qualifying non-resident taxpayer status applies. If you meet all conditions of this scheme, you will be entitled to the same deductible items and tax credits as a resident of the Netherlands. If you do not meet all conditions, you will have no or only a limited right to deductible items and tax credits.

Filing an online tax return

You can also file an online tax return in the 'Mijn Belastingdienst' section. You log into the 'Mijn Belastingdienst' section via belastingdienst.nl. You can do this in the following 2 ways:

- You can log in with your DigiD.
- You can log in with a European recognised login tool from the country where you live.

At belastingdienst.nl/internationaal, you can find more information about filing an online tax return.

Filing an online tax return offers you several advantages. For instance, many details have been prefilled for you. It also allows you to determine more easily whether you meet the 90% requirement for being a qualifying non-resident taxpayer. Another advantage of filing a digital tax return is that it is easier to apportion joint income and deductible items.

Tax return in connection with a refund

Did you apply for the C form 2024 yourself? For example because you expect a refund from us? If so, you should file a tax return as soon as possible. We must receive your tax return before 1 January 2030.

Rate of exchange

If you need to convert an amount into Euros when completing your tax return, take the exchange rate (the middle rate) that applied on the date of the income and expenses. So do not use the rate of exchange on the date you complete your tax return. When calculating your income, take the Dutch tax rules into account.

Changing or supplementing the tax return

Do you want to add or change information after you have sent the tax return? In that case, you should send us a new fully completed tax return. We will process the tax return which you sent last. Information about how to request a new tax return form can be found at belastingdienst.nl/internationaal.

You are filing a return for a deceased person.

If you are filing a tax return for someone who was living abroad and died, we are often not informed of this.

In order to prevent any further inconvenience for the surviving relatives, we request that you inform us of the death in writing. For this purpose, we will need the following data:

- the deceased person's citizen service number
- a postal or other address the heirs want to use
- a copy of the death certificate

Send the above information to:

Belastingdienst
Administratie Schenking en Erfbelasting
Postbus 4660
5601 ER Eindhoven

Please note!

Do not enclose the death announcement with this tax return.

Threshold income

If you incurred any specific medical expenses or made any donations, you must calculate a threshold. This is the part of the expenses that cannot be deducted. The threshold amount depends on your threshold income and possibly that of your tax partner.

Your threshold income is the total of your income and deductible items in the 3 boxes, but without your personal deductible items and offsettable losses for previous years.

The personal deductible items are mentioned separately in the overview on page 1. For each deductible item that is subject to a threshold amount, you calculate the deductible amount using the overview and the calculation tool for the relevant question.

Aggregate income

The aggregate income is important for the amount of the elderly person's tax credit if you reached state pension age. The aggregate income is the total of your income and deductible items in the 3 boxes, but without your offsettable losses for previous years. For the question about the elderly person's tax credit, you calculate the aggregate income using the overview on page 1 and the calculation tool for question 62.

Provisional assessment for 2025

If you have received a provisional assessment for 2025, you should check if the amount of your provisional assessment for 2025 is correct now that you have the figures for 2025 at hand. If your provisional assessment for 2025 is too low or your refund too high, you should adjust your provisional assessment for 2025. This way, you prevent having to pay any tax interest.

Have you received no provisional assessment for 2025 and do you have to pay or do you expect a refund? In that case, you should apply for a provisional assessment for 2025. Information on how to do so can be found at belastingdienst.nl/voorlopige-aanslag.

Offsettable losses

Your income in box 1 or box 2 may be negative in a certain tax year. In that case, this negative income is an offsettable loss. We automatically offset a loss in box 1 against positive income in 1 or more of the 3 previous years. A loss in box 2 is automatically offset against positive income in the previous year.

Do you still have an unsettled loss from previous years? In that case, we will take this into account when calculating your final assessment for 2024.

Spouse and housemate

Wherever the tax return or the explanatory notes speak of 'spouse' or 'housemate', both genders are meant. Where 'he' or 'his' is mentioned, we also mean 'she' or 'her'.

Calculating your payable tax or tax refund

You calculate the amount of the assessment using the Overview of income and deductible items on page 1 and the calculation tool Calculating tax on page 61. You can later compare this information with the information in your assessment.

Tax interest

If you file your tax return after 1 May, you will have to pay tax interest. If you need to pay an amount, you also need to pay tax interest. If you receive a refund, tax interest will be paid to you. More information about tax interest can be found at belastingdienst.nl.

Rate adjustment

Do you have deductible expenses for the owner-occupied home or personal deductible items? And does your income fall in the highest bracket? In that case, you are dealing with the rate adjustment. This applies to the following deductible items:

- Personal allowance
 - expenses for maintenance obligations (including spousal maintenance paid)
 - weekend expenses for disabled persons
 - educational expenses
 - deductible donations
 - specific medical expenses
 - remainder of the personal allowance for previous years
- Deductible expenses for the owner-occupied home
 - deductible expenses for the debt remaining after the sale of the owner-occupied home
 - deductible expenses for the owner-occupied home
- Entrepreneurs' facilities
 - self-employed deduction
 - allowance for research and development work
 - co-working partner's relief
 - relief for new businesses in case of occupational disability
 - business discontinuation relief
 - SME profit exemption
- Other
 - exemption for providing assets

We will automatically apply the rate adjustment when imposing the assessment. Your assessment shows the amount of the rate adjustment in the form of an addition in the calculation of your income tax in box 1.

1 Liability to pay tax and national insurance contributions in the Netherlands

For question 1a

Enter the country code of your country of residence and the period you lived in this country. This code always consists of 3 letters. For example, the country code for Germany is DEU. See the List of country codes at the bottom of this page. If your country is not listed, state XXX as country code.

If you lived in more than one country in 2024, state the country code for each country of residence and the period in which you lived in each of these countries.

For question 1b

Enter the country code of your nationality. See the List of country codes at the bottom of this page. If the country is not listed, state XXX as country code. For the Netherlands, you use country code NLD.

For question 1c

You must pay national insurance contributions if you:

- live in the Netherlands and have income from work and home
- do not live in the Netherlands, but are (genuinely) employed in the Netherlands
- are insured in the Netherlands under the EC Regulation or a treaty on social security

Please note!

If you work in another country for a calendar year (or part of a calendar year) and you are not covered by the Dutch national insurance schemes for the whole year, you do not have to pay national insurance contributions in the Netherlands on your total income.

You have income from work and home if you, for example:

- are employed
- receive a benefit
- are an entrepreneur
- do freelance work
- have an owner-occupied home

Percentage of national insurance contributions

In 2024, were you covered by the national insurance schemes General Old Age Pension Act (AOW), Surviving dependants' Act (Anw) and the Long-Term Care Act (Wlz)? In that case, your total contributions due amount to 27.65% of a maximum of € 38,098 in box 1 (income from work and home). You therefore pay no more than € 10,534 in contributions.

Were you of state pension age throughout the year? In that case, your contributions due amount to 9.75% of no more than € 38,098 for the other national insurance schemes. You therefore pay no more than € 3,714 in contributions. Were you born before 1 January 1946? In that case, your total contributions due amount to 9.75% of no more than € 40,021. In that case, you pay no more than € 3,902 in contributions.

Below, you will find the applicable annual percentages for the 3 national insurance schemes.

AOW	17.90%
Anw	0.10%
Wlz	9.65% +
Total:	27.65%

Question 1d to question 1g

You fill in these questions because you were liable to pay national insurance contributions for part of the year (question 1e and question 1g) or were not liable to pay contributions under a certain national insurance scheme (question 1d and question 1f).

Please note!

If you were voluntarily covered by the national insurance schemes, you were not liable to pay national insurance contributions in the Netherlands.

Question 1h

You are liable to pay tax in the Netherlands if you had income from or assets in the Netherlands. It concerns the situation in which you, for example:

- received wage, pension or a benefit for work carried out in the Netherlands
- had profits from business activities in the Netherlands
- had results from other work in the Netherlands
- had gains from a Dutch substantial interest
- had rights to profit in the Netherlands
- had a holiday home or other immovable property

Whether or not the Netherlands is allowed to levy tax on this income depends on the applicable tax treaty.

Please note!

Do you have a shareholding of 5% or more in a private company? Or did you become an entrepreneur in 2025 and did you register with the Chamber of Commerce (CoC)? In that case, answer the first question of question 1h with 'Ja'.

Rules for non-resident taxpayers

You are a qualifying non-resident taxpayer only if you meet the following conditions:

- You live in an EU country, in Liechtenstein, Norway, Iceland, Switzerland, Bonaire, Sint Eustatius or Saba.
- You pay wage tax or income tax in the Netherlands on at least 90% of your worldwide income (90% requirement).
- For your final return for 2024, you submitted a signed and stamped personal income statement from the tax authority in your country of residence. If you previously sent us an personal income statement and are still a qualifying non-resident taxpayer, you do not need to send us a new income statement.

Personal income statement from the tax authorities of your country of residence

You are a qualifying non-resident taxpayer if you have a personal income statement from the tax authorities of your country of residence and if you meet the other conditions. The personal income statement must at least include an overview of your income, as declared by you in the tax return in your country of residence. So you will need the personal income statement if you file a tax return for 2024 as a qualifying non-resident taxpayer. At belastingdienst.nl/internationaal, you can download the 2024 personal income statement for qualifying non-resident taxpayers. You must have the completed personal income statement signed and stamped by the tax authorities of your country of residence. You should preferably send the personal income statement simultaneously with your tax return for 2024. You may also send it at another time. We will only process your tax return after we have received the personal income statement.

Send the signed and stamped personal income statement to:
Belastingdienst/Kennis- en Expertisecentrum Buitenland
Postbus 2577
6401 DB Heerlen, the Netherlands

I myself do not have Dutch income or assets, but my spouse or housemate does

In that case, you can still be a qualifying non-resident taxpayer. You and your housemate must meet the conditions for tax partnership. Moreover, at least 90% of your and your spouse's or housemate's joint income must be taxed in the Netherlands.

Brexit

The United Kingdom (UK) is no longer a member of the European Union (EU). As a result, you can no longer be a qualifying non-resident taxpayer. In case of a consecutive continuation of work or comparable income, you meet the conditions under transitional law. In that case, you may answer question 1h Do you live in the European Union (EU), Iceland, Liechtenstein, Norway or Switzerland? with 'Ja'.

Social insurance schemes

If you were compulsorily covered by the social insurance schemes in the Netherlands, for example for your old-age pension, we will take into account the deductible items and tax credits when calculating the national insurance contributions. Here, it does not matter if you were a qualifying non-resident taxpayer. In calculating the national insurance contributions, we use your worldwide income in box 1. We also take the national insurance components of the tax credits into account.

For question 1i

Complete question 1i if you lived in 1 (or more) of the following countries in 2024:

- the European Union (EU)
- Iceland
- Liechtenstein
- Norway
- Switzerland
- in Bonaire, Saba or Sint Eustatius
- in Suriname or Aruba

At this question, you must enter a period to allow us to determine if you are entitled to the full tax credit for income tax or a prorated tax credit.

You lived in 1 of these countries for the whole of 2024

Did you have income from the Netherlands or assets in the Netherlands in 2024? And did you meet the conditions for qualifying non-resident taxpayer status and did you live in the European Union (EU), Iceland, Liechtenstein, Norway or Switzerland throughout 2024? Or in Bonaire, Saba or Sint Eustatius? In that case, fill in the following period at question 1i: 01-01-2024 to 31-12-2024. You will then receive the full tax credit for income tax.

The same applies if, in 2024, you were a Belgian resident and had income that was taxed in the Netherlands, but you were not a qualifying non-resident taxpayer, or you lived in Suriname or Aruba for the whole of 2024 and had income from the Netherlands or assets in the Netherlands. In that case, fill in the following period at question 1i: 01-01-2024 to 31-12-2024.

Were you a qualifying non-resident taxpayer and did you live in the European Union (EU), Iceland, Liechtenstein, Norway or Switzerland for part of 2024 only? Or did you live in Bonaire, Saba or Sint Eustatius for part of 2024 only? And, for the part you lived in 1 of these countries, did you also have income from the Netherlands or assets in the Netherlands? In that case, fill in the period in which you lived in 1 of these countries at question 1i. If, for example, you lived in Germany and moved to the United States on 2 August 2024, you enter the following period in question 1i: 01-01-2024 to 01-08-2024.

The same applies if, in 2024, you were a Belgian resident and had income that was taxed in the Netherlands, but you were not a qualifying non-resident taxpayer, or you lived in Suriname or Aruba for the whole of 2024 and had income from the Netherlands or assets in the Netherlands. In that case, fill in the period in which you lived in Suriname or Aruba and had income from the Netherlands or assets in the Netherlands at question 1i. Or the period in which you lived in Belgium and had income that was taxed in the Netherlands.

Please note!

In 2024, do you meet both situations that are mentioned above? For example, because you were a qualifying non-resident taxpayer from 1 January 2024 to 1 July 2024 and then moved to Aruba? If you continued to live in Aruba until 31 December 2024 and you had income from the Netherlands or assets in the Netherlands, you enter the following period at question 1i: 01-01-2024 to 31-12-2024.

2 Tax partner or no tax partner

Tax partner and qualifying non-resident taxpayer status

Did you have a partner in 2024? And do you want us to consider your partner to be your tax partner? If so, this will only be possible if you met both of the following conditions in 2024:

- You met the rules for tax partnership.
- Both you and your partner met the 90% requirement or 90% or more of your and your partner's joint worldwide income was taxed in the Netherlands.

In 2024, you lived in Belgium, had income that was taxed in the Netherlands

Were you married or did you register your partnership at the civil registry? And did you both have income in 2024 that was taxed in the Netherlands? And was one of you a qualifying non-resident taxpayer? And did the other person have income that is taxed in the Netherlands? In that case, you meet the conditions and are treated as tax partners for certain items in the tax return.

You lived in Suriname or Aruba in 2024

Were you married or did you register your partnership with the register of births, deaths, marriages and registered partnerships? In that case, you meet the conditions and you may still be each other's tax partners.

You are living permanently separated

You are no longer tax partners if you meet the following 2 conditions:

- You or your spouse petitioned the court for a divorce or judicial separation.
- You are no longer registered together with the municipality as living at the same address.

Exception for blended family

Were you and a housemate registered with the municipality as living at the same address in 2024? Were you both of age? And was a minor child of either of you registered at that same address? In that case, you were a 'blended family'. You and your housemate are then tax partners in 2024. But did 1 of you let part of the house to the other on an arm's length basis throughout the period you were registered at the same address? In that case, you can ask your tax office not to be considered tax partners. You can find the address details of your tax office in the most recent assessment we sent you. In that case, you are not tax partners during that period. You must demonstrate the arm's length nature by means of a written tenancy agreement.

If you both entered into an arm's length tenancy agreement separately with a third party, you can ask your tax office not to be considered tax partners. You can find the address details of your tax office in the most recent assessment we sent you.

What else should you take into account?

Living together with a child or with your father or mother?

Were you living together with your child, your father or your mother in 2024? And did you meet 1 of the conditions for tax partnership? In that case, you are only tax partners if you were both 27 years of age or older on 31 December 2023.

Living together with a stepchild or foster child (or stepparent or foster parent)

Did you have a stepchild (or stepparent) in 2024? And did you and your stepchild (or stepparent) meet the conditions for tax partnership? Or did you have a foster child over 18 years old, for whom you used to receive a foster care allowance or child benefit?

In that case, you are tax partners. If you do not want to be tax partners with your stepchild, you can opt for this if both of you are 27 years or older at the beginning of the calendar year. For this purpose, send a joint request to your tax office.

Either of you is still younger than 27 years of age at the start of the calendar year

Had either of you not yet reached the age of 27 at the start of the calendar year? If you do not want to be tax partners, you can submit a one-time request for this to the Tax and Customs Administration together. You cannot change this request. From the moment you are both 27 years of age or older at the start of the calendar year and meet the conditions for tax partnership, the request will cease to apply and you will be tax partners (again).

No benefit partner, no tax partner

If you submitted a request not to be considered benefit partners, you will not be tax partners for income tax purposes either. You have to take this into account when completing question 2 in the tax return. You then state in the tax return that you are not tax partners. If you are benefit partners together, you will also be each other's tax partners. If you asked not to be tax partners any more, you will no longer be benefit partners either.

Who is your tax partner if several persons meet the conditions?

It could be that, within 1 year, you meet the conditions for tax partnership with several persons. For example, because several persons are registered at your address, or because you divorced during the year and started living together with someone else.

Who of these persons is your tax partner depends on your situation:

- You can meet the conditions together with several persons successively.
- You can only have 1 tax partner at a time.

Several persons can be your tax partner successively

Were you married for part of the year or were you registered partners for part of the year? And, before or after that, did you live together with someone else and are you tax partners with this other person as well? In that case, you may, for the purpose of apportioning certain income and deductible items, choose the person with whom you want to be tax partners throughout the year. You may only opt for tax partnership for the whole of 2024 with 1 of these tax partners. You may apportion certain income and deductible items with this tax partner.

You can only have 1 tax partner at a time

Are there several persons who could be your tax partner at the same time? In that case, the sequence of the questions is important. Your tax partner is the person with whom you meet the first condition from the questions in the tax return form.

Admission to a care or nursing home

Were you not married, but are you tax partners? And was either of you admitted to a care or nursing home due to old age or for medical reasons? And after that, were you no longer registered with the municipality as living at the same address? In that case, you continued to be tax partners despite the changed registration with the municipality, unless 1 of you did not want this. In that case, however, you have to inform your tax office of this in writing. You can find the address details of your tax office in the most recent assessment we sent you. Will you remain tax partners? In that situation, you state in question 2 that you have a housemate and are still registered at the same address. The tax partnership did end if 1 of you got another tax partner.

3 Tax partner

For question 3b

Tax partner's citizen service number

This is the number under which your tax partner is registered with us. This number is stated in, for example:

- the income tax return letter of your tax partner
- the provisional or final income tax assessment(s) of your tax partner
- the payslip or the annual income or benefits statement issued to your tax partner by the employer or benefits agency
- our letter to your tax partner about the citizen service number
- your tax partner's Dutch driving license or passport

Tax partner's citizen service number unknown

It could be that your tax partner does not know his citizen service number. In that case, you are not able to correctly file a tax return together with your tax partner.

Your tax partner first needs to apply to us for his citizen service number before your tax return can be processed. You can apply for a citizen service number to the desk of a number of municipalities in the Netherlands. More information about this can be found at belastingdienst.nl

If you are unable to visit 1 of these municipalities, you can apply to us in writing for the citizen service number. Information about how to do this can be found below.

Applying for tax partner's citizen service number

When applying for the citizen service number, your tax partner should enclose the following documents:

- a copy of a valid identity card, showing his name, initials and date of birth
- if you are married: a copy of the marriage certificate if the copy of the identity card does not show the marriage date and your spouse's personal information
- proof of his home address (including his country of residence), if this is not evidenced by the copy of the identity card

Belastingdienst/kennis- en Expertisecentrum Buitenland
Postbus 2865
6401 DJ Heerlen
The Netherlands

Requesting a postponement

If we sent you an invitation to file a tax return, this invitation will state the tax return deadline. This date may not be feasible for you if your partner first needs to apply for his citizen service number. You should therefore request a postponement before this date. If you have a DigiD, you can arrange this yourself digitally by logging into the 'Mijn Belastingdienst' section via the website of the Tax and Customs Administration. Do you have no DigiD? In that case, call the Tax Information Line for Non-Resident Tax Issues: +31 555 385 385.

For question 3c

Enter the country code of the country in which your tax partner was living. This code always consists of 3 letters. For example, the country code for Germany is DEU. See the List of country codes on page 6. If the country is not listed here, state XXX as country code. For the Netherlands, you use country code NLD.

4 Wage and sickness benefits from the Netherlands

Did you receive income from employment in the Netherlands, such as wage or sickness benefit, in 2024? Or, in 2024, did you receive income from employment in the Netherlands from an employer outside the Netherlands? In that case, you received an annual income or benefits statement from your employer or benefits agency. This states the amounts you need to enter in your tax return. In that case, it concerns:

- your wage or sickness benefit
- the wage tax and national insurance contributions (payroll tax) withheld
- the employed person's tax credit (question 58a)

For question 4a

This concerns income from which Dutch payroll tax has been withheld, and other income from employment in the Netherlands, therefore also if you were working in the Netherlands for an employer outside the Netherlands. Only state Dutch payroll tax.

You enter the following in 'Loon en ziektebewuikeringen uit Nederland':

- wage
- sickness benefits you received during the first 2 years of your illness, so no WIA or WAO benefits. These are sickness benefits you received while having an employment contract. For this question, you also enter:
 - the income from voluntary sickness benefit insurance you took out
- benefits under the Work and Care Act
Examples are maternity and emergency leave, payments for the funding of a career break and any supplements to this.
- trainee allowances
- wage that the UWV continues to pay
Because your employer went into liquidation, for example.

Please note!

Tips from which your employer did not have to withhold wage tax and national insurance contributions (payroll tax) should be stated at question 4b.

Lack of space?

State the 4 highest wages on the upper 4 lines and the total of the other wages on the 5th line.

Artist or professional athlete

Did you have income as an artist or professional athlete in the Netherlands? In that case, there are 3 possibilities:

- You were employed.
You state your revenues and the wage tax and national insurance contributions (payroll tax) withheld at question 4a.
- You were not employed and you were not an entrepreneur.
You state your income from freelance work at question 7. If the scheme for artists or professional athletes has been applied, you state the wage tax and national insurance contributions (payroll tax) withheld at question 7d.
- You were an entrepreneur.
You state the income as profits from business activities at question 10 to question 19.

Wage together with a substantial interest

Were you employed by a company in which you had a substantial interest? In that case, the customary wage scheme applies to you. This means that, as a substantial interest holder, you are deemed to at least receive a wage that is customary for the level and duration of your work. More information about wage together with a substantial interest can be found at belastingdienst.nl.

Repayment of wage or benefit

Did you receive too much wage or benefit or did you receive wage or a benefit erroneously? And did you repay this? In that case, your wage may have been negative. If you receive wage or a benefit, you pay tax on this income. If you received too much wage or benefit or received wage or a benefit erroneously, you have to repay it. You may receive a refund of the tax which was withheld from the income you repaid. Ask your employer or benefits agency how the repayment was offset.

A repayment can be offset in 2 ways:

- Your employer or benefits agency offset the income you received in excess or erroneously against your gross wage or gross benefit. In that case you need not do anything. This has been included in your annual income or benefit statement. In that case, you do not receive a tax refund via your tax return.
- You repaid all or part of the income you received in excess or erroneously yourself in a year following the year in which you received it. In that case, you apply for a tax refund via your tax return as follows:
 - Did you repay wage or a sickness benefit? Enter this amount in your tax return in ‘Loon en ziekte-uitkeringen’ (question 4a). Place a minus sign before this amount.
 - Did you repay pension, social assistance or another benefit? Enter this amount in your tax return in ‘AOW, pensioen, lijfrente en andere uitkeringen en afkoopsommen die onder de loonheffing vielen’ (question 5a). Place a minus sign before this amount.

Wage after death

If someone has passed away, it could be that, for example, wage is paid out after death. Has the wage been included in the deceased person's annual income statement? In that case, you state this income in the deceased person's tax return. Does a civil-law notary administer the undivided estate? In that case, ask him which amounts you need to enter in your tax return.

For question 4b

Tips

Did you receive tips while you were employed? In that case, you should state the actual amount of the tips, minus the amount of tips that has already been included in your annual income statement. Your employer will know which amount was included in your annual income statement.

Other income not subject to payroll tax

Did you receive any benefits from parties other than your employer during your employment? And did these benefits pertain to your activities in employment? In that case, you should state the actual amount of that other income, minus the amount included in your annual income statement. Your employer will know which amount was included in your annual income statement.

5 Old-age pension (AOW), pension, annuity and other benefits from the Netherlands and lump sum payments from the Netherlands which were subject to payroll tax

Did you receive old-age pension, pension or another benefit from the Netherlands? In that case, you received an annual benefits statement from the benefits agency. This states the amounts you need to enter in your tax return. In that case, it concerns:

- the amount of your benefit
- the wage tax and national insurance contributions (payroll tax) withheld

For question 5a

At this question, you enter the following benefits and payments:

- pension and redundancy pay
- a transition payment (severance pay)
- early retirement benefits (VUT), state pension benefits (AOW) and benefits received under the Surviving Dependents Act (ANW), the Unemployment Insurance Act (WW), the Invalidity Insurance Act (WAO), the Work and Income (Capacity for Work) Act (WIA) (benefit under the Return to Work (Partially Disabled Persons) Regulations (WGA) or Full Invalidity Benefit Regulations (IVA)), the Invalidity Insurance (Self-Employed Persons) Act (WAZ), the Older and Partially Disabled Unemployed Workers Income Scheme Act (IOAW) and the Older and Partially Disabled Former Self-Employed Persons Income Scheme Act (IOAZ)
- sickness benefit paid following another benefit
- benefits under the Participation Act
- benefits under the Invalidity Insurance (Young Disabled Persons) Act (Wajong)
- other occupational disability benefits and benefits received under compulsory occupational pension schemes
- disability pension
- spousal maintenance you received for yourself via the Benefits Office
- job acceptance bonuses
- annuity payments

- lump sum payments of old-regime annuities
These are annuity contracts which were concluded:
 - before 16 October 1990. The premium may not have been increased after that, except if this was possible under a clause in this policy.
 - on 16 October 1990 or later, but at the latest on 31 December 1991 and for which no premiums were paid after 31 December 1991
- lump sum payments of other annuities if they do not exceed € 5,364
These are annuities which were usually taken out after 31 December 1991 and which fall under the Scheme for the surrender of small annuities. See question 5b.
- lump sum payments of other annuities, usually taken out after 31 December 1991, which you surrender because you are occupationally disabled
- a lump sum pension payment
- a lump sum payment of a right of entitlement to regular payments
- regular payments (and related lump sum payments) under an insurance policy which you took out yourself for disability, illness or an accident
- Temporary Bridging Scheme for Flexible Workers (TOFA scheme) from the UWV

Please note!

Did you receive a lump sum pension payment? And would the amount of the pension payment not have exceeded € 592.51 per year? See the explanatory note under No revisionary interest payable if at question 52 on page 51.

Lack of space?

State the 4 highest benefits on the upper 4 lines and the total of the other benefits on the 5th line.

Deductible expenses

Did you incur expenses in order to obtain or retain a benefit or payment? In that case, you may deduct these expenses for the following benefits and payments:

- social assistance benefits and comparable benefits
- benefits to casualties of resistance and war
- regular payments under an insurance policy which you took out yourself, in case of disability, illness or an accident
- payments under a pension insurance policy which you took out as an entrepreneur
- annuity instalments and lump sum annuity payments

Enter the amount of the deductible expenses at question 20d.

Regular payments and lump sum payments under an old-regime annuity for married couples

Were you married and, in 2024, did you receive a regular payment or a lump sum payment under an old-regime annuity? And were the premiums deducted at the time? In that case, the payments were taxed in the hands of the person who had the higher income in 2024.

For the calculation of this income, you can use the income from work and home (box 1), but without the taxable income from the owner-occupied home and without the income from providing assets. For this, you can use the Overview of income and deductible items on page 1.

Old-regime annuities are annuity contracts which were concluded:

- before 16 October 1990, of which the premium has not been increased since, except if this was possible under a clause in the policy
- on 16 October 1990 or later, but at the latest on 31 December 1991 and for which premiums were no longer paid after 31 December 1991

Has any payroll tax been withheld from your payment(s)? And did your spouse have the higher income in 2024? In that case, state the withheld payroll tax in your tax return, and € 0 as taxed amount of the payment. Your spouse must state the payment(s) or lump sum payment in his tax return.

Please note!

These rules also apply if the old-regime annuity was converted into a new-regime annuity insurance policy, an annuity account or an annuity investment account.

Visit belastingdienst.nl for more information about the following topics:

- scheme for the surrender of small annuities
- annuity payments
- non-deducted premiums and deposits
- lump sum annuity payments

Benefit after death

If someone has passed away, it could be that a benefit is paid out after death. If the benefit has been included in the deceased person's annual statement, you should enter the total amount of the annual statement in the deceased person's tax return. Does a civil-law notary administer the undivided estate? In that case, ask him which amounts you need to enter in your tax return.

For question 5b

Lump sum annuity payments on which you have to pay revisionary interest usually concern annuities taken out after 31 December 1991. Payroll tax will then be withheld from this lump sum payment at a fixed rate of 49.50%. You can find the amount of the lump sum payment and of the payroll tax withheld in the annual statement from your insurer or financial institution. If the lump sum annuity payment does not exceed € 5,364, you do not have to pay revisionary interest. This is subject to additional conditions.

When to fill in the lump sum payment of a small annuity at question 5b?

It could be that the lump sum payment in the annual statement does not exceed € 5,364 but that the scheme for the surrender of small annuities does not apply to this.

It concerns the following 3 situations:

- The lump sum payment exceeded € 5,364. But the insurer or other financial institution decreased the lump sum payment by the premiums which you did not deduct.
- The lump sum payment did not exceed € 5,364.
At the moment of surrender, however, you had 1 or more annuities with the same insurer or financial institution, the payments of which had not yet started. In order to assess whether the scheme for the surrender of small annuities applies, you must add the values of such other annuity/annuities to the lump sum payment. Does the joint amount exceed € 5,364? Enter the lump sum payment at question 5b.
- The lump sum payment did not exceed € 5,364. This is also mentioned in the annual statement. Had the annuity already started and had you already received an earlier payment? In that case, you must also enter the amount of the annual statement at question 5b.

6 Public transport commuting allowance in the Netherlands

Conditions for the public transport commuting allowance

If you paid your commuting expenses yourself, you will be entitled to a commuting allowance if you met the following 2 conditions in 2024:

- The one-way distance from your house to your place of work by public transport was more than 10 kilometres.
- You usually travelled once or more times a week to your work. Or you travelled at least 40 days to the same workplace throughout 2024.

You may only include trips to your work and back that were made within 24 hours.

Please note!

You may only be entitled to the public transport commuting allowance for your income from employment in the Netherlands.

If you met both conditions, you will need 1 of the following declarations:

- a public transport declaration
A public transport declaration is the proof that you travelled by public transport. Check the website of your transport company to see if they pass on the travel details to us in the form of a public transport declaration. If they do not pass on the details, you should ask your transport company for the public transport declaration yourself.
- a travel declaration
Do you have no public transport declaration because you bought your ticket for each trip or used your personal public transport chipcard? In that case, you should ask your employer for a travel declaration. We may ask for the tickets (separate tickets or an overview of transactions with your personal public transport chipcard and the receipts thereof) at a later time. If you do not have the travel declaration and the tickets and receipts, you will not be entitled to a commuting allowance.

Please note!

Download the overview of your trips with the public transport chipcard in time. These data are available for no more than 18 months.

You can use the Calculation tool for the public transport commuting allowance for 2024 to calculate the total amount you may deduct for your public transport commuting expenses.

You travelled part of the year

If you only travelled part of the year by public transport, you should calculate a proportionate part of the deductible amount from the Table for the public transport commuting allowance for 2024.

Employer took care of transport

You are not entitled to the public transport commuting allowance if your employer took care of your transport or provided your tickets. Did you pay a contribution for this to your employer? In that case, you may be entitled to the commuting allowance if you also meet the other conditions (see Conditions for the public transport commuting allowance). Your contribution needs to be at least 70% of the cost price of the public transport card to which you would be entitled if your employer did not take care of transport.

Different workplaces

Maybe you travelled to different workplaces on the same day. In that case, you may only deduct commuting expenses for trips to the place to which you travelled most.

Did you travel to these different places with equal frequency? In that case, the place with the longest commuting distance will apply.

If you travelled to different workplaces on different days in 1 week, you may deduct commuting expenses for both places according to the table. For example, you travelled 2 days a week to one place and 3 days a week to another place. The amount you deduct is the total commuting allowance (with a maximum of € 2,578) minus the allowances received.

Table for the public transport commuting allowance for 2024

The Table for the public transport commuting allowance for 2024 shows the fixed deductible amounts. Look up the distance (one-way) between your home and your work and how many days per week you travelled. This way, you will find the amount you may deduct. You use this amount in the Calculation tool for the public transport commuting allowance for 2024 to determine the total commuting allowance.

Calculation tool for the public transport commuting allowance for 2024

Subtract. Total public transport commuting allowance

* Do you travel for part of the year? In that case, you first calculate a proportionate part of the amount from the Table for the public transport commuting allowance for 2024.

Table for the public transport commuting allowance for 2024

One-way distance		You travelled per week
more than	no more than	4 days or more	3 days	2 days	1 day
0 km	10 km	€0	€0	€0	€0
10 km	15 km	€558	€419	€279	€140

80 km	90 km	€2,578	€1,934	€1,289	€645
90 km	–	€2,578	*	*	*

* The commuting allowance in this case is €0.28 per kilometre, one-way distance multiplied by the number of days you travelled in 2024. The maximum allowance is €2,578.

7 Income from other work

For question 7a

- Revenues from other work are, for example, revenues you received:
- from work through the Internet (revenues from apps or on-line trading, for example)
 - as a childminder
 - as an artist or professional athlete
 - from a personal budget (pgb)
 - by doing odd jobs for others (cleaning or painting, for example)
 - by giving courses or extra lessons
 - by writing articles and books
 - as a member of a city council

Please note!

If you were living in a house that you classified as business, the notional rental value is also part of the revenues from other work. More information about this can be found at belastingdienst.nl.

Artist or professional athlete

Did you have income as an artist or professional athlete? In that case, refer to question 4a for information about where you have to enter your income.

Activities as part of a hobby or in a family context

Did you sometimes do odd jobs for family or friends? And were you only compensated for the expenses you incurred? In that case, these activities are part of a hobby or in a family context. You need not state this income and these expenses in your tax return.

Records

If you are an entrepreneur for turnover tax purposes, you are obliged to keep records.

If you are not an entrepreneur for turnover tax purposes, you are not obliged to keep records of the revenues from and expenses related to this work. However, if we ask you for information about this, you are obliged to provide this in an orderly manner within a reasonable time. So it is important that you keep information showing how you calculated the amounts. This could be, for example, invoices, receipts and bank account statements. Or the calculation you made for the depreciation of a business asset.

For question 7b

- You may deduct your business expenses from your revenues. The following applies to this:
- You may fully deduct business expenses. These are costs which – within reasonable limits – are necessary for performing your work, for example professional literature.
 - You may not deduct expenses that are not of a business nature.
 - You may only deduct the business portion of expenses that are both of a business and a private nature.
 - A threshold, standard or restriction on deductibility applies to some expenses.
 - Some expenses are excluded from deduction.
 - Any reimbursements you received for business expenses must be added to your revenues.

8 Results from providing assets

For question 8a

State your revenues from the provision of, for example, premises, claims, life insurance policies, certain call options and rights of enjoyment.

When must you state revenues from providing assets?

- Only state these revenues if you provided an asset to:
- your tax partner or your or your tax partner’s minor children
In doing so, you only state the revenues if the asset was used to generate profits from business activities or results from other work.
 - a partnership of which your tax partner, your own or your tax partner’s minor children formed part
In doing so, you only state the revenues if the asset was used to generate profits from business activities or results from other work.
 - a company in which you, your tax partner or your or your tax partner’s minor children had a substantial interest
You have a substantial interest if you (together with your tax partner) own at least 5% of the shares, options or profit-sharing certificates in a company, for example in your own private limited company.

Revenues of a minor child

In 2024, did your minor child have revenues from assets he provided? In that case, you must state these revenues.

No or negligible revenues from providing assets

Did you provide assets, but did you receive no compensation for this or a non-arm’s length compensation (such as rent)? In that case, fill in the revenues that you would have received in case of arm’s length use.

Providing assets to a company in which you, your tax partner or your or your tax partner’s minor children had a substantial interest

Were you married in community of property in 2024? In that case, you state half of the revenues from the assets you provided to a company in which you, your tax partner, your own or your tax partner’s minor children had a substantial interest. Your tax partner states the other half.

Were you not married in community of property and were the assets part of your capital? In that case, state all these revenues yourself.

Example

You were not married in community of property and you lent money to a private limited company in which you held shares. In that case, you must state the revenues from this loan (interest). Were you married in community of property? And did you and your spouse provide an asset to your private limited company? In that case, you and your spouse each state half of the revenues from providing the asset.

Did you provide assets, but did you receive no compensation for this or too low a compensation? In that case, state the revenues that you would have received in case of arm's length use.

For question 8b

Did you incur expenses for the revenues from the provision? In that case, you may deduct these expenses. Examples of expenses are:

- interest on debts incurred to purchase assets
- costs of loans taken out to purchase assets
- depreciation of, among other things, immovable property

Furthermore, you may use the equalisation reserve and the reinvestment reserve. You may use the equalisation reserve in order to evenly distribute any costs you incur in the future over the years in which they arose. You may include the book profit on business assets in the reinvestment reserve. A condition is that you intend to reinvest in a business asset on the balance sheet date. You do not include the book profit on the sold business asset in the taxable profit, but you add it to the reinvestment reserve. In doing so, you prevent the levy of direct tax on that book profit.

Records

Do not enclose your records with your tax return.

For question 8c

In 2024, did you have revenues from providing assets? You are entitled to an exemption of 12% on the revenues minus the deductible expenses.

9 Value of the assets

For question 9a to question 9c

In the left column, state the book value of the assets and liabilities on 1 January 2024 or the value on the starting date in 2024. In the right column, state the book value of the assets and liabilities on 31 December 2024 or their economic value on the date of discontinuation in 2024.

Please note!

This does not concern the value of your owner-occupied home or a holiday home that you occasionally let.

For question 9d

If you discontinued your activities in 2024, you should tick the box in question 9d. At question 9a to question 9c, state the economic value of your assets and liabilities on the end date. If you discontinued part of your activities, you should state the economic value on the date you discontinued part of the activities. You then state the book value for the other portion.

Profits from business activities

Were you living outside the Netherlands in 2024? And were you an entrepreneur or a co-titleholder in a business in the Netherlands? In that case, you received profits from business activities. You were, for example, a co-titleholder if you were a limited partner in a limited partnership. If you met the conditions in 2024 as an entrepreneur, you may use special schemes, such as the entrepreneur's allowance and the investment tax credit.

10 Profits from business activities: exempt profit components

This question includes a number of objective exemptions. These are exemptions for which certain profits or losses are not included in the calculation of the taxable profit. When calculating the taxable profit, you must deduct the objective exemption from the profit.

For question 10a

Exemption for income from forestry activities

The profit from a forestry business is tax-exempt. In this context, 'forest' is a very broad concept. Trees alongside roads or surrounding a farm are also considered as a forestry business. The forestry business may form part of a more comprehensive business. As the profit from a forestry business is exempt, the loss incurred is not deductible either. Did you own a loss-making forestry business? In that case, you may request us not to apply the exemption. You may then deduct the loss. However, you are bound by a number of conditions.

Exemption for income from agricultural activities

The exemption for income from agricultural activities applies to the positive or negative changes in the value of agricultural lands that were not caused by operational management or a change in the intended use. The agricultural business may form part of a more comprehensive business. This is the case if, for example, the following 2 types of activities are performed in a business: agriculture and contract work.

For question 10b

The exemption from debt relief income tax is an exemption for profit that arises if a creditor decides not to collect a debt you had to him. In that case, this results in a profit for you. This profit is exempt under the following conditions:

- The debt could not be collected, for example due to an (impending) insolvency.
- Of the profit resulting from the debt relief, only the part exceeding the offsettable losses from work and home for the years up to 2019 and the loss from work and home for 2024 is exempt. Losses in the years following the year of the debt relief do not decrease the exempt amount.

Example

Aart's business is indebted to Kees for € 25,000. As Aart is definitively unable to repay the amount, Kees decides to waive Aart's debt. This gives Aart an advantage: the debt relief income. For him, this income constitutes profits from business activities. If Aart has no losses from work and home from the past or from this year, the entire amount of the debt relief will be exempt. Suppose Aart has losses amounting to € 11,000. In that case, the debt relief income will first have to be offset against these losses. The remainder of the debt relief income (€ 14,000) will then be exempt.

For question 10c

The reimbursement you received as an entrepreneur for participation in a government mobility project does not form part of the taxable profit.

11 Profits from business activities: non-deductible or partially non-deductible costs and expenses

Which business expenses may you deduct from your revenue?

You may deduct business expenses from the revenue. The following applies to this:

- You may fully deduct business expenses.
These are costs which - within reasonable limits - are necessary for performing your work, for example professional literature.
- You may not deduct expenses that are not of a business nature.
- You may only deduct the business portion of expenses that are both of a business and a private nature.
- A threshold, standard or restriction on deductibility applies to some expenses.
The relevant expenses can be found in Expenses with a threshold.
- Any reimbursements you received for the expenses must be added to your revenues.

Examples of non-deductible expenses are:

- expenses for a working space in the house and its furnishings and fittings, if you did not classify the house as business
- telephone subscriptions for telephone connections in the living area
- clothing, with the exception of work clothing
- expenses relating to personal care
- withheld wage tax and national insurance contributions, premiums under the Invalidity Insurance (Self-Employed Persons) Act and income-related healthcare insurance contributions
- a remuneration for the work done by your partner if the amount is lower than € 5,000
If the remuneration is € 5,000 or higher, the entire amount is deductible.
- expenses for musical instruments, sound equipment, tools, computers, audio-visual equipment and suchlike
This applies if these were part of your private assets or if you hired them for private purposes.
- status-related expenses such as the membership of a service club or the Rotary
- expenses for vessels for representative purposes
- fines imposed by a Dutch criminal court and sums of money in order to prevent criminal prosecution
- penalties and increases imposed for the levy of taxes and contributions
- penalties imposed by the Netherlands Authority for Consumers & Markets (Autoriteit Consument & Markt, ACM)
- foreign penalties

Examples of partially deductible expenses are:

- moving expenses
You may deduct moving expenses if you moved house for business reasons. You may only deduct the expenses you incurred for moving household effects to another accommodation. In addition, you may deduct a fixed amount of € 7,750.
- costs of accommodation outside the place of residence for a maximum period of 2 years

- costs of private means of transport
You may deduct a fixed amount of € 0.23 per kilometre driven for business purposes. It does not matter which means of transport you used.
- a usage fee for private property (no means of transport) that you used for business purposes
This fee is limited. Your maximum deduction is the amount of the gains from savings and investments which applies to this property. You do not have to take the tax-free allowance into account. For example: for your business, you used a separate garage (not forming part of the owner-occupied home). The value of the garage in box 3 is € 30,000. You used the garage for 3 months. In that case, the deduction is 8% of € 30,000 = € 1,200 x 3/12 = € 300.
- a usage fee for privately rented items (no means of transport) that you used for business purposes
For this, you may deduct no more than a proportional part of the rent and any other rental expenses.

Expenses with a threshold

A threshold of € 5,600 applies to some expenses. You may only deduct the amount in excess of the threshold. This threshold applies to the following expenses:

- expenses for food, drinks and stimulants
- expenses for entertainment, such as receptions, festivities and amusement
- expenses for, among other things, congresses, seminars, symposiums, excursions and study trips

The threshold of € 5,600 also applies to travel and subsistence expenses relating to the congresses and suchlike. Furthermore, a maximum amount of € 1,500 is deductible for these travel and subsistence expenses. This maximum does not apply if attending a congress was necessary for your work.

In the tax return, you may also choose to deduct 80% of the total of these expenses. In that case, you need not reduce these expenses by € 5,600.

12 Profits from business activities: profits from ocean-shipping activities according to the tonnage tax scheme

You can request to use the tonnage tax scheme. This is a system whereby the profit is determined on the basis of a fixed rate for a period of 10 years, or a multiple of 10 years. The request must have been made during the 1st year in which you had profits from ocean-shipping activities.

For question 12a

For this question, you enter the profits from ocean-shipping activities. Copy the details from the annual income statement from the company.

For question 12b

For this question, you enter the profits according to the tonnage tax scheme.

13 Profits from business activities: investment schemes

For question 13a

There are 3 types of investment credits:

- small projects investment credit
- energy-saving investment credit
- environmental investment credit

Small projects investment credit

You may be eligible for the small projects investment credit if you invested in business assets in 2024. The amount you may deduct from the profits is a percentage of the total amount you invested per business.

Was your business part of a partnership, such as a general partnership or a private partnership? In that case, you calculate the credit differently. You take a percentage of the total investment by the partnership. More information can be found at belastingdienst.nl.

Use the Table of the small projects investment credit for 2024 to determine the amount you must use.

Please note!

If your company had a split financial year, you must, for the investments from 2023, use the table pertaining to the small projects investment credit of 2023. Information about the exact procedure can be found at belastingdienst.nl.

Table of the small projects investment credit for 2024

Investment	Small projects investment credit
no more than €2,800	0%
€2,801 to €69,765	28% of the investment amount
€69,766 to €129,194	€19,535
€129,195 to €387,580	€19,535 minus 7.56% of the part of the investment amount exceeding €129,194
€387,581 and higher	0%

Table of the small projects investment credit for 2023

Investment	Small projects investment credit
no more than €2,600	0%
€2,601 to €63,716	28% of the investment amount
€63,717 to €117,991	€17,841
€117,992 to €353,973	€17,841 minus 7.56% of the part of the investment amount exceeding €117,991
€353,974 and higher	0%

Energy-saving investment credit

You may opt for the energy-saving investment credit if, in 2024, you invested in new business assets that are recognised by the Ministry of Finance and the Ministry of Economic Affairs and Climate as energy-saving investments. The energy-saving investment credit is 40.00% of a maximum of € 149,000,000.

The minimum investment amount is € 2,500 per business asset. Do you opt for the energy-saving investment credit? In that case, you are not entitled to the environmental investment credit for the same business assets.

Please note!

A reporting procedure applies to the energy-saving investment credit. You must file a digital report through the e-desk of the Netherlands Enterprise Agency (Rijksdienst voor Ondernemend Nederland, RVO). More information can be found at rvo.nl.

Environmental investment credit

You may opt for the environmental investment credit if, in 2024, you invested more than € 2,500 in new business assets that are recognised by the Ministry of Infrastructure and the Environment and the Ministry of Finance as environmental investments. There are 3 categories, to which different percentages apply. Do you opt for the energy-saving investment credit? In that case, you are not entitled to the environmental investment credit for the same business assets.

Please note!

A reporting procedure applies to the environmental investment credit. You must file a digital report through the e-desk of the Netherlands Enterprise Agency (Rijksdienst voor Ondernemend Nederland, RVO). More information can be found at rvo.nl.

For question 13b

In 2024, did you dispose of (for example sold or donated) business assets to which you applied an investment credit in previous years? In that case, you may have to repay part of this credit. This is done by means of the capital disposal charge.

You are obliged to repay part of the credit if you meet the following 2 conditions:

- You sold or donated the business assets within 5 years after the beginning of the calendar year in which you made the investment.
- The joint value of these business assets exceeded € 2,800.

The amount of the capital disposal charge depends on the amount for which you disposed of the business asset. However, the addition never exceeds the amount of a previous credit. The percentage you need to add should be the same percentage you used for the previous investment credit.

16 Profits from business activities: co-titleholder in a business

You also state your revenue as profits from business activities in the following situations:

- You were a co-titleholder in a business.
- You granted a loan to a business and the loan was subordinated to other creditors. Or the compensation for this loan strongly depended on the profits from the business activities.

Please note!

In these situations, you are not entitled to entrepreneur facilities, such as the entrepreneur's allowance.

Co-titleholder

You were a co-titleholder in a business if you were, for example, a limited partner in a limited partnership.

Lender

Did you lend money to an entrepreneur and did this loan in fact function as the net assets of the business? Or did the compensation for the loan strongly depend on the profits from the business activities? In that case, you state the revenue as profits from business activities.

18 Profits from business activities: entrepreneur's allowance

You are entitled to the entrepreneur's allowance if, in 2024, you were an entrepreneur and had profits from business activities.

Hours criterion

Among other things, the (reduced) hours criterion applies to certain types of the entrepreneur's allowance. Moreover, each type of entrepreneur's allowance has additional conditions. These conditions are mentioned under the entrepreneur's allowance in question.

Did you meet the hours criterion? In that case, you may be entitled to the self-employed deduction, the allowance for research and development work and the co-working partner's relief. Did you meet the reduced hours criterion? In that case, you may be entitled to the relief for new businesses in case of occupational disability.

Conditions for the hours criterion

You met the hours criterion if you met the following 2 conditions:

- As an entrepreneur, you spent at least 1,225 hours in 2024 on actually running your business(es). Did you interrupt your work as an entrepreneur because of your pregnancy? In that case, the hours you did not work during a total of 16 weeks still count as hours worked.
- You spent more than 50% of your working time on your business(es). If you were not an entrepreneur during 1 of the years between 2019 and 2023, you do not have to meet this 50% condition.

Hours not included

As an entrepreneur, were you part of a partnership (private or general partnership) with housemates, or with blood relatives or relatives by marriage in the direct line or their housemates (the so-called associated persons)? In that case, the hours do not count towards the hours criterion if:

- your activities for the partnership were mainly of a supportive nature and it is unusual that a partnership is concluded for these activities
- the partnership is connected with a company from which the associated persons earned profits as entrepreneurs, but not you yourself (the so-called subpartnership)

Conditions for the reduced hours criterion

As an entrepreneur, did you not spend 1,225 hours, but did you spend at least 800 hours in 2024 on actually running your business(es)? In that case, you meet the reduced hours condition. Did you interrupt your work as an entrepreneur because of your pregnancy? In that case, the hours you did not work during a total of 16 weeks still count as hours worked.

For question 18a

You are entitled to the self-employed deduction if, in 2024, you met all of the following conditions:

- You were an entrepreneur for income tax purposes.
- You met the hours criterion (see Conditions for the hours criterion).

In 2024, the self-employed deduction is a fixed amount of €3,750 for entrepreneurs who have not yet reached state pension age at the beginning of the calendar year. An amount of €1,875 applies to entrepreneurs who reached state pension age at the beginning of the calendar year. The self-employed deduction which you may deduct from the profit may not exceed the profit before the entrepreneur's allowance. You may only offset the self-employed deduction against the profits and not against other income in box 1 (such as wage or a benefit).

Please note!

This scheme does not apply if you are entitled to the relief for new businesses.

You are not entitled to the self-employed deduction with respect to the profits you generated as a co-titleholder.

For question 18b

As a starting entrepreneur, you are entitled to the relief for new businesses (an increase of the self-employed deduction) if you met the following conditions:

- You were entitled to the self-employed deduction in 2024.
- You did not run your own business for at least 1 year during the years between 2019 and 2023.
- You did not use the self-employed deduction more than twice during the years between 2019 and 2023.

The relief for new businesses is €2,123 (or €1,062 if you were of state pension age at the start of the calendar year).

For question 18c

The self-employed deduction is no more than the amount of the profit, except if you qualify for the relief for new businesses.

For question 18d

The self-employed deduction which you can deduct from the profit may not exceed the profit before the entrepreneur's allowance. The part of the self-employed deduction which you could not deduct from the profit for 2023 may be deducted from the profit in 2024. In that case, the profit must be more than the self-employed deduction for 2024.

This scheme does not apply if you are entitled to the relief for new businesses.

For question 18f

You are entitled to the allowance for research and development work if you met all of the following conditions in 2024:

- You were an entrepreneur.
- You met the hours criterion (see Conditions for the hours criterion).
- You have an S&O statement from the Netherlands Enterprise Agency (Rijksdienst voor Ondernemend Nederland) which states that your activities fall under research and development work. This statement also specifies the amount you may deduct for this purpose.
- You spent at least 500 hours on recognised research and development work.

You are not entitled to the allowance for research and development work with respect to the profit which you generated as a co-titleholder.

The allowance for research and development work is €14,202.

You may increase the allowance for research and development work by €7,106, if you met all of the following conditions:

- You were an entrepreneur in 2024.
- You did not run your own business for at least one year during the period between 2019 and 2023.
- You did not use the allowance for research and development work more than twice during the years between 2019 and 2023.

For question 18g

You are entitled to the co-working partner's relief if, in 2024, you met all of the following conditions:

- You were an entrepreneur.
- You met the hours criterion (see Conditions for the hours criterion).
- Your tax partner worked 525 hours or more for your business without a remuneration, or the remuneration was less than € 5,000.

You are not entitled to the co-working partner's relief with respect to the profit which you generated as a co-titleholder.

The number of hours assisted should be made plausible. The amount of the co-working partner's relief is not income for your tax partner. Your tax partner does not have to pay tax on this.

Use the Table for the co-working partner's relief to determine the amount you may deduct as co-working partner's relief.

This does not include the profits made:

- in case of a compulsory purchase
- in case of (partially) discontinuing the business
- from the transfer of assets outside the Netherlands

Table for the co-working partner's relief

Number of hours assisted		Relief
from	to
525	875	1.25% of the profit
875	1,225	2% of the profit
1,225	1,750	3% of the profit
1,750	-	4% of the profit

For question 18h

You are entitled to the relief for new businesses in case of occupational disability if, in 2024, you met all of the following conditions:

- You did not yet reach state pension age at the start of the calendar year.
- You were an entrepreneur.
- You were not an entrepreneur during one of the years between 2019 and 2023.
- You were entitled to an occupational disability benefit (see Occupational disability benefit).
- You did not meet the hours criterion, but you did meet the reduced hours criterion (see Conditions for the reduced hours criterion).
- There was no so-called untaxed return from a private limited company in 2024 or in 1 of the years between 2019 and 2023.

You are not entitled to the relief for new businesses in case of occupational disability with respect to the profit which you generated as a co-titleholder.

The relief for new businesses in case of occupational disability is:

- € 12,000 if you did not use this relief between 2019 and 2023
- € 8,000 if you used this relief in 1 of the years between 2019 and 2023
- € 4,000 if you used this relief in 2 of the years between 2019 and 2023
- € 0 if you used this relief three times between 2019 and 2023

The relief for new businesses in case of occupational disability is no more than the profit made.

Occupational disability benefit

An occupational disability benefit is a:

- benefit under the Work and Income (Capacity for Work) Act (WIA)
- benefit under the Invalidity Insurance Act (WAO)
- benefit under the Invalidity Insurance (Self-Employed Persons) Act (Waz)
- benefit under the Work and Employment Support (Young Disabled Persons) Act (Wajong)
- benefit under a foreign statutory regulation similar to 1 of the regulations mentioned under a, b, c and d
- occupational disability benefit under a designated regulation
- regular payment or provision under a disability or accident insurance policy

For question 18i

Did you discontinue your entire business in 2024, for example because you sold the business? In that case, you need to pay tax on the discontinuation profit. In that case, you may deduct the business discontinuation relief from the discontinuation profit. The relief is equal to the discontinuation profit, but is no more than € 3,630.

You are not entitled to the business discontinuation relief with respect to the profit which you generated as a co-titleholder.

19 Taxable profits from business activities

For question 19a

The SME profit exemption is a deductible item for your profit. You are entitled to this exemption if you were an entrepreneur in 2024. You do not have to meet the hours criterion.

Please note!

You are not entitled to the SME profit exemption with respect to the profit which you generated as a co-titleholder.

The SME profit exemption amounts to 13.31% of the joint profit from 1 or more businesses. In order to determine the SME profit exemption, you first need to deduct the entrepreneur's allowance from this profit. If your business suffers a loss, the SME profit exemption will reduce the loss.

20 Regular payments and related lump sum payments

Here, you must state regular payments and related lump sum payments from which no wage tax and national insurance contributions were withheld. You may deduct the expenses which you incurred in order to obtain or retain these payments and related lump sum payments.

For question 20a

The following government grants are regular government grants from the Netherlands for your owner-occupied home:

- government's grant for the owner-occupied home
- municipal housing subsidies

Were you the sole owner?

Were you the sole owner of the house on the first day of residence? In that case, state the full grant you received from the government.

Were you the owner together with someone else?

Were you the owner of the house together with someone else on the first day of residence? For example, because you were married in community of property or you bought the house together with a housemate? In that case, the following applies:

- If you were living in the house with a co-owner in 2024, you state a proportional part of the government grant.
Did you, for example, own half? In that case, you state half of the government grant. This also applies if the grant was paid in your name only.
- If, in 2024, the co-owner did not live or no longer lived in the house, you state the full grant.

If you had an owner-occupied home in Germany

You need to apportion the Eigenheimzulage, including the Baukindergeld, between yourselves in proportion to the right of ownership. This also applies if the grant was paid in your name only. In that case, you should each state your share in the grant.

For question 20b

Here, you enter the regular payments from the Netherlands from which no payroll tax was withheld, for example payments under a private occupational disability insurance policy which you received because of disability, illness or an accident.

The following regular payments and provisions need to be stated:

- regular student grants (no student finance under the Student Finance Act or Higher Education and Research Act)
- annuity payments from which no payroll tax was withheld
- payments under annuity insurance policies which you took out with a foreign insurance company
- compensations for discontinuation of farming which you received from the Agricultural Development and Rationalisation Fund
- regular payments as a result of discontinuing your business
- regular payments instead of income (from work) that you missed out on or would miss out on
- regular payments as a result of discontinuing or refraining from work or services
- regular payments under a right of entitlement that you used to reduce your old-age reserve
- regular payments which you voluntarily received from a legal person (for example a regular student grant from a family trust)
- regular payments as a compensation for missing out on income or as a contribution to a person's maintenance
- lump sum payments of the aforesaid regular payments and annuities
- provisions for additional support from the fund for middle vocational education (mbo) students

As regards annuities and related lump sum payments, any premiums you did not deduct may be taken into account within certain limits. More information can be found at belastingdienst.nl.

Was payroll tax withheld from this regular payment (or related lump sum payment)? In that case, enter this income at question 5.

Please note!

Did you take out an annuity after 15 October 1990? And did you still pay premiums for this after 1991? If you redeemed this annuity in 2024, you state the lump sum annuity payment in question 22.

For question 20d

You may deduct the expenses you incurred in order to obtain or retain taxable regular payments and provisions. It concerns, for example:

- lawyer's fees
- telephone expenses
- postal charges
- travel expenses
- collection charges

21 Negative personal allowance

In 2024, did you or your tax partner receive a refund or a reimbursement of amounts that you deducted prior to 2024? In that case, you must rectify this deduction in your tax return for 2024.

It concerns refunds and reimbursements received for:

- spousal maintenance and other maintenance obligations
- medical expenses and other extraordinary expenses which you deducted from 2001 to 2008
- specific medical expenses you deducted from 2009 to 2023
- study costs and other educational expenses which you have deducted since 2001
- a donation that was made subject to a resolutive condition and has been dissolved or revoked. You deducted the donation in a previous tax return.

For question 21a

Does the refund received exceed the amount that you deducted previously? In that case, you now only have to state the amount deducted previously.

Tax partner

Did your tax partner deduct the amount prior to 2024? In that case, your tax partner must state the refund or reimbursement received.

Were you no longer tax partners in 2024? In that case, the person who received the reimbursement will state this.

22 Lump sum annuity payments that were not subject to payroll tax and other negative expenses for income provisions

Did your annuity insurance, annuity account, annuity investment account or a certain compulsory occupational pension scheme no longer meet the tax conditions? In that case, you must state an amount. This applies, for example, in case of a donation, sale or pledge of an annuity. See Your annuity no longer meets the conditions for other situations in which you no longer meet the tax conditions either.

Please note!

You must state negative expenses for annuity policies which you took out after 15 October 1990 and for which you still paid premiums after 1991.

For question 22a

At this question, you only enter the lump sum payments from which no payroll tax was withheld. You enter lump sum payments from which payroll tax was withheld at question 5.

Annuity was not converted in time or annuity did not become payable in time

Was the annuity commencement date reached? And was the annuity not converted in time or did the annuity not become payable in time? In that case, you must state the value of the annuity in the tax return.

Annuity did not become payable in time after death

If, after a death, a surviving dependants' annuity must become payable, this will be subject to a certain period of time. Did the surviving dependants' annuity not become payable in time? In that case, (your share in) the value of the annuity must be stated in the tax return.

Your annuity no longer meets the conditions

In the following examples, the conditions are no longer met:

- You donated, sold or pledged the annuity to somebody.
This also applies to the annuity account or annuity investment account. 'Pledged' means that you took out a loan with the account as security.
- You changed the conditions of the annuity or occupational pension scheme in such a way that they no longer met the statutory conditions.
This also applies to the annuity account or annuity investment account.
- You are no longer the account holder of the annuity account or the owner of the annuity investment account.
- You unblocked the annuity account or annuity investment account.

What amount do you need to state?

You have an annuity or occupational pension scheme

You enter the value of the annuity insurance or occupational pension scheme at the time when it no longer meets the tax conditions. For annuity insurance policies of which the payments have not yet started, you enter the actual value of the insurance policy.

You have an annuity account or annuity investment account

You enter the balance of the account or the value of the investment at the time when it no longer meets the tax conditions. For an annuity account or an annuity investment account of which the payments have not yet started, you fill in the total amount.

What amounts may you deduct?

Did you receive a lump sum payment or was the annuity not converted or did it not become payable in time? In that case, all amounts which were paid until 2008 for the annuity or the occupational pension scheme and which you did not deduct may be deducted from the amount you have to state.

From amounts you have paid since 2009, you may deduct no more than € 2,269 per year in premiums which you did not deduct. This amount applies to all annuity insurance policies and banking annuities combined. If the annuity insurance policy was taken out before 14 September 1999, the maximum amount of € 2,269 applies for each annuity insurance policy.

The premiums for this annuity insurance policy may not have been increased after 13 September 1999, unless this took place under an option clause.

If we ask for it, you must be able to demonstrate that you did not deduct or only deducted part of the premiums paid. We can help you with the years as from 2004, because we have your tax return data for those years. For the premiums paid which you did not deduct or only deducted partially in the tax returns for 2003 and earlier, you must, at our request, be able to demonstrate that you did not deduct or only deducted part of them. This is possible, for example, on the basis of a copy of your tax return and your assessment for the relevant year.

For question 22b

Enter the total of the premiums which were refunded to you in 2024 and which you deducted previously for:

- an annuity insurance policy
It only concerns refunded premiums if you cancelled the annuity within 30 days after concluding the contract. After this period has expired, an annuity is considered to be surrendered. Information about what this means for you in that situation can be found in Your annuity no longer meets the conditions.
- private insurance for regular payments in case of disability, illness or an accident

You do not have to pay any revisionary interest on refunded premiums.

Revisionary interest

You do not only pay income tax and national insurance contributions, but perhaps also revisionary interest, on negative expenses for income provisions. You pay this interest because (in retrospect) you paid too little tax. Revisionary interest compensates for this. Fill in question 52 Revisionary interest for this purpose. We charge revisionary interest on the amount of the negative expenses for income provisions. The amount of the revisionary interest is stated separately in your assessment.

23 Substantial interest in a Netherlands-based company

There are 3 types of gains you can have:

- notional regular gain
- regular gains, such as dividend
- capital gains, such as profits from the sale of shares

What is a substantial interest?

You and your tax partner had a substantial interest if, in 2024, you, directly or indirectly owned at least 5% of:

- the shares (also per class) in a Netherlands-based company
- the profit-sharing certificates of a Netherlands-based company
- the right of usufruct in respect of the shares (also per class) in a Netherlands-based company
- the right of usufruct in respect of the profit-sharing certificates of a Netherlands-based company
- the voting rights in a cooperative or association organised on a cooperative basis

You also had a substantial interest if, in 2024, you, possibly together with your tax partner, owned options to acquire at least 5% of the shares (also per class) in a Netherlands-based company.

A certificate of participation in a so-called 'open-end mutual fund' is also considered to be a share in a company. In that case, it concerns funds that allow participants to receive benefits by using money, for example by investing at their joint expense. These investment funds have negotiable certificates of participation.

A tax partner for the whole of 2024

Did you have a tax partner for the whole of 2024? In that case, calculate your joint gains from a substantial interest and your joint deductible expenses.

A tax partner for part of 2024

Did you have a tax partner during part of 2024? And do you not opt to be tax partners for the whole of 2024? In that case, only state your own gains and deductible expenses. Do you opt to be tax partners for the whole of 2024? See A tax partner for the whole of 2024.

For question 23a

State whether it concerns shares, options, profit-sharing certificates, membership rights or other entitlements, such as a right of usufruct. If you had shares, also state the class of shares.

Options

It should concern options to acquire at least 5% of the shares. State the number of shares to which the options relate.

For question 23b

For this question, enter the total amount of all debts you had to the company in which you or your tax partner had a substantial interest on 31 December 2024. These include:

- a home equity debt
- a loan from the company to you
- a current account

You may not include claims you had on the company.

Please note!

Did you have an indirect substantial interest in a subsidiary? If so, you should include those debts.

For question 23c

For this question, enter the total amount of debts your tax partner had to the companies in which you or your tax partner had a substantial interest on 31 December 2024. These include:

- a home equity debt
- a loan from the company to your tax partner
- a current account

You may not include claims your tax partner had on the company.

Please note!

Did your tax partner have an indirect substantial interest in a subsidiary? If so, you should include those debts.

For question 23d

For this question, enter the total of the home equity debts incurred by both yourself and your tax partner. Was the owner-occupied housing debt incurred after 31 December 2022? If so, it is an owner-occupied property debt only if a right of mortgage has been established.

For question 23e and question 23f

For this question, enter the total debts of the people related to you or your tax partner. The debts involved exceed € 500,000. Related persons are:

- grandparents
- parents
- children
- grandchildren

Example

Your eldest child had a debt to your company of €500,000, of which €200,000 is an owner-occupied property debt. Your eldest child's tax partner had a debt of €250,000 to your company. Your youngest child (who has no tax partner) owed €100,000 to your company. For your eldest child, you enter €750,000 (€500,000 + €250,000) at question 23e. At question 23f, you enter €200,000. For your youngest child, you do not need to enter anything, as their debt does not exceed €500,000.

For question 23g

Did you not answer question 23e? In that case, skip this question and continue with question 23h.

Did you answer question 23e? In that case, for this question, enter the total of related person debts you attribute to yourself. For each related person, take into account the limit of € 500,000.

Are your related persons also related to other substantial interest holders? And does the debt exceed € 500,000? If so, the amount of the debt above €500,000 is shared equally among the other substantial interest holders.

Example 1

You have a substantial interest in a private limited company. Your ex-partner also has a substantial interest in this company. Together, you have a child who had a debt of € 1,500,000 to the company on 31 December 2024. This includes an owner-occupied home debt of € 500,000.

For question 23e enter € 1,500,000. For question 23f enter € 500,000.

For the answer to question 23g, make the following calculation:

Subtract the answer from question 23f (€ 500,000) from the answer from question 23e (€ 1,500,000) = € 1,000,000

From the answer of € 1,000,000, subtract € 500,000.

The answer of € 500,000 will be divided equally between you and your ex-partner. You both indicate under question 23g € 250,000.

Example 2

You have a substantial interest in a private limited company. Your tax partner also has a substantial interest in this private limited company. Together, you have a child who had a debt of € 1,500,000 to the company on 31 December 2024. This includes an owner-occupied home debt of € 500,000.

For question 23e enter € 1,500,000. For question 23f enter € 500,000.

For the answer to question 23g, make the following calculation:

Subtract the answer from question 23f (€ 500,000) from the answer from question 23e (€ 1,500,000) = € 1,000,000

From the answer of € 1,000,000, subtract € 500,000.

Both you and your tax partner enter the answer of € 500,000 under question 23g.

This is because you and your tax partner divide the benefit from a substantial interest under question 23r.

Make the calculation as shown in the examples for each related person with a debt exceeding € 500,000.

For question 23i

For this question, enter the excess debt you had with companies in which you held a substantial interest and on which you have already paid tax in the Netherlands.

For question 23j

If you did not complete question 23i, enter €500,000 for this question. If you did complete question 23i, enter the answer from question 23i plus €500,000.

For question 23m

Examples of regular gains from a substantial interest are dividends and other profit distributions.

You also state the regular gains of:

- the person who was your tax partner throughout 2024
- your minor children
- your tax partner's minor children

If the child became of age in 2024, you state the child's gains until he became of age. It concerns the gross income. This is the income without deduction of costs or any (dividend) tax withheld.

No regular gain

Did you have interest on claims against a company in which you had a substantial interest? In that case, this is no regular gain. You state this interest as revenues from providing assets at question 8.

For question 23n

You may deduct expenses you incurred for regular gains. This may be the following expenses:

- interest on and costs for loans in order to buy shares, options or profit-sharing certificates of the substantial interest
- bank charges for administering shares

What may not be deducted?

- pre-paid interest and costs for the period after 31 December 2024 if the period of the debt ends after 30 June 2024
You may deduct this interest in the year to which the interest relates.
- interest on and costs of overdistribution debts in case of a division of an estate according to the division of the parental estate or in case of a statutory division
Overdistribution debts arise if you received more money from an inheritance than you were entitled to.
- dividend tax withheld
You state Dutch dividend tax in question 51a.

For question 23p

In 2024, did you sell shares, options, profit-sharing certificates or membership rights that were part of a substantial interest? In that case, you have capital gains. The gain is the transfer price minus the acquisition price.

You have capital gains not only in case of a sale and suchlike. This is also the case if you donated shares. Moreover, we have considered certain situations to be a disposal. See Fictitious disposal.

You also state the capital gains of:

- the person who was your tax partner throughout 2024
- your minor children
- your tax partner's minor children

If the child became of age in 2024, you state the child's gains until he became of age.

Transfer price

The transfer price is the sale amount you received. It concerns the net amount, in other words the transfer price minus any selling costs.

Non-arm's length transfer

In case of a non-arm's length fictitious disposal, donation, swap or sale, the economic value will usually be the transfer price.

Fictitious disposal

In certain situations, we treat your shares, options, profit-sharing certificates or membership rights as if you sold them. We call this fictitious disposal. More information about fictitious disposal can be found at belastingdienst.nl.

For question 23q

The acquisition price is the purchase amount or the economic value when you acquired your shares, options, profit-sharing certificates or membership rights. You may include notarial charges in the acquisition price.

Special situations regarding the acquisition price are:

- inheriting
- donating
- substantial interest created in 2024
- non-arm's length acquisition

For question 23t

If your income from a substantial interest was negative, it will constitute an offsettable loss from a substantial interest. We offset this loss against positive income from a substantial interest for the previous year and possibly against positive income from a substantial interest in the coming 9 years.

Please note!

If you had a tax partner throughout 2024, you may only offset the loss that you allocate to yourself in your tax return.

For question 23u

If you have a substantial interest and have emigrated, this will have consequences for taxation. We consider an emigration of a substantial interest holder to be a fictitious disposal of the substantial interest. You must pay tax on the gains from this fictitious disposal.

24 Substantial interest and transfer options

If you have disposed of (part of) your substantial interest, you must pay tax on the capital gain. In certain situations, there is a (fictitious) disposal, but you do not have to pay tax on this immediately. For example, this applies if you gift shares of a business to someone who has been working for the company for some time. In such cases you can use a transfer option. The acquisition price of your shares is then transferred to the new shareholder. Conditions apply to the use of the transfer option. Contact your advisor or the Tax Information Line for Non-resident Tax Issues if you want to know whether you meet the conditions. Transfer may also be possible under certain conditions in the event of death.

25 Dutch income not taxed in the Netherlands, or taxed at a reduced rate

You only stated your Dutch income and assets at questions 4 to 23. It could be that we are not allowed to levy tax on 1 or more Dutch income components (or at a reduced rate). This is the case if the tax treaty between the Netherlands and your country of residence states that the relevant income component may only be taxed in your country of residence. It could also be that the treaty provides that tax may only be levied in the Netherlands on certain Dutch income at a reduced rate.

The List of country codes on page 6 lists most countries with which the Netherlands has a tax treaty.

Calculating the exemption

If you did not live in the Netherlands, you only state your Dutch income in the Netherlands. It could be that you also need to pay tax on this income in a different country. In order to prevent you from having to pay tax in both countries, you are entitled to a tax exemption in the Netherlands

We will determine the relief on the basis of your tax return. The basis for the calculation is that the income not taxable in the Netherlands is deducted from your total income. The double tax exemption is calculated before deduction of the tax credits.

For question 25a

State the income in box 1 for which you are requesting a tax exemption. This may be income you entered in:

- question 4 to question 8
Here, you also fill in the lump sum payments of old-regime annuities which you entered at question 5a. These lump sum payments are not taxed in the Netherlands.
- question 19 to question 22

Please note!

Place a minus sign before the amount if the amount is negative.

For question 25b

State the income in box 2 which you entered previously in this tax return at question 23o or question 23r, for which you are requesting a tax exemption.

For question 25c

Have you stated any income to which a reduced rate applies because of:

- the Tax Regulations for the Kingdom or
- the tax treaty which the Netherlands concluded with your country of residence

In that case, describe this income, and state the applicable reduced tax rate, the country code and the amount of the income to which this reduced tax rate applies. If, for example, you received interest or dividend from a substantial interest (box 2), you are often entitled to a reduced rate of 10% or 15%. The country codes can be found in the List of country codes on page 6.

26 Assets

What to state?

You must state the following assets in box 3:

- immovable property (and any rights thereto) in the Netherlands, for example a second home or a holiday home
- rights to profits in the Netherlands

Whose assets are you stating?

A tax partner for the whole of 2024

Did you have a tax partner for the whole of 2024? In that case, you state the total value of your, your tax partner's, your children's and your tax partner's children's assets on 1 January 2024. It concerns children over whom you or your tax partner exercised parental authority and who were under age (younger than 18 years old). Are you divorced in 2024 and are you no longer each other's tax partner throughout the year? In that case, state half of your children's assets. The other parent states half of these children's assets in his own tax return.

Did you have parental authority over a child together with someone other than your tax partner? In that case, enter half of the value of this child's assets.

A tax partner for part of 2024

Did you have a tax partner during part of 2024? And do you not opt to be tax partners for the whole of 2024? In that case, state the total value of the assets on 1 January 2024 of you and your children over whom you had parental authority and who were under age (younger than 18 years). Do you opt to be tax partners for the whole of 2024? See A tax partner for the whole of 2024 above.

Transferring assets and liabilities from and to box 3

Did you temporarily transfer assets or liabilities from box 3 to box 1 or box 2? And then back to box 3 again? In that case, you must state the actual income in box 1 or box 2 and in box 3. More information can be found at belastingdienst.nl.

Assets and liabilities in the event of a divorce

Are you divorced and had the assets and liabilities not yet been divided between you and your ex-partner on 1 January 2024? In that case, state your share in the assets and liabilities in box 3. The division depends on the conditions under which you were married. If you are married in community of property, each of you should state half of the assets and liabilities.

For question 26a

Your assets in box 3 also include your immovable property. At question 26a, you enter the value of your immovable property in the Netherlands.

Immovable property is:

- a second home, for example a holiday home
- a house that you let or lease
- a garage that is not an appurtenance of the owner-occupied home, but is situated a few blocks away
- a separate parcel, such as meadowland
- rights to immovable property

These include:

- usufruct or limited ownership (such as bare ownership) of premises, a rural estate, forest or nature reserve. Please note! Here, it does not concern the bare ownership of a house of which you acquired the bare ownership under the law of inheritance, if the house remained an owner-occupied home (principal residence) for the usufructuary. Example: you inherit the bare ownership of the house in which your surviving parent still lives as usufructuary.
- right to the use of premises for which you pay an arm's-length fee less than once a year
For example, you always pay the rent 5 years in advance.
- shares or bonds in businesses that invest in immovable property

Value of second home or other immovable property

Did you have a second home in the Netherlands? Or other immovable property such as a house for letting or business premises in the Netherlands? In that case, state the WOZ value with value reference date 01 January 2023. This is mentioned in the WOZ assessment you received from the municipal authority at the beginning of 2024.

The house you let

If you wholly or partly let the house, you should state the WOZ value. This applies to, for example, the letting of holiday homes, house boats, shop houses and service dwellings. If you let a house or an independent part of your house, the tenant will have a right to security of tenure. In that case, for the house you let you state the percentage of the WOZ value from the Table for the value of the house you let or leased.

Basic rent and rent

Basic rent

The basic rent is the amount for which you let the house, excluding payments for energy and the use of furniture, for example.

Rent

Rent is the amount for which you lease the house, excluding payments for energy and the use of furniture, for example.

Please note!

On 1 January 2024, did you own a house that you let or leased only during the course of the year? In that case, state the WOZ value and not a percentage thereof.

How do you determine the percentage of the WOZ value?

The percentage by which you must multiply the WOZ value depends on the annual (basic) rent. Was the house let or leased on 1 January 2024 and did the tenancy agreement or lease terminate during the course of the year? In that case, multiply the (basic) rent on 1 January 2024 by 12.

House you leased

Did you wholly or partly lease the house? In that case, you must state the WOZ value, unless you and the lessee concluded a lease for at least 12 years. In that case, for the house you leased you state the percentage of the WOZ value from the Table for the value of the house you let or leased.

Letting of non-independent part of your house

Did you let or lease a non-independent part of your house, for example a room? And do you meet the conditions of the room letting exemption? In that case, the part you let is not part of box 3, but is subject to the home ownership scheme. In that case, you first calculate the WOZ value for the let or leased part.

Did the municipal authority not make a separate assessment of the WOZ value for the part you let or leased? In that case, you calculate the value yourself, by comparing the number of square metres of the let or leased part with the total number of square metres of the house.

Example

You rent a room with an area of 30 square metres. The total area of your house is 150 square metres. The WOZ value is € 350,000. The WOZ value for the part you let is $(€ 350,000 \times 30) : 150 = € 70,000$.

WOZ value of independent part of larger premises

Did you let an independent part of larger premises, for example one floor of a 3-floor building? And could the part you let not be sold without splitting up the premises? In that case, first decrease the WOZ value by € 20,000.

Table for the value of the house you let or leased

Have you determined the WOZ value and the annual rent? In that case, use the following table to determine the percentage by which you must multiply the WOZ value of the house you let or leased.

Please note!

Was the rent much lower or higher than customary? For example because you, as the parent, let the house to your child? In that case, the percentage you take from the WOZ value is always 100%.

Table for the value of the house you let or leased

Is the percentage of annual rent relative to the WOZ value	In that case, the percentage is
more than	but no more than	of the WOZ value
0%	1%	73%
1%	2%	79%
2%	3%	84%
3%	4%	90%
4%	5%	95%

Example

You owned a house in the Netherlands throughout 2024. You rented out this property from 1 January for € 1,250 a month. This rent includes € 175 per month for and furnishing and fittings. On value reference date 1 January 2023, the WOZ value of the house was € 375,000.

You first calculate the annual rent by multiplying the basic rent on 01 January 2024 by 12. The basic rent is $(€ 1,250 - € 175 =) € 1,075$. So the annual rent is $(€ 1,075 \times 12 =) € 12,900$.

Then you calculate the percentage of annual rent relative to the WOZ value with value reference date 1 January 2023: $€ 12,900 : (1\% \text{ of } € 375,000) = 3.44\%$. In the first 2 columns of the table, look for the percentage of annual rent that applies to you. Then, in the third column, you read the corresponding percentage of the WOZ value. 3.44% is between 3% and 4%.

The corresponding percentage is 90. So for this house you let, you must state 90% of € 375,000. You fill in: $(90\% \text{ of } € 375,000 =) € 337,500$.

Long-term ground lease

In case of a long-term ground lease, you reduce the WOZ value by the value of the future ground rents. This value is 17 times the annual ground rent.

Did you let an independent part of larger premises? And could the part you let not be sold without splitting up the premises? In that case, the value of the future ground rents is 20 times the annual ground rent.

Security of tenure and long-term ground lease

Did you let a house of which you held the land under a long-term ground lease, and did the tenant have a right to security of tenure? In that case, you first reduce the WOZ value by the value of the future ground rents. Then calculate the percentage by which you multiply the adjusted WOZ value.

Example

Since 1 January 2024, you let a house for € 1,500 per month. The WOZ value of the house was € 500,000. You paid an annual ground rent of € 300.

You first decrease the WOZ value by the value of the future ground rents by multiplying the annual ground rent by 17. $€ 300 \times 17 = € 5,100$. In that case, the adjusted WOZ value is $€ 500,000 - € 5,100 = € 494,900$. You then calculate the annual rent by multiplying the rent of the 1st rental month in 2024 by 12. The annual rent is $€ 1,500 \times 12 = € 18,000$.

Then you calculate the percentage of annual rent relative to the WOZ value with value reference date 1 January 2023: $€ 18,000 : (1\% \text{ of } € 494,900) = 3.63\%$. In the first 2 columns of the table, look for the percentage of annual rent that applies to you. Then, in the third column, you read the corresponding percentage of the WOZ value. 3.63% is between 3% and 4%.

The corresponding percentage is 90. So for this house you let, you must state 90% of € 494,900. You fill in: $(90\% \times € 494,900 =) € 445,410$.

Please note!

If you are able to demonstrate that, due to the letting or leasing, the economic value is at least 10% lower than the calculation according to the Table for the value of the house you let or leased, you may use this lower value. This is, however, subject to the condition that it concerns an arm's-length tenancy. You demonstrate this lower value, for example, by submitting a valuation of the house you let as of 1 January 2023.

For question 26b

Enter your rights to the profit of Dutch companies.

27 Debts

Whose debts are you stating?

You state the debts of the same persons as for question 26.

For question 27a, question 27b and question 27c

If you, your tax partner, your own or your tax partner's minor children had any debts on 1 January 2024 pertaining to the assets which you entered at question 26, you must also state the value of these debts in box 3.

You state the debts according to their economic value. Only state the debts that are not part of box 1 or box 2 on 1 January 2024.

For question 27d

If you are a qualifying non-resident taxpayer, a threshold of € 3,700 applies to your debts. If you do not meet the conditions for being a qualifying non-resident taxpayer, no threshold will apply to you.

Tax partner

If you had a tax partner throughout 2024, the threshold for the two of you together will be € 7,400.

28 Gains from savings and investments

At question 28, you calculate your gains from savings and investments, using the basis for savings and investments. The basis for savings and investments is the value of your assets minus your debts, after deduction of your tax-free allowance.

A tax partner for the whole of 2024

Did you have a tax partner for the whole of 2024? Or did you have a tax partner for part of 2024 and do you opt to be tax partners for the whole of 2024? In that case, you take the joint assets minus the debts, the joint basis for savings and investments and the joint tax-free allowance.

You may apportion the joint basis for savings and investments. It makes no difference how you apportion the value between yourself and your tax partner. Any apportionment is allowed, as long as the total is 100%.

You must have your tax partner sign your tax return too. Is your tax partner also filing a tax return? In that case, you must both sign that tax return too.

Apportioning and death

Did your tax partner die in 2024? And do you and the heirs opt for tax partnership for the whole of 2024? In that case, you may apportion the basis for savings and investments between yourself and your deceased partner.

For question 28d

A fixed amount of assets minus debts is exempt from tax. This is called the tax-free allowance, which is € 57,000 per person. If you had a tax partner for the whole of 2024, you may also take your tax partner's tax-free allowance into account. In that case, enter € 114,000 at question 28d.

For question 28g and 28i

A Supreme Court ruling has changed the calculation of your box 3 income (gains from savings and investments). Under the new method, we assume the assets you actually have. We use notional returns that are close to the actual rates of return for savings or investments. This is much lower for savings than for investments, for example.

Calculation method

With the new method, there are 3 percentages with which you calculate your gains from savings and investment. You pay 36% income tax on your gains from savings and investments. Use the Calculation tool for savings and investment income to calculate your savings and investment income.

Percentages for calculating your gains from your assets and liabilities under the new method

There are 3 percentages by which you calculate your gains from savings and investments:

- 1.03% for savings
- 6.04% for investments and other assets
- 2.47% for debts

Please note!

The provisional percentages for 2024 were used when preparing these explanatory notes. The percentages will be finalised in January 2025, and they may change. We will use the correct percentages in the assessment.

The taxable return is the notional return calculated on your assets and debts. Use the 'Calculation tool gains from savings and investments' to calculate your taxable return.

At question 28g

New rulings by the Supreme Court

In June, the Supreme Court (Hoge Raad, HR) issued several rulings regarding the current method for calculating income from assets (Box 3). According to the rulings, the calculation violates the European Convention on Human Rights (ECHR). The rulings state that we must only tax the actual return on your assets if it is lower than the notional return.

We have not yet been able to reflect these rulings in this form and its explanation. We are currently developing a form that will allow you to report your actual return. This form will be available in the summer of 2025. You will receive a letter from us when it is time to report your actual return.

At question 28j to question 28n

Correction due to a time-based calculation

Did you enter an asset in question 26? And did you no longer possess this asset after January 1, 2024? If so, you need to recalculate your gains from savings and investments (at question 28j and question 28k). If you entered a debt in question 27, you also need to fill in question 28l and question 28m.

First, calculate the correction for the asset and any associated debt. Calculate it based on the number of months you no longer possessed the asset. Then, calculate the return on the asset and debt. You can copy the amounts for question 28j to question 28n from the 'Calculation tool gains from savings and investments' provided in question 28g.

Example 1

You live in Germany and only had a vacation home in the Netherlands on January 1, 2024. You are not a qualified non-resident taxpayer. You sold this vacation home on September 23, 2024. The value of the vacation home on January 1, 2024, was € 240,000. You had a debt of € 60,000 for this vacation home on January 1, 2024. Since you are not a qualified non-resident taxpayer, no debt threshold applies to you. The value of the vacation home on January 1, 2024, is € 240,000 (question 28a). You had a debt of € 60,000 for this vacation home on January 1, 2024 (question 28b). The base value is € 240,000 - € 60,000 = € 180,000 (question 28c). You are entitled to the tax-exempt amount of € 57,000. The base for savings and investments is € 180,000 - € 57,000 = € 123,000 (question 28e). Calculate the taxable yield as follows:
 $6.04\% \text{ of } € 240,000 = € 14,496$
 $2.47\% \text{ of } € 60,000 = € 1,482$

Subtract the return on debts from the return on assets: € 14,496 - € 1,482 = € 13,014. This is the taxable yield (question 28g).

Now divide your basis from savings and investments (question 28e) € 123,000 by the capital yield tax base (question 28c) € 180,000 and multiply this by 100. Round down to 3 decimal places: $(€ 123,000 : € 180,000 \times 100) = 68.333\%$ (question 28h). Your benefit from savings and investments is 68.333% of the taxable return: € 13,014 = € 8,892. Enter this amount in question 28i.

The month of September is included in the correction. Because the holiday home was no longer in your possession from September to December, the correction due to the time-based calculation is $(4/12 \times € 240,000) = € 80,000$. You enter this amount in question 28j. For question 28k, you must calculate the return on the holiday home. The holiday home falls under investments and other assets. You calculate the return as follows: € 80,000 x 6.04% = € 4,832. You enter this amount in question 28k.

The debt for the holiday home is also no longer there in September to December. The adjustment due to time-based calculation $(4/12 \times € 60,000) = € 20,000$. You enter this amount in question 28l. For question 28m, you must calculate the return on the debt. You calculate the return as follows: € 20,000 x 2.47% = € 494. You enter this amount in question 28m. In question 28n, calculate the reduction on your gains from savings and investments because of the time-based calculation. This is the answer of question 28k minus the answer of question 28m. And you multiply this answer by the percentage from question 28h. In this case, $(€ 4,832 - € 494 =) € 4,338 \times 68.333\% = € 2,964$. You subtract this from the answer of question 28i $(€ 8,892 - € 2,964 =) € 5,928$ (question 28o). That is your gains from savings and investments after time-based calculation.

Example 2 (with debt threshold)

You and your partner live in Germany and you have a holiday home in the Netherlands on 1 January 2024. You are both qualifying non-resident taxpayers.

The value of the holiday home on 1 January 2024 is € 240,000 (question 28a).

You have a debt on 1 January 2024 for this holiday home of € 60,000. Because you are both qualifying non-resident taxpayers, a threshold of € 7,400 applies to you. Your deductible debt is € 60,000 - € 7,400 = € 52,600 (question 28b).

The capital yield tax base is € 240,000 - € 52,600 = € 187,400 (question 28c). You and your wife are both entitled to the tax-free allowance of € 57,000. The joint savings and investments basis is € 187,400 - € 114,000 = € 73,400 (question 28e). You and your partner both declare half of this (€ 36,700) (question 28f).

You calculate the taxable return as follows:
 $6.04\% \text{ of } € 240,000 = € 14,496$
 $2.47\% \text{ of } € 52,600 = € 1,299$
Subtract the return on debt from the return on assets € 14,496 - € 1,299 = € 13,197. This is the taxable yield (question 28g).

Now divide your savings and investments basis (question 28f) € 36,700 by the return basis (question 28c) € 187,400 and multiply by 100. Round down to 3 decimal places. $€ 36,700 : € 187,400 \times 100 = 19.583\%$ (question 28h).

Your gains from savings and investments is 19.583% of the taxable return € 13,197 = € 2,584. Enter this amount under question 28i.

On 23 September 2024, you and your partner sell the holiday home.

First, calculate the adjustment for assets and debt. For this purpose, take the number of months you no longer had the asset. In that case calculate the return on the property and the debt.

The month of September is included in the adjustment. The month of September is included in the adjustment. Since you no longer owned the holiday home from September to December, the adjustment due to the prorated calculation is (4/12 x € 240,000 =) € 80,000. Enter this amount under question 28j. For question 28k, calculate the return on the holiday home. The holiday home falls under investments and other assets. Calculate the return as follows: € 80,000 x 6.04% = € 4,832. Enter this amount under question 28k.

There is also no more debt for the holiday home in September to December. The adjustment for the prorated calculation (4/12 x € 52,600 =) € 17,533. Enter this amount under question 28l. For question 28m, calculate the return on debt. Calculate the return as follows: € 17,533 x 2.47% = € 433. Enter this amount under question 28m.

Under question 28n calculate the reduction on your benefit from savings and investments based on of the prorated calculation. This is the answer to question 28k minus the answer to question 28m. Multiply this by the percentage from question 28h. In this case, (€ 4,832 - € 433 =) € 4,399 x 19.583% = € 861. Deduct this from the answer to question 28i (€ 2,584 - € 861 =) € 1,723. That is your gain from savings and investment after the prorated calculation.

29 Reference date arbitrage

Moving assets within Box 3
You can move your assets within Box 3 by, for example, converting high-yield investments into low-yield savings. Or by taking on more debt. Doing this around the reference date will not result in lower taxation. We call this reference date arbitrage.

Turning investments and other assets into savings does not always lead to lower taxation
Do you convert investments or other assets into savings in the 3 months before 1 January? And do your investments or other assets rise and the value of your savings fall again in the 3 months after 1 January? Then moving does not, in principle, lead to lower taxation.

Taking on extra debt does not always lead to lower taxation
You can take on additional debt to increase your bank balances. However, are you taking on this debt within 3 months before the reference date? And do the debts then decrease again in the 3 months after 1 January? Then, in principle, the change does not lead to lower taxation.

Sometimes, moving assets within Box 3 does lead to lower taxation

In some cases, you will pay less tax on your assets due to the shift in assets or debts:

- if you can demonstrate that the movement was for business reasons and not for tax reasons
- if you move your assets before 1 October or after 31 March
- for transactions where the period between the purchase and sale dates exceeds 3 months

30 Specification of income taxed in the Netherlands and the worldwide income

Under question 30a

Assume all your assets in box 3 on 1 January 2024, in the Netherlands and abroad combined. Here, you should assume the ownership ratio. For example, if you are married in community of property, Declare 50%, and the other 50% for your partner.

Under question 30a letter A

In that case, this concerns:

- bank and savings balances and premium deposits
- the share in the capital of an Owners' Association
- cash

Cash is exempt up to a maximum of € 653. State the amount exceeding this exemption. Also for example, the value of gift vouchers counts as cash. Did you have a tax partner throughout 2024? In that case, the cash exemption is € 1,306. The exemption also applies to a minor child.

- non-exempt portion of green savings

Green savings and investments

Green savings and investments are savings accounts or investments in funds that invest in environmental protection projects. At belastingdienst.nl, you can read which green funds we have recognised.

Exemption for green savings and investments

There is an exemption for green investments. That means you only have to declare your green savings and investments if their value exceeds a certain amount. The exemption is € 71,251.

Did you have a tax partner for the whole year? Or have you opted for full-year tax partnership? In that case, the exemption is € 142,502. The exemption can never exceed the total value of your green savings and investments on 1 January 2025. Is the value of your investments € 20,000? In that case, the exemption is also € 20,000. Is the value of your investments € 75,000? In that case, the maximum exemption of € 71,251 applies to you. Did you have a tax partner for the whole year? In that case, the exemption is € 75,000.

You first deduct the exemption for the green investments. Do you have any part exemption left after that? If so, deduct this from your green savings. Is the exemption lower than the value of your green investments? In that case, add this amount to your other assets you declare under question 30a, letter B.

Under question 30a letter B

In that case, this concerns:

- Other claims, such as money you lent
- securities (shares, bonds, profit-sharing certificates and options) that do not belong to a substantial interest, such as the non-exempt part of your green investments (see Exemption of green savings and investments)
- immovable property (and any rights thereto) in the Netherlands and abroad, for example a second home or a holiday home.
- the non-exempt part of your capital sum insurances
- entitlements to regular payments that are not taxed in box 1
- your net annuity or net pension to which no exemption applies
- your other assets, such as:
- the share in an undivided estate
- the share in the capital of the Owners' Association
- crypto assets (such as bitcoins, other coins or tokens such as NFTs) that you keep in your wallet, with an exchange or with another party
- the sanction for a net annuity or net pension because of a non-allowed act
- rights to profits

Under question 30a letter C

For this question, enter the debts belonging to the assets you entered under letter A or letter B. For the debts, you should also assume the ownership ratio.

Under question 30a letters I to K

To calculate the return, use the Calculation Tool for Gains from Savings and Investment World Income (under question 30a and question 31a).

Under question 30b letter A

For the value of the assets you need to enter here, see the notes to question 26. When determining the value of these assets, you should start from the ownership ratio. This is stipulated, for example, in the prenuptial agreement or partner's agreement. Did you not have a tax partner in 2024? Or have you not opted for a full-year tax partnership? In that case, you can reproduce the amount under question 26c here.

Under question 30b letter B

For the value of debts you need to enter here, see the notes to question 27. When determining the value of these debts, you should start from the ownership ratio. This is stipulated, for example, in the prenuptial agreement or partner's agreement. Did you not have a tax partner in 2024? Or have you not opted for a full-year tax partnership? In that case, you can reproduce the amount under question 27e here.

For question 30b letter H

Complete the Calculation Tool for gains from savings and investments under question 30b and question 31b on page 30.

Under question 30b letter I to letter M

Did you state an asset under question 25? And do you no longer have this asset after 1 January 2024? In that case you should adjust your gains from savings and investments. For that reason you will need to make a prorated calculation under letter I to letter M.

For a prorated calculation, complete the Calculation Tool for gains from savings and investments under question 30b and question 31b letters I to M.

Do you own your property in the Netherlands throughout 2024? In that case you do not need to fill in letter I to letter M.

Calculate the adjustment for the months the property is not in your possession. Non-full months count as full months. The example below shows how to make the calculation.

Example sale of a property in 2024

You live in Germany and you and your partner had a holiday home in the Netherlands on 1 January 2024. You are married in community of property. The value of the holiday home on 1 January 2024 is € 240,000. Because you are married in community of property, you enter € 120,000 in question 30b letter A. You had a debt of € 60,000 on 1 January 2024 for this holiday home. Because you are married, you enter € 30,000 for question 30b letter B. When making the adjustment, there is no need to deduct the threshold from your debts. Your return basis on 1 January 2024 (assets minus liabilities) is € 90,000 (€ 120,000 - € 30,000). You sold the property on 23 September 2024.

First, calculate the adjustment of possession and debt. For this purpose, take the number of months you no longer had the asset. In that case calculate the return on the property and the debt.

The month of September is included in the adjustment. The month of September is included in the adjustment. As you no longer owned the holiday home from September through December, the adjustment due to the prorated calculation is (4/12 x € 120,000 =) € 40,000. You enter this amount in question 30b letter I. In question 30b letter J, you calculate the return on the holiday home. The holiday home falls under investments and other assets. Calculate the return as follows: € 40,000 x 6.04% = € 2,416. Enter this amount under question 30b letter J.

There is also no more debt for the holiday home in September to December. The adjustment due to the prorated calculation (4/12 x € 30,000) = € 10,000. Enter this amount under question 30b letter K.

Under question 30b letter L, calculate the yield on the debt. Calculate the return as follows: € 10,000 x 2.47% = € 247. Enter this amount under question 30b.

Under question 30b letter M calculates the reduction on your benefit from savings and investments because of the prorated calculation. For this purpose, use the Calculation Tool for gains from savings and investments.

For question 30c

State the income that is taxed in the Netherlands and your worldwide income in question 30c. In the left column, you fill in the income that is taxed in the Netherlands. Reproduce the amounts from the form. In the right column, you fill in the income from the Netherlands and abroad combined (worldwide income).

31 Specification of income taxed in the Netherlands and your tax partner’s worldwide income

Under question 31a

Assume all your assets in box 3 on 1 January 2025 in the Netherlands and abroad combined. Here, you should assume the ownership ratio. For example, if you are married in community of property, In that case you declare 50% (under question 30b) and the other 50% for your tax partner (under question 31b).

Under question 31a letter A

In that case, this concerns:

- bank and savings balances and premium deposits
 - the share in the capital of an Owners’ Association
 - cash
- Cash up to € 653 is exempt. State the amount exceeding this exemption. Cash also includes the value of gift vouchers and suchlike.
- Did you have a tax partner throughout 2024? In that case, the cash exemption is € 1,306. The exemption also applies to a minor child.
- non-exempt portion of green savings

Green savings and investments

Green savings and investments are savings accounts or investments in funds that invest in environmental protection projects. At belastingdienst.nl, you can read which green funds we have recognised.

Green savings and investments exemption.

There is an exemption for green investments. That means you only have to declare your green savings and investments if their value exceeds a certain amount. The exemption is € 71,251.

Did you have a tax partner for the whole year? Or have you opted for full-year tax partnership? In that case, the exemption is € 142,502.

The exemption can never exceed the total value of your green savings and investments on 1 January 2025. Is the value of your investments € 20,000? In that case, the exemption is also € 20,000. Is the value of your investments € 75,000? In that case, the maximum exemption of € 71,251 applies to you. Did you have a tax partner for the whole year? In that case, the exemption is € 75,000.

You first deduct the exemption for the green investments. Do you have any part of the exemption left after that? If so, deduct this from your green savings. Is the exemption lower than the value of your green investments? In that case add this amount to your other assets you declare under question 30a letter A or letter B.

Under question 31a letter B

- In that case, this concerns:
- Other claims, such as money you have lent
 - securities (shares, bonds, profit-sharing certificates and options) that do not belong to a substantial interest, such as the non-exempt part of your green investments (see Exemption of green savings and investments)
 - immovable property (and any rights thereto) in the Netherlands and abroad, for example a second home or a holiday home.
 - the non-exempt part of your capital sum insurances
 - entitlements to regular payments that are not taxed in box 1
 - your net annuity or net pension to which no exemption applies
 - your other assets, such as:
 - the share in an undivided estate
 - the share in the capital of the Owners' Association
 - crypto assets (such as bitcoins, other coins or tokens such as NFTs) that you keep in your wallet, with an exchange or with another party
 - the sanction for a net annuity or net pension because of a non-allowed act
 - rights to profits

Under question 31a letter C

For this question, enter the debts belonging to the assets you entered under letter A or letter B. For the debts, you should also assume the ownership ratio.

Under question 31a letters I to K

To calculate the return, you can use the Calculation Tool for Gains from Savings and Investment World Income (under question 30a and question 31a). You will find it on page 29.

Under question 31b letter A

For the value of the assets you need to enter here, see the notes to question 26. When determining the value of these assets, you should start from the ownership ratio. This is stipulated, for example, in the prenuptial agreement or partner's agreement. In this question, your tax partner indicates their share of the assets you declared under question 26.

Under question 31b letter B

For the value of debts you need to enter here, see the notes to question 27. When determining the value of these debts, you should start from the ownership ratio. This is stipulated, for example, in the prenuptial agreement or partner's agreement. In this question, your tax partner indicates their share of the debts you declared under question 27.

For question 31b letter H

Complete the Calculation Tool for gains from savings and investments (under question 30b and question 31b) on page 30.

Under question 31b letter I to letter M

Did you state an asset under question 26? And do you no longer have this asset after 1 January 2024? In that case you should adjust your gains from savings and investments. You have already done this under question 30b. Your tax partner should also adjust their benefit from savings and investments. For that reason you will need to make a prorated calculation under letter I to letter M.

An example of a prorated calculation is given under question 30b letter I to letter M on page 28.

Do you jointly own the property in the Netherlands throughout 2024? In that case you do not need to fill in letter I to letter M .

For question 31c

You state your partner's income that is taxed in the Netherlands and their worldwide income in question 31c. In the left column, you fill in the income that is taxed in the Netherlands. In the right column, you fill in the income from the Netherlands and abroad combined (worldwide income).

For question 31c letter P

Gains from savings and investments, taxed in the Netherlands (left column)

Under letter P of question 31c, reproduce the amount from question 31b, letter H, unless you also filled in an amount under letter I. Did you enter an amount in question 31b, letter I? In that case, subtract the amount under question 31b, letter M from the amount under question 31b, letter H. Enter the result here at letter P in the left-hand column.

Gains from savings and investments, worldwide income (right column)

To fill in the right-hand column of letter P, reproduce the amount from question 31a letter L.

32 Calculation of the 90% requirement

In order to be a qualifying non-resident taxpayer in 2024, you must pay tax in the Netherlands on at least 90% of your worldwide income (90% requirement).

For question 32a

We will first ask you to reproduce some amounts from the form to allow you to complete question 32a more easily.

Your income taxed in the Netherlands
Reproduce from letter U from the left column

A

Your income in the Netherlands and abroad.
Reproduce from letter U from the right column
of question 30c in the form.

The percentage you then need to enter at question 32a depends on the amounts you entered above:

- Is A € 0 or negative? And is B € 0 or positive? Then fill in '0' at question 32a.
- Is A positive? And is B € 0 or negative? Then fill in '100' at question 32a.
- If both A and B are positive, you must do the following calculation:
Divide A by B and multiply the outcome by 100. You round the outcome down to the nearest percent. Fill in the outcome at question 32a in the form and fill in no more than '100'.

Example

Your income taxed in the Netherlands (A) is € 10,000 and your income in the Netherlands and abroad combined (B) is € 20,000.
€ 10,000 divided by € 20,000 x 100 = 50. You fill in this percentage at question 32a in the form.

For question 32b

Please note!

Only complete this question if you had a tax partner in 2024.
If you had no tax partner, you should proceed with question 32d.

We will first ask you to reproduce some amounts from the form to allow you to complete question 32b more easily.

Your partner's income taxed in the Netherlands Reproduce from letter U from the left column of question 31c in the form.

C

Your partner's income in the Netherlands and abroad. Reproduce from letter U from the right column of question 31c in the form.

D

The percentage you then need to enter at question 32b depends on the amounts you filled in above:

- Is C € 0 or negative? And is D € 0 or positive? Then fill in '0' at question 32b.
- Is C positive? And is D € 0 or negative? Then fill in '100' at question 32b.
- If both C and D are positive, you must do the following calculation:
Divide C by D and multiply the outcome by 100. You round the outcome down to the nearest percent. Fill in the outcome at question 32b in the form and fill in no more than '100'.

Example

Your partner's income taxed in the Netherlands (C) is € 10,000 and his income in the Netherlands and abroad combined (D) is € 20,000. € 10,000 divided by € 20,000 x 100 = 50. You fill in this percentage at question 32b in the form.

For question 32c

If the outcome at question 32a and question 33b is 90% or higher, you should proceed with question 33.

If the outcome at question 32a or question 32b is less than 90%, you should complete the Calculation tool for question 32c.

For question 32d and question 32e

If you do not meet the 90% requirement, you may still be a qualifying non-resident taxpayer. In that case, you must meet the following conditions:

- You received a pension, annuity or similar payment in 2024.
- You meet the other conditions for qualifying non-resident taxpayer status.
- You pay no income tax in your country of residence because of your low income.
- You can submit a signed personal income statement from the tax authorities of your country of residence.

If you meet the conditions, you should tick the box at question 32d.
If your partner meets the conditions, you should tick the box at question 32e.

33 Expenses for income provisions

You can take out insurance or you can save or invest for additional income. For example, for additional income (annuity) when you retire. The premiums for a banking annuity (annuity account or annuity investment account) may, under certain conditions, be deducted from your income.

You may also be entitled to deduction for other income provisions. You will find an overview of the possibilities below.

You may deduct the following payments:

- premiums or payments for annuities as a supplement to your pension
- premiums or payments for annuities as a supplement to a pension for surviving dependants
- premiums for an annuity for a disabled child or grandchild that is of age
- occupational disability insurance premiums

You must have paid the premiums yourself or paid the amounts yourself.

Did you pay a remuneration directly to an intermediary for arranging, renewing or collecting the premiums or deposits of your annuity? This remuneration is not deductible.

Please note!

You pay tax on the payments. It then always concerns additional income which you receive regularly (for example monthly or yearly). Therefore, it does not concern a lump sum payment, as is the case with capital sum insurances.

Pension contributions

As an employee, you often pay pension contributions. You may not deduct them as expenses for income provisions. Your employer has already deducted the contributions from your wage. As a result, you already paid less tax.

Annuity insurance, annuity account or annuity investment account

An annuity is additional income when you retire. You can take out insurance for this or, for example, pay amounts into an annuity account or for an annuity investment account.

In that case, the amount in your savings account or the value of your investment account must be used at a certain point in time to purchase an annuity. The annuity insurance premiums or the payments into an annuity account or annuity investment account may be deducted from your income. An important condition is that you have a pension deficit. For example, because you did not accrue a pension, or accrued insufficient pension, with your employer.

Types of annuities

In case of expenses for income provisions, it concerns the following types of annuities:

- an annuity insurance policy with a life insurance company
- an annuity account with a bank
- an annuity investment account with an administrator of an investment institution

For question 33a and question 33b

You may only deduct an amount if you have a pension deficit. You may also have a pension deficit while being employed and accruing a pension. In order to find out whether you may deduct an amount, you first have to determine whether you have a pension deficit. Do you have a pension deficit? In that case, you have 'room' to deduct an amount.

The maximum amount of your deduction is determined by your annual margin and your reserve margin.

Annual margin

You have an annual margin in 2024 if you accrued insufficient pension in 2023. So the annual margin in 2024 depends on your situation in 2023. If you have a pension deficit in 2023 and have not yet reached state pension age, you usually have an annual margin in 2024.

Reserve margin

Did you not fully use the annual margins for 2014 to 2023? In that case, you usually have a reserve margin in 2024. You did not use the annual margin if, for example, you did not pay annuity premiums during this period.

Digital tool for the deductible amount

You can use the Annuity premium tool to calculate the amount you may deduct. This tool can be found at belastingdienst.nl. You can also use the online tax return in the 'Mijn Belastingdienst' section.

For question 33c

If you used all or part of your retirement reserve to take out an annuity, you should, at this question, state the amount by which the retirement reserve was decreased. Additional rules apply to this.

For question 33d

Did you discontinue your business? And did you use all or part of your retirement reserve to take out an annuity? In that case, you should, at this question, state the amount by which the retirement reserve was decreased. Additional rules apply to this.

For question 33e

Did you discontinue your business? And did you use your discontinuation profit to take out an annuity? In that case, you should, at this question, state the amount of the discontinuation profit that was used for this purpose. Additional rules apply to this. This does not concern a retirement reserve that is included in the discontinuation profit. You state this at question 33d.

For question 33f

Did you pay premiums for annuities of which the payments will accrue to your disabled child or grandchild that is of age? In that case, you may fully deduct them if the payments meet the following conditions:

- The payments are used to support the child or grandchild in accordance with his station in life. The station in life is determined, among other things, by the child's or grandchild's own income and home situation.
- The payments will only cease when the child or grandchild dies.

You may also pay the premiums for a child or grandchild who, at the time the premiums are paid, is not disabled (yet), but will, in view of the medical prognosis, be disabled when the payments will start.

For question 33g

Did you pay premiums for private occupational disability insurances that entitle you to regular payments in case of disability, illness or an accident? In that case, you may fully deduct those premiums. If you become occupationally disabled and therefore receive a regular payment, you will owe income tax and national insurance contributions on this payment.

34 Purchase, sale, maintenance or improvement of the owner-occupied home (principal residence)

For question 34a and question 34b

If you sold an owner-occupied home (principal residence) in 2024, you should fill in the net proceeds of the house you sold at question 34a. This is the selling price received minus the selling costs, such as estate agent's charges and notarial charges in connection with the sale.

Question 34b is about the home acquisition debt of the sold owner-occupied home at the time of the sale.

If you sell the owner-occupied home with equity, you must use the amount of this equity for the purchase of the new owner-occupied home. If you do not and you borrow all or part of this amount for the purchase of your new owner-occupied home, you may not deduct the interest on this amount of the loan. We call this the additional loan scheme.

For question 34d

If you bought an owner-occupied home (principal residence) in 2024, you fill in the purchase amount of the house you bought. This includes the purchase costs, such as estate agent's charges, transfer tax and notarial charges in connection with the transfer.

As purchase price of a newly-built house, you take the total of:

- the contract price
- the purchase price of the land
- the interest during construction for the period before the sales contract including resolutive conditions was concluded
- contract variations
- the expenses incurred without involving the building contractor, for example, for paving and laying out a garden

For question 34e

If, in 2024, you incurred expenses for the maintenance or refurbishment of your owner-occupied home, you should enter the amount of these expenses in question 34e. It concerns, for example, expenses for an extension, placing a dormer window, replacing window cases or paintwork. These expenses are not deductible. We ask about these expenses for the additional loan scheme.

35 Home acquisition debt and remaining debt of the former owner-occupied home

The home acquisition debt is the amount you borrowed for the owner-occupied home. This includes the amount you borrowed for the financing costs, such as consultancy and handling fees. You may only deduct the (mortgage) interest if you used the loan for:

- the purchase of the owner-occupied home
- the improvement and maintenance of the owner-occupied home
- the buyout of a long-term ground lease, building and planting rights or a perpetual hereditary lease

If you took out the loan after 1 January 2013, additional conditions will apply. See Loans for the owner-occupied home taken out in 2013 or a later year.

Example

Your total (mortgage) debt is € 400,000. From this amount you bought a car for € 20,000. In that case, your home acquisition debt is € 380,000 as you did not spend € 20,000 on your house. You may deduct the (mortgage) interest on € 380,000.

Remaining debt of the former owner-occupied home

After 28 October 2012 and before 1 January 2018, did you sell your house for an amount lower than the home acquisition debt pertaining to this house? In that case, you will have a remaining debt. You may deduct the interest on this debt for 15 years in box 1. Here, it does not matter if you buy another house or start renting a house. In order to be allowed to deduct the interest, you are not obliged to repay the debt either.

Loans for the owner-occupied home taken out in 2013 or a later year

If you took out a loan on or after 1 January 2013, a loan will only be a home acquisition debt if you repay it in full on at least an annuity or straight-line basis in no more than 360 months. In that case, you may deduct the interest on this debt. Even if you borrow an additional amount for your owner-occupied home, you will have to repay it in full.

Payment arrears

If you are in arrears with payments, you should check belastingdienst.nl to see if you are allowed to deduct the interest paid.

Home acquisition debt and moving: additional loan scheme

If you sell your owner-occupied home and buy another owner-occupied home, this may have consequences for your home acquisition debt and your (mortgage) interest deduction. As a result, you may be dealing with the additional loan scheme. If you sell the owner-occupied home with equity, you must use the amount of this equity for the purchase of the new owner-occupied home. If you do not and you borrow all or part of this amount for the purchase of your new owner-occupied home, you may not deduct the interest on this part of the loan.

For question 35a to question 35d

Loan repaid in 2024?

Did you fully repay a loan for the owner-occupied home? In that case, you state this loan at question 35a, question 35b, question 35c or question 35d. You then set the value of the debt at € 0. You state the deductible interest at question 37b.

Lack of space?

Then state the highest debt on the upper 3 lines and the total of the remaining debts on the 4th line.

For question 35e and question 35f

Did you take out a loan for your owner-occupied home after 31 December 2012 with a lender who is not obliged to submit details to us? For example a family member, a foreign bank or your own private limited company? Did you use this loan for the purchase, maintenance or improvement of your owner-occupied home and does the loan meet the conditions for (mortgage) interest deduction (see Loans for the owner-occupied home taken out in 2013)? In that case, enter the details of this loan at question 35e and possibly question 35f.

Please note!

You may only deduct the interest on such loan(s) if you submit the details of this loan to us yourself with a Specification of loan for owner-occupied home. If you completed question 35e, you must complete question 39 for this. If you completed question 35f, you must complete question 40 for this. Return the Specification of loan for owner-occupied home to us, together with the other completed tax return pages.

For question 35h

At question 35h, you enter the amount of a remaining debt of the former owner-occupied home on 31 December 2024. At question 37e, you enter the interest you paid on this remaining debt in 2024.

You can use the calculation tool below to calculate if there was a remaining debt.

Calculation tool for the remaining debt of the former owner-occupied home

Home acquisition debt of the house sold	A
Selling price	B
Selling costs	C
Subtract: B minus C. Net proceeds D
Subtract: A minus D. Remaining debt E
You had a remaining debt if A is higher than D.

36 Income from the owner-occupied home

Did you or your tax partner have an owner-occupied home in 2024? In that case, you need to add an amount to your income for this house: the notional rental value. In both cases, you must also state other income from the owner-occupied home.

- Income from the owner-occupied home includes:
- the notional rental value
 - the income from temporarily letting the house
 - the taxable part of the payment under a capital sum insurance policy associated with home ownership
 - the taxable part of the unblocked balance of a savings account associated with home ownership or an investment account

Please note!

Are you a qualifying non-resident taxpayer? And do you have an owner-occupied home outside the Netherlands? And is the balance between the income from and deductible items for that owner-occupied home positive? In that case, you may not state the income from and deductible items for that owner-occupied home at question 36 and question 37 in this tax return. In that case, you may not complete question 38 for this home either. However, you do need to fill in this property in question 41b and question 41c. Are you insured for national insurance contributions in the Netherlands for the whole year? You then enter the balance of question 41b at question 54m. And the balance of question 41c at question 55c.

For question 36a

Enter the address details of your owner-occupied home. If you had 2 owner-occupied homes, you should state the details of each house. Also enter the country code. This code always consists of 3 letters. For example, the country code for Germany is DEU. See the List of country codes on page 6. If the country is not listed in the table, state XXX as country code. For the Netherlands, you use country code NLD.

For question 36b

At this question, you enter the WOZ value of the house that was your principal residence in the Netherlands in 2024. Also state the period in which the house was your principal residence.

WOZ value

The WOZ value is mentioned in the WOZ assessment you received from your municipal authority for the owner-occupied home in the Netherlands. For the year 2024, the WOZ value with value reference date 1 January 2023 applies. Are any annexes, such as a garage, mentioned separately in the WOZ assessment? Or did you receive a separate WOZ assessment for these annexes? In that case, add up the WOZ values if these annexes were part of the house.

Newly-built house, building plot or house under construction

Did you buy a newly-built house? In that case, use the value of the WOZ assessment issued by the municipal authority, even if it only refers to the land or to a partially finished house.

Period in 2024

In addition to the WOZ value, also fill in the period the house that was your principal residence in 2024. The period should be based on the date on which the municipal authorities changed the home address. This also applies if you moved house.

Owner-occupied home outside the Netherlands

If you have an owner-occupied home outside the Netherlands which is your principal residence, you enter the economic value of this home. This is the price that is arrived at through supply and demand under normal circumstances. You take the date 1 January 2023 for this purpose.

For question 36c

You must add an amount to your income for your owner-occupied home: the notional rental value. The notional rental value is a percentage of the WOZ value of the owner-occupied home that was your principal residence in 2024. Use the Table for the notional rental value to determine the notional rental value.

Table for the notional rental value

Value of the house		Notional rental value
more than	no more than
–	€ 12,500	0%
€ 12,500	€ 25,000	0.10%
€ 25,000	€ 50,000	0.20%
€ 50,000	€ 75,000	0.25%
€ 75,000	€ 1,310,000	0.35%
€ 1,310,000	–	€ 4,585 + 2.35% of the value exceeding € 1,310,00

An owner-occupied home for part of the year

You calculate the notional rental value for the period the house that was your principal residence in 2024. You entered this period at question 36b.

If you only had an owner-occupied home for part of the year, you only have to state a part of the notional rental value. If, for example, you had an owner-occupied home for six months, half of the notional rental value will apply.

Two or more owners who were not tax partners

In 2024, were you, together with 1 or more persons, the owner of your principal residence and were you not each other's tax partners throughout the year? In that case, the home ownership scheme only applies if you, together with 1 or more owners or occupants of the house, had an interest of at least 50% in the value development. You then state the part of the notional rental value that is equivalent to your share in the ownership of the house. You may only deduct the (mortgage) interest and financing costs that related to your share in the home acquisition debt. If you paid less, you may only deduct the amount paid.

Were you only an occupant of the house or were you an occupant of the house together with 1 or more owners and did you, together with the other owners or occupants, have an interest of less than 50% in the house? In that case, your share in the house was an asset in box 3 and your share in the debt was a debt in box 3 for you. The (mortgage) interest will then not be deductible for you.

Vacancy of the owner-occupied home due to a temporary posting or transfer

Was your house vacant, because you were temporarily living elsewhere? If, for example, you were temporarily posted or transferred, your house may still be subject to the home ownership scheme. This means that, for this period, you may continue deducting the (mortgage) interest. However, you need to meet the following conditions:

- Before your temporary stay elsewhere, the house was your owner-occupied home and principal residence for at least 1 year.
- During the period when you were not living in the house, you did not make the house available to third parties. Children up to 27 years of age may continue to live in the house.
- The house was temporarily not your principal residence. So the aim should be for the house to become your principal residence again.
- You and your tax partner did not have another owner-occupied home as principal residence. A rented house is not an owner-occupied home.

Use the following table to calculate the notional rental value in case of a temporary posting or transfer

Table for the notional rental value in case of a temporary posting or transfer

WOZ value	Notional rental value
No more than € 1,310,000	0.55% of the WOZ value
More than € 1,310,000	€ 7,205 plus 2.35% of the WOZ value exceeding € 1,310,000

For question 36d, question 36e and question 36f

Transferring a capital sum insurance payment

In 2024, did you receive a payment under a capital sum insurance policy associated with home ownership, a savings account associated with home ownership or an investment account associated with home ownership and were you entitled to an exemption? And did you have a tax partner for the whole of 2024? In that case, you and your tax partner are entitled to this exemption per person if you are both mentioned in the policy document. If you received a payment, but only 1 of you is mentioned in the policy document as a beneficiary, you can only make use of your own (remaining) exemption.

In order to make use of this scheme, you must have had the same tax partner for the whole of 2024. In that case, you had the same tax partner during the period in the Netherlands as well as during the period abroad.

You can make a request to each state 50% of the payment. As a result, you can both make use of your own (remaining) exemption.

Was the capital sum insurance policy associated with home ownership or the savings account associated with home ownership under which a payment is made, registered in your name? And do you make a request to allocate half of the payment to your tax partner? This will usually be more advantageous if you used part of your exemption before or if the payment exceeds your own (remaining) exemption.

Do you make a request for half of a payment under your tax partner's capital sum insurance associated with home ownership or savings account associated with home ownership to be transferred to you? And was the policy under which the payment is made, registered in the name of your tax partner and do you want half of the payment to be allocated to you? In that case, tick the box at question 36e.

Please note!

Your tax partner must also state in his tax return that he asks for this scheme to be applied.

Taxable part of a payment under a capital sum insurance policy

In 2024, did you receive a payment under a savings account, investment account or capital sum insurance associated with home ownership? And did this payment exceed the exemption to which you were entitled? In that case, you may have to state all or part of the interest component of the payment. Enter this amount in the taxable part of a payment under a capital sum insurance policy, savings account or investment account associated with home ownership (question 36f).

The taxable part of the payment is usually the interest accrued on the payment. The accrued interest is the payment less the premiums paid.

If you had a tax partner for the whole of 2024, you must add up the taxable part of the payment made to you and your tax partner. You then enter this amount at question 36f.

Please note!

Only state the interest accrued on the non-exempt part of the payment.

Exemption

In 2024, the exemption is € 202,000. If you have a tax partner, the exemption will be € 404,000. The exemption is never more than the amount of your home acquisition debt or remaining debt of the former owner-occupied home which you repay using the payment.

If the amount of the payment was lower than the exemption, the taxable part of the payment will be € 0 (question 36f). Enter the amount of the exemption used by you at question 36l. At question 36m, you enter the exemption used by your tax partner.

Please note!

You must complete question 36l and question 36m, even if the taxable part of the payment is € 0.

For question 36g

At this question, you fill in the income from the temporary letting of your owner-occupied home if your house was not for sale during the letting. Examples are letting during your holiday or a short stay abroad. This also applies if you let your house via the Internet.

Temporary letting of your principal residence that was not for sale in 2024

Did you temporarily let your owner-occupied home in 2024? For example, during your holiday or a short stay abroad? In that case, your house will remain subject to the home ownership scheme (box 1) despite the temporary letting. This means that you must state the notional rental value and deductible expenses for 2024 in full.

Rent received minus expenses

For question 36g, state 100% of the rent received over the rental period. The 'rent received' is the rent charged by you, including the charge for certain costs. In the rent, you may include a compensation for expenses directly related to the temporary letting of the house, for example:

- gas and electricity used by the tenant
- services rendered to the tenant, such as cleaning and washing - advertisements and commission

Maintenance costs, depreciation charges and fixed charges may not be deducted from the rent received.

For question 36h

Under this question, state the costs you incurred for the temporary rental. Under question 36g Rent received minus expenses, there is an explanation of what costs are involved.

Maintenance costs, depreciation charges and fixed charges may not be deducted from the rent received.

37 Deductible items for the owner-occupied home and remaining debt of the former owner-occupied home

Certain expenses for your owner-occupied home, such as the (mortgage) interest and financing costs, may be deducted from the income from the owner-occupied home. You may not always deduct all (mortgage) interest and financing costs. Information about the expenses you may deduct can be found below.

Deductible expenses for the owner-occupied home and remaining debt include:

- (mortgage) interest and financing costs
- the periodic payments for a long-term ground lease, building and planting rights or a perpetual hereditary lease

Not the only owner

If you, together with your possible tax partner, are not the only owner of the house, you need to take your share in the ownership of your house into account. You may deduct no more than the part that is equivalent to your share in the ownership of the house.

Example

You owned 75% of the house and your housemate, who was not your tax partner throughout the year, owned 25%. You do not opt to be tax partners for the whole year. In that case, you state 75% of the notional rental value of the entire house. You may deduct the interest and the financing costs for your part of the home acquisition debt and deduct no more than 75% of the periodic payments for a long-term ground lease, building and planting rights or a perpetual hereditary lease for the owner-occupied home.

Deductible (mortgage) interest and financing costs for the owner-occupied home

It concerns deductible (mortgage) interest on and financing costs of the loans you took out for the purchase, maintenance or refurbishment of your owner-occupied home. Together, these loans constitute your home acquisition debt.

You need to have paid the interest and costs in 2024. You may not deduct other costs you incurred for your owner-occupied home, such as the costs of maintenance and refurbishment. If your partner is not a qualifying non-resident taxpayer, you are not tax partners. You only declare your own share of interest and finance charges paid.

Deduction of interest for a maximum of 30 years

You may deduct the interest for a maximum of 30 years. If you took out the loan before 1 January 2001, the 30-year period starts on 1 January 2001.

Transfer of debt to partner and 30-year period for deduction of interest

Did a home acquisition debt without a repayment obligation transfer from your tax partner to you because of a marriage or change to a marriage contract or under the law of inheritance? In that case, the 30-year period for deduction of interest will end for you on the date when the period would also have ended for your tax partner.

In 2019 or a later year, did your spouse repay part of a debt without being obliged to repay this debt? After that, does this debt pass to you because of his death? And, no later than in the year after the repayment, do you again incur a home acquisition debt up to the amount of the repayment? In that case, you are not obliged to repay the new loan. The 30-year period for deduction of interest will end for you on the date when this period would also have ended for the old loan of your deceased spouse.

Special rules

In 2024, were you dealing with 1 of the following situations? In that case, special rules apply in order to determine whether you may deduct the (mortgage) interest and financing costs:

- You borrowed money for the maintenance or refurbishment of your owner-occupied home, but have not yet used the money for this.
- Your loan is placed in a separate account that was especially opened for the maintenance or refurbishment: a refurbishment deposit.
- Your loan is placed in a separate account that was especially opened for building a new house: a new building deposit.
- In 2024, you paid interest in advance for a period after 30 June 2025.

Refurbishment loan

Did you borrow money for the maintenance or refurbishment of the owner-occupied home? But have you not yet used the money for maintenance or refurbishment? In that case, you may perhaps still deduct the interest and financing costs. You may fully deduct the interest and financing costs for up to 6 months after the loan was taken out.

After 6 months, the part of the refurbishment loan that you have not yet used will be part of box 3. The interest on and financing costs incurred for this part cannot be deducted. If, after 6 months, you withdraw another amount for the refurbishment, the interest on this amount will be deductible from that moment onwards. The maintenance or refurbishment costs may also have been paid from another account.

Did you take out a loan for this within 6 months after the start of the refurbishment? And did you already pay maintenance or refurbishment costs before taking out the loan? In that case, you may deduct the interest on and costs of the refurbishment loan.

Refurbishment deposit

If the amount borrowed is placed in a separate account that was especially opened for the maintenance or refurbishment, this is called a refurbishment deposit. You may fully deduct the interest and financing costs of the refurbishment deposit for a maximum period of 6 months after the loan was taken out.

After 6 months, you need to deduct the interest you received on the balance of the refurbishment deposit from the interest and costs paid. This scheme only applies as long as you used the deposit for maintenance or refurbishment and up to 2 years after the loan was taken out. Did the maintenance or refurbishment cease earlier? And was there a remainder of the deposit? In that case, the interest on the remainder of the deposit will no longer be deductible. You must state the remainder of the deposit in box 3. In that case, only the interest on the part of the loan that was used for the maintenance or refurbishment is deductible.

New building deposit

If the amount borrowed is placed in a separate account that was especially opened to build the house, this is called a new building deposit. You may fully deduct the interest and financing costs of the new building deposit for a maximum period of 2 years. You need to deduct the interest you received on the balance of the new building deposit from the interest and costs paid.

The two-year period starts as soon as the sales/building contract has been signed. A loan has often not yet been taken out then. The loan is usually taken out later and paid upon transfer of title to the house under construction before a civil-law notary. In that case, the two-year period starts at the moment of the transfer of title before the civil-law notary.

Pre-paid interest

In 2024, did you pay in advance part of the deductible (mortgage) interest for a period up to 1 July 2024? And did you agree on this by contract? In that case, this amount can be fully deducted in 2024. So you may pay interest in advance for no more than six months. If, in 2024, you voluntarily paid an amount for 2025, this amount will only be deductible in 2024. In that case, you must state the advance payment as an asset in box 3 as of 1 January 2025.

Refunded interest

Did your bank or other lender refund interest to you, because you paid too much (mortgage) interest in a preceding year? Was this because the bank or another lender charged too much interest? And, in a preceding year, did you deduct this interest as (mortgage) interest on the home acquisition debt? In that case, you must deduct this refunded interest from the deductible (mortgage) interest on and financing costs of the loans you took out for the purchase, maintenance or refurbishment of the owner-occupied home.

Refunded interest higher than deductible interest

Is the refunded interest higher than the amount of your deductible (mortgage) interest on and financing costs of the loans you took out for the purchase, maintenance or refurbishment of the owner-occupied home? And, in a preceding year, did you deduct this interest as (mortgage) interest on the home acquisition debt? In that case, fill in € 0 at question 37b and question 37c. At question 37g, you fill in the part which you cannot set off.

For question 37b

Deductible (mortgage) interest is:

- interest on loans for financing the purchase sum, maintenance or refurbishment of your owner-occupied home
- interest on loans for financing costs relating to the purchase, maintenance or refurbishment of your owner-occupied home, for example for notarial charges
- interest on loans for financing the costs relating to taking out the loan for the purchase of your owner-occupied home, for example, for brokerage costs (such as consultancy or handling fees) in order to take out the loan
- penalty interest paid if a loan that is part of the home acquisition debt was wholly or partly repaid, was refinanced or was changed
The amount of the penalty interest is deductible if it pertained to the home acquisition debt. We then consider this penalty interest to be interest. Did you pay penalty interest through interest rate averaging? See Penalty interest in case of interest rate averaging.
- interest on loans for the buyout of a long-term ground lease, building and planting rights or a perpetual hereditary lease
- under certain conditions: interest on a refurbishment deposit or a new building deposit. See Special rules.

Penalty interest in case of interest rate averaging

In case of interest rate averaging, you did not pay the penalty interest in a lump sum, but you spread the penalty interest over the remaining term of the fixed-interest period that you previously agreed upon.

Penalty interest in case of interest rate averaging also includes the fee charged by the bank due to the loss suffered by the bank because the penalty interest is only paid at a later time. Other surcharges charged by the bank due to interest rate averaging, such as a surcharge for the risk of early and full repayment in case of a sale, are not considered to be penalty interest. These surcharges are therefore not considered to be interest on debts, except if the total of all other surcharges is not higher than 0.2%. A surcharge is when costs are passed on as a percentage. In case of interest rate averaging, you copy the interest paid from the annual statement.

If you did not opt for an interest rate averaging product, but decided to pay in a lump sum the amount of the penalty interest for the full or partial repayment, refinancing or change of the home acquisition debt, you may deduct this amount. If you borrowed that amount, the interest on that loan will not be deductible.

Please note!

If the bank refunded any penalty interest to you, you must set off the refunded penalty interest against the (mortgage) interest paid on that same (mortgage) debt. If the refunded penalty interest was higher than the paid (mortgage) interest, you enter € 0 at question 37b. At question 37g, you fill in the part which you were unable to set off.

Loan from your employer

Did you take out a loan for your owner-occupied home with your employer? And do you have an interest benefit because you pay an interest rate that is lower than the market rate of interest? In that case, this benefit will be part of your taxable wage. This means that you may not only deduct the (mortgage) interest you paid in 2024, but also the interest benefit that is considered to be part of your taxable wage.

For question 37c

Deductible financing costs are:

- brokerage costs for obtaining your mortgage such as consultancy and handling fees
- notarial charges and cadastral fees for the mortgage
- remortgaging costs paid
- valuation costs (only in order to obtain a loan)
- costs of the application for National Mortgage Guarantee or Nationale Hypotheek Garantie
- interest during construction for the period after the sales contract including resolutive conditions was concluded
- under certain conditions: costs of a refurbishment deposit or a new building deposit See Special rules.
- Belgian registration tax if you are a qualifying non-resident taxpayer

For question 37d

If the land on which your home was built did not belong to you, you paid a monthly or annual amount for this to the landowner. These periodic payments for a long-term ground lease, building and planting rights or a perpetual hereditary lease are deductible. You may deduct the payments you made in 2024.

For question 37e

After 28 October 2012 and before 1 January 2018, did you sell your house for an amount lower than the home acquisition debt pertaining to this house? In that case, you will have a remaining debt. You may deduct the interest on this debt for 15 years in box 1.

Here, it does not matter if you buy another house or start renting a house. In order to be allowed to deduct the interest, you are not obliged to repay the debt either. If you filled in your remaining debt of the former owner-occupied home at question 35h, you should fill in the interest you paid on this remaining debt in 2024 at question 37e.

Did you receive a gift from your parent(s) for repayment of a remaining debt? In that case, this gift will decrease your remaining debt and you may no longer deduct the interest on (that part of) this remaining debt.

For question 37g

Did your bank or insurer refund any interest or penalty interest to you? And was the amount that was refunded to you higher than the amount you were able to set off at question 37b and question 37c? In that case, you fill in at question 37g the amount you were unable to set off.

For question 37j to question 37l

If you had no tax partner in 2024, you should still complete question 37j and question 37k. You can reproduce the data from question 37a and question 37h.

Did you have a tax partner for the whole of 2024? Or did you have a tax partner for part of 2024 and do you opt to be tax partners throughout 2024? In that case, you may, at questions 37j to 37l, apportion the balance of the income from and the deductible expenses for the owner-occupied home between you and your tax partner. You must allocate the income from the owner-occupied home and the deductible items for the owner-occupied home to each other in the same ratio. You may, for example, not state a share of 60% for the income and a share of 40% for the deductible items.

Example

The total of the income from the owner-occupied home at question 37a is €3,000. The total of the deductible items for owner-occupied home at question 37h is €13,000. The balance of the income from and deductible items for the owner-occupied home at question 37i is: €3,000 - €13,000 = minus €10,000. You allocate 60% of this balance to yourself. In that case, you fill in:

- At question 37j Your share in the income from the owner-occupied home: (60% of €3,000) = €1,800.
- At question 37k Your share in the deductible items for the owner-occupied home: (60% of €13,000) = €7,800.
- At question 37l The balance of the income from and deductible items for the owner-occupied home which you state: (€1,800 - €7,800 =) - €6,000.

38 Deduction due to little or no home acquisition debt

In 2024, did you have an owner-occupied home that was your principal residence? And did you have little or no (mortgage) interest? In that case, you should use the Calculation tool for the deduction due to little or no home acquisition debt to determine whether you are entitled to this deduction.

Please note!

The 'Deduction due to little or no home acquisition debt' scheme will be phased out in 30 years. The phasing-out started in 2019. As a result, the deduction for 2024 will be lower. The Calculation tool for the deduction due to little or no home acquisition debt can be used for the calculation.

A tax partner for the whole of 2024

Did you have a tax partner for the whole of 2024? In that case, you must divide the deduction due to little or no home acquisition debt in the same proportion as the balance between the income from and deductible items for the owner-occupied home.

A tax partner for part of 2024

Did you have a tax partner during part of 2024? And do you not opt to be tax partners for the whole of 2024? In that case, enter your own deduction due to little or no home acquisition debt. Do you opt to be tax partners for the whole of 2024? See A tax partner throughout 2024.

39 and 40 Specification of loan for owner-occupied home (for question 35e and question 35f)

You use the Specification of loan for owner-occupied home to inform us that you took out a loan for your owner-occupied home with, for example, a family member, a foreign bank or your own private limited company. It concerns a loan which you took out after 31 December 2012 and for which you are entitled to (mortgage) interest deduction. Filing a Specification of loan for owner-occupied home is a condition for deducting the interest on this loan in the tax return.

Please note!

If you do not submit the details of the loan to us in this tax return, this will mean that the loan will, throughout the calendar year, not or no longer be part of your home acquisition debt. In that case, you will not be entitled to interest deduction for this loan in 2024.

How to fill in the specification of loan for owner-occupied home?

If you completed question 35e, you must complete question 39 in order to specify the loan for the owner-occupied home. If you completed question 35f, you must complete question 40 in order to specify this loan for the owner-occupied home. Return the Specification of loan for owner-occupied home to us, together with the other completed tax return pages. To complete question 40, you can use the explanatory notes for question 39.

Please note!

You can state details of 1 lender and of 1 loan per specification. Did you take out the loan with several lenders? Or did you take out several loans? In that case, enter this loan (or the part thereof) at question 35f. Specify the details of the loan (or the part thereof) at question 40.

You can also use the explanatory notes below to fill in question 40. By question 39, we will then mean question 40. By question 35e, we will then mean question 35f.

For question 39a to question 39h

State the details of the person, the foreign bank or your own private limited company you took out the loan with.

Citizen service number, RSIN or TIN

If you borrowed money from a Dutch lender, you should enter the Citizen Service Number (BSN) or Legal Entities and Partnerships Identification Number (RSIN) of the lender. Use the BSN if the lender was a private individual. The BSN consists of 8 or 9 figures. If the BSN consists of 8 figures, you add 1 zero before the first figure. For example: '12335678' becomes '012335678'. If the lender was not a private individual, you should enter the RSIN. If the lender did not have a BSN or RSIN, you should state the foreign tax identification number (TIN) at question 39d. The RSIN or TIN can be requested from the lender.

Country code

State the code of the lender's country. The country code always consists of 3 letters. If the lender was a Dutch lender, you should state 'NLD' as country code. If the lender was a non-Dutch lender, you should search the country code in the List of country codes on page 6 of these explanatory notes. If the country is not listed here, state XXX as country code.

For question 39i to question 39r

Specify the details of the loan you entered in question 35e in the tax return. It concerns the details on the starting date of the loan.

Description of the debt

You can reproduce the description of the debt from question 35e. Also state the number pertaining to this loan. Do you have no number? Because you took out the loan with your family, for example? In that case, you need not enter anything here.

Currency

If the loan was taken out in a foreign currency, you should state the currency code at question 39k. The currency code can be obtained from the lender.

At question 39l, you state the amount of the loan on the starting date in the foreign currency. You must convert the value of the loan into euros yourself. Use the exchange rate on the starting date of the loan. For this purpose, you can use the average exchange rate from De Nederlandsche Bank.

Total value of the loan on the starting date

At question 39m, you state the total value of the loan on the starting date. This is the date on which the lender provided the money. State the value in euros.

Starting date and end date of the loan

Enter the starting date of the loan. This is the date on which the lender provided the money. Also enter the end date of the loan. It concerns the original end date.

Interest rate

Enter the interest rate (annual interest rate) of the loan. It concerns the (average) interest rate in 2024.

Repayment

State the manner of repayment of the loan: on an annuity basis, on a straight-line basis or other.

You have an annuity loan if you pay the same amount each period. You then pay more interest and make fewer repayments at the start of the term. Later, you make more repayments and pay less interest.

You have a straight-line loan if you repay the same amount each period. In addition to these repayments, you pay interest on the loan.

Do you have no straight-line loan, but do you make more repayments than you would with an annuity loan? In that case, tick the box under 'Overig'.

For question 39s to question 39w

Specify the details of the loan you entered in question 35e in the tax return. It concerns the value on 31 December 2024 and the deductible interest in 2024.

Foreign currency

If the loan was taken out in a foreign currency, you should, at question 39s, state the total value of the loan on 31 December 2024 in the foreign currency. You must convert the value of the loan into euros yourself. Use the exchange rate on the starting date of the loan. For this purpose, you can use the average exchange rate from De Nederlandsche Bank.

Total value of the loan on 31 December 2024

At question 39t, you state the total value of the loan on 31 December 2024. State the value in euros.

At question 39u, you state your part of the total value of the loan on 31 December 2024. If you were the only borrower, you should state the total value of the loan. If you took out the loan together with someone else, you should only state your own part of the loan.

Amount borrowed for your owner-occupied home

At question 39v, you state the value of the part of the loan you used for the purchase, maintenance or improvement of your owner-occupied home. It concerns the value on 31 December 2024. State the value in euros.

At question 39w, you state the deductible interest you paid in 2024. It concerns the deductible interest on the part of the loan you entered at question 39v.

41 Threshold income

For the specific medical expenses and donations, you may only deduct the part of the expenses exceeding a certain amount: the threshold amount. The amount of this threshold depends on your threshold income. If you have a tax partner, you should calculate your tax partner's threshold income at question 42. You must use the joint threshold income in order to calculate the threshold amount.

For question 41a to question 41d

Complete this question if, in 2024, you were a qualifying non-resident taxpayer or if, in 2024, you lived in Belgium and had income that was taxed in the Netherlands, but were not a qualifying non-resident taxpayer. Or if you lived in Suriname or Aruba in 2024.

Question 41a: Expenses for income provisions in the Netherlands and abroad combined (worldwide income)

It concerns, for example, the expenses for an annuity or the expenses for an occupational disability insurance policy. You calculate the deductible expenses according to the Dutch rules. At this question, you only fill in the part of the deduction you were not allowed to state at question 33. See the explanation for question 33 for more information.

Question 41b: Balance of income from and deductible items for the owner-occupied home outside the Netherlands

You calculate the balance according to the Dutch rules. Did you have a tax partner for the whole of 2024? In that case, you may only apportion the balance between the income from and deductible items for the owner-occupied home between yourself and your tax partner. Any apportionment is allowed, as long as the total is 100%. At question 41b, you fill in the balance between the income from and deductible items for the owner-occupied home outside the Netherlands which you state yourself. You were not allowed to state this home at question 35 to question 38. See the explanation for question 37 for more information. Are you insured for national insurance contributions in the Netherlands for the whole year? In that case, you then enter the balance of question 41b at question 54m. And the balance of question 41c at question 55c.

Question 41c: Deduction due to little or no home acquisition debt outside the Netherlands

It concerns your owner-occupied home outside the Netherlands in 2024. You were not allowed to state this home at question 35 to question 38. You calculate the deduction according to the Dutch rules. See the explanation for question 38 for more information. Are you insured for national insurance contributions in the Netherlands for the whole year? In that case, you then enter the balance of question 41c at question 55c.

If you were a qualifying non-resident taxpayer and had a tax partner in 2024 who also qualified, you fill in your tax partner's data under question 42. You reproduce the amount under question 42a from the form.

You must calculate all deductible items according to the Dutch rules.

Question 42b: Negative personal allowance

See the explanation for question 21 for more information. The calculation should be based on your tax partner's data.

Question 42c: Surrender of annuities and other negative expenses for income provisions

See the explanation for question 22 for more information. The calculation should be based on your tax partner's data.

Question 42d: The balance between the income from and deductible items for the owner-occupied home which your tax partner states

You may only apportion the balance between the income from and deductible items for the owner-occupied home between yourself and your tax partner. Any apportionment is allowed, as long as the total is 100%. At question 37l, you entered the balance you state. At question 42d, you state the balance between the income from and deductible items for the owner-occupied home which your tax partner states. Place a minus sign before a negative amount. See the explanation for question 37 for more information.

Question 42f: Deduction due to little or no home acquisition debt

See the explanation for question 38 for more information and use the calculation tool to calculate the deduction due to little or no home acquisition debt. The calculation should be based on your tax partner's data.

Question 42g: Expenses for income provisions

See the explanation for question 33 for more information. The calculation should be based on your tax partner's data.

43 Spousal maintenance paid and other maintenance obligations to the ex-partner

If you lived in Belgium and are not a qualifying non-resident taxpayer

Did you live in Belgium and did you have income that was taxed in the Netherlands? And do you not meet the 90% requirement? In that case, the amount of this deduction is limited by the pro-rata facility. This means that the part of the expenses you may deduct in the Netherlands must be proportionate to the part of your income that is taxed in the Netherlands. You calculate the maximum part of your personal allowance using Calculation tool A, pro-rata facility for Belgian residents at the back of these explanatory notes.

Spousal maintenance paid and other maintenance obligations to the ex-partner

Spousal maintenance is a contribution to your ex-partner's cost of living. An ex-partner could be an ex-spouse or a spouse from whom you were living permanently separated. It may also be a partner with whom you lived together.

Maintenance you paid for your children may not be deducted. It is irrelevant whether the spousal maintenance has been determined by a court or decided upon in mutual agreement between you and your ex-partner.

For question 43a

Which maintenance obligations may be deducted?

- periodic spousal maintenance payments and supplementary maintenance payments
- a lump sum spousal maintenance payment to your ex-spouse or a lump sum annuity payment which you deposited with an insurer for this.
This does not apply in the following cases:
 - You paid the lump sum in the period before the court dissolved the marriage.
 - You were living together with your ex-partner without being married.
- old-age pension which you continued to pay as spousal maintenance
- payments in settlement of pension rights, annuities and other income provisions for which you previously deducted the premiums paid
- social assistance benefits that the Benefits Office paid to your ex-partner and reclaimed from you
- other maintenance obligations, such as pension payments to former domestic staff or periodic payments for liability for compensation
- a part of the notional rental value, if your ex-partner continues to live in the owner-occupied home (see Former tax partner remained in the house)

Former tax partner remained in the house

In 2024, did your ex-partner live in the house of which you were the (co-)owner due to a (temporary) spousal maintenance arrangement? In that case, you may deduct the amount of the notional rental value you stated for (your part of) this house, as spousal maintenance.

Do you no longer have to state the notional rental value because you separated more than 2 years ago? In that case, state the value of your part of this house and any pertaining debt in box 3 (savings and investments). Although the notional rental value does not apply to this house, you may still deduct your part of the amount of the notional rental value of this house as spousal maintenance. You calculate this amount by multiplying the notional rental value by the percentage of your ownership in the house.

Example

You and your ex-partner have separated for more than 2 years. You owned half of the house your ex-partner lives in. The WOZ value of the house is € 400,000. The notional rental value is € 1,500. In that case, you may deduct 50% of € 1,500 = € 750 as spousal maintenance. You state half of the value of the house (€ 200,000) in box 3. You also state any pertaining debt in box 3. If you have not separated for more than 2 years, you state € 750 as income (the notional rental value at question 36c) and you deduct € 750 as spousal maintenance.

A tax partner for the whole of 2024

Did you have a tax partner for the whole of 2024? In that case, you add up the spousal maintenance and the other maintenance obligations paid by yourself and your tax partner. You may subsequently apportion the deductible amount between you and your tax partner as you wish, as long as the total is 100%. At question 43a, you state the part of the paid spousal maintenance that you want to deduct.

Please note!

If your tax partner died in 2024, you should make sure that you apportion the deductible amount such that your deceased partner does not have a remainder of the personal allowance.

A tax partner for part of 2024

Did you have a tax partner during part of 2024? And do you not opt to be tax partners for the whole of 2024? In that case, you only deduct your own expenses. Do you opt to be tax partners for the whole of 2024? See A tax partner for the whole of 2024 above.

For question 43b

If you do not know the address of the person to whom you or your tax partner paid spousal maintenance in 2024, you should enter 'onbekend' in 'Straat en huisnummer'.

If you paid spousal maintenance to more than one person, you should state 'meerdere personen' in 'Voorletter(s) en naam'. You then need not enter the other details.

44 Expenses for a temporary stay at home of seriously disabled persons aged 21 or older

If you lived in Belgium and had income that was taxed in the Netherlands and were not a qualifying non-resident taxpayer In that case, the amount of this deduction is limited by the pro-rata facility. This means that the part of the expenses you may deduct in the Netherlands must be proportionate to the part of your income that is taxed in the Netherlands.

You calculate the maximum part of your personal allowance using Calculation tool A, pro-rata facility for Belgian residents at the back of these explanatory notes.

Expenses for a temporary stay at home of seriously disabled persons aged 21 or older

During weekends or holidays, did you take care of a seriously disabled person aged 21 years or older who usually resided in a Wlz institution? And did you incur additional expenses for this, for example for collecting and returning? In that case, you may deduct these expenses as personal allowance under certain conditions.

You are entitled to the deduction for the care of:

- your seriously disabled children
- your seriously disabled brothers or sisters

Please note!

If you lived in Germany, this deduction will only apply to your children.

Did the subdistrict court appoint you as mentor of a seriously disabled person? Or are you the guardian of a seriously disabled person? In that case, you, as the mentor or guardian, must meet the condition that you represent the personal interests of the seriously disabled person. Examples are the interests with respect to care, nursing, treatment or counselling of the disabled person.

For question 44a

Conditions for deduction

- The seriously disabled person was 21 years of age or older in 2024. If he turned 21 years of age in the course of 2024, you only deduct the expenses incurred by you in the subsequent period.
- The seriously disabled person usually resided in an institution. This is often in a Wlz institution. But you cared for the seriously disabled person during weekends and holidays. This could be at your home, but also at a holiday address.
- The expenses were not reimbursed by, for example, the healthcare insurer. Expenses that have yet to be reimbursed may not be deducted either.

You may deduct the following expenses:

- expenses you incurred for collecting and returning by car
A fixed amount of € 0.23 per kilometre applies to this. You should always take the distance from home to the care institution and back, even if you travelled different distances, for example during holidays.
- additional expenses due to the stay of the seriously disabled person at your home
A fixed amount of € 13 per day applies to this. The days on which the seriously disabled person was collected or returned can be included.

Please note!

The amounts referred to apply per disabled person. If you took care of several seriously disabled persons, you may deduct the said expenses for each disabled person.

You calculate your deductible amount using the calculation tool below.

A tax partner for the whole of 2024

Did you have a tax partner for the whole of 2024? In that case, first calculate the deduction for the temporary stay at home of the disabled person. You may then apportion the deductible amount between you as you wish, as long as the total is 100%.

Please note!

If your tax partner died in 2024, you should make sure that you apportion the deductible amount such that your deceased partner does not have a remainder of the personal allowance.

A tax partner for part of 2024

Did you have a tax partner during part of 2024? And do you not opt to be tax partners for the whole of 2024? In that case, add up your and your tax partner's expenses and calculate the deductible amount. One of you may deduct this amount.

Do you both meet the conditions for deduction and do you both wish to deduct an amount? In that case, you each deduct half of the amount. Do you opt to be tax partners for the whole of 2024? See A tax partner for the whole of 2024 above.

45 Specific medical expenses

Conditions for deduction of specific medical expenses

- You may only deduct the part of your expenses for which you received no reimbursement or for which you are not entitled to reimbursement, for example from a (supplementary) healthcare insurance or special social assistance.
- From the total of the expenses, you may only deduct the part that exceeds a certain amount, the threshold. See Threshold.
- The expenses that fall under a compulsory or voluntary excess cannot be deducted either.
- Did you incur expenses that were not reimbursed to you because you did not take out healthcare insurance? In that case, you may not deduct the expenses relating to illness and disability that are covered by the basic healthcare insurance. You may deduct expenses that are covered by the supplementary healthcare insurance.

Please note!

You need not deduct the following reimbursements from the deductible amount:

- The allowance you received from the Employee Insurance Agency (Uitvoeringsinstituut werknemersverzekeringen or UWV) because you were occupationally disabled.
- The specific medical expenses allowance you received from the Tax and Customs Administration.

Were you a conscientious objector?

Were you a conscientious objector? And were the expenses not reimbursed to you by the CAK or in another way? In that case, you may deduct the expenses. You are subject to the same conditions as a person who was not a conscientious objector.

For whom may you deduct the medical expenses?

You may deduct medical expenses for:

- yourself and your tax partner
- your children younger than 27 years of age, if these children were unable to pay the expenses themselves

You may also deduct the expenses paid by you for the following persons, if they were unable to pay these expenses themselves:

- seriously disabled persons of 27 years of age or older, with whom you were living as a family
- A person is seriously disabled if he qualified for admission to a Wlz institution.

- parents, brothers or sisters living with you and who depended on your care

If you did not provide the care, these persons would be in need of professional help or care in a care or nursing home.

Deductible specific medical expenses

Deductible specific medical expenses are only expenses for:

- medical and surgical help
- medicines prescribed by a doctor
- certain aids and adaptations
- transport, such as travel expenses to a general practitioner or hospital
- a diet prescribed by a doctor or dietician
- additional home help
- additional clothing and bed linen
- travel expenses for visiting a sick person

Medical and surgical help

As regards medical and surgical help, you may deduct the expenses for:

- dentist or specialist
- treatments by a paramedic which do not require a referral from a doctor
- It concerns the following paramedics: physiotherapist, dietician, occupational therapist, speech therapist, remedial therapist, orthoptist, podiatrist, oral hygienist and skin therapist. If we ask for it, you must have a statement from the paramedic.
- paramedic treatments by a paramedic, prescribed by and under the supervision of a doctor. Examples are acupuncture, rehabilitation, homeopathy or a health psychologist.
- nursing in a hospital or another nursing home

Medicines prescribed by a doctor

Only the expenses for medicines that were prescribed by a doctor who is qualified according to Dutch standards are deductible. These may also include homeopathic medicines.

Certain aids and adaptations

Aids are facilities or devices mainly used by sick or disabled persons. Examples are facilities that enable a person to perform a normal bodily function, such as prostheses or hearing aids.

Other medical aids, too, are subject to the condition that they are mainly used by sick or disabled persons, for example a 'fingerstick' to measure blood levels without the help of a doctor or nurse.

Expenses for the following medical aids, for example, may be deducted:

- arch supports
 - hearing aids
- These are only deductible in very specific situations. See Hearing aids.
- prostheses
 - dogs, such as assistance dogs, signal dogs, guide dogs and therapy dogs, who have been specially trained by a competent authority ('Stichting Hulphond', for example) to take over a bodily function. For these dogs are mainly used by people who are ill or disabled.
 - maintenance, repair and insurance of these medical aids
 - a 'fingerstick' to measure blood levels without the help of a doctor or nurse
 - a stoma shower
 - an alarm system in connection with a specific illness
- For example, a detection and alarm device for people suffering from epilepsy.

F

Adaptations are understood to be items which can be used by sick or disabled persons and which are especially installed for these persons, for example adaptations to a car steering system.

Medical aids for eyesight

You may only deduct the expenses for medical aids you needed because you were blind or had bad eyesight. For example, the costs for a white stick, a guide dog for the blind or certain adaptations to a computer.

Hearing aids

If you purchased a hearing aid and had to pay part of the expenses yourself, you may perhaps deduct part of the expenses you paid yourself. This is the part you paid yourself, because you had to pay an extra charge.

You may only deduct the extra charge if the following 2 conditions are met:

- You were charged extra because you wanted a more expensive hearing aid.
- The functional requirements of this more expensive hearing aid suited you better because the aid was more comfortable, for example. Or you were less bothered by whistling sounds if you use the more expensive hearing aid.

If you paid an extra charge because of your personal preferences, such as the colour of a hearing aid, for example, the extra charge cannot be deducted.

Did you pay a compulsory personal contribution? Or did you have a compulsory excess? In that case, you may not deduct this contribution or excess.

Transport

It could be that you incurred higher transport costs due to illness or disability. The following expenses are deductible:

- expenses for transport to a doctor, hospital or pharmacy
- expenses for ambulance transport
- additional transport costs due to illness or disability

Calculation of expenses for transport to a doctor, hospital or pharmacy

The transport expenses for obtaining medical help, such as to a doctor or hospital, are deductible at the actual expenses, but only if you are not entitled to a reimbursement of these expenses. You may also deduct the expenses you incur in order to go to the pharmacy to collect prescribed medication.

Do you use your own car? In order to calculate the actual expenses (price per kilometre), you divide the actual expenses in the calendar year by the number of kilometres driven in that year.

In calculating your actual transport costs, you may include the following costs:

- fuel costs
- motor vehicle tax
- car insurance premiums
- depreciation
- maintenance costs
- parking fees
- other costs, such as car wash costs

You may choose whether to include the parking fees you spent on your doctor's visits in the kilometre price. If you do not include them, you may add the parking fees separately to the deductible car expenses. This is often more advantageous.

Example

Your car expenses are € 2,000 and you drove a total of 8,000 kilometres in the calendar year. In that case, the price per kilometre is € 2,000/€ 8,000 = € 0.25 per km. You drove a total of 100 km for the transport of a sick or disabled person. In that case, you calculate the deductible transport expenses as follows: € 0.25 x 100 km = € 25.

Additional transport costs due to illness or disability

You may deduct these additional transport costs if you can make a plausible case that you incurred higher transport costs due to your illness or disability. You incurred these higher transport costs compared to persons who are not ill or disabled and whose financial and social position can be compared to yours. For this, you can use, for example, the information from the National Institute for Family Finance Information (NIBUD) or Statistics Netherlands (CBS).

Did you indeed incur higher transport costs? In that case, you may deduct your additional transport costs. However, the compensation you received from, for example, your healthcare insurer must be deducted from these additional transport costs.

Transport costs you already deducted as medical aid (e.g. an adaptation to your car due to invalidity) or as travel expenses to see a doctor or visit a hospital must also be deducted from these additional transport costs.

Diet prescribed by a doctor or dietician

If, in 2024, you were following a diet prescribed by a doctor or dietician, you may deduct a fixed amount for these expenses. For this deduction, however, you need a confirmation of the diet. Download this confirmation of the diet and have your doctor or dietician complete the document. The fixed amount is shown in the diet list. If the diet is not listed, you may not deduct any amount.

Additional home help

You may deduct expenses for additional home help under the following conditions:

- You required home help because of an illness or disability.
- You have bills or receipts of this containing the following information:
 - date
 - amount
 - name, address and place of residence of the home help or organisation to whom you paid the costs

Home help in a Wlz institution

If you lived in a Wlz or other institution and incurred expenses for home help, you must also meet these conditions. In that case, too, you must have a bill or receipt containing the right information. Costs for home help which are included in the lodging price charged by a Wlz or other institution are not automatically deductible. These costs should be the costs of a home help which were charged separately and which were calculated per person.

Threshold and threshold income

You may only include the part of the expenses exceeding a certain amount, the threshold. Use the following table to determine your threshold.

Table of threshold for expenses for additional home help

Threshold income		Threshold
more than	no more than
-	€ 38,638	no threshold
€ 38,638	€ 57,594	1% of the threshold income
€ 57,594	€ 77,261	2% of the threshold income
€ 77,261	-	3% of the threshold income

Your threshold income is the total of your income and deductible items in box 1, box 2 and box 3, but without your personal allowance.

Did you have a tax partner for the whole of 2024 or did you have a tax partner for part of 2024? And do you opt to be tax partners for the whole of 2024? In that case, use your and your tax partner's joint threshold income. In order to determine your threshold income, you can use the Calculation tool to determine the threshold income on page 42.

Tax partner died

Was your tax partner ill or disabled and has he passed away? And did you have additional home help in connection with his illness or disability? In that case, you may only deduct the expenses for additional home help after the death if you also had additional home help before the death because your tax partner was ill or disabled. You may deduct the expenses you incurred up to and including the month of death and the following 3 months.

Additional clothing and bed linen

Expenses for clothing and bed linen and cleaning them are deductible under the following conditions:

- The expenses were a direct consequence of an illness or disability.
- The illness lasted at least 1 year or will probably last at least 1 year.

Are you deducting expenses for somebody else? In that case, it must concern a person whose medical expenses you may deduct. See For whom may you deduct the medical expenses? This person must have lived with you in 2024. You may include a fixed amount of € 350 for these expenses. If you can prove that the additional expenses were more than € 700, you may include € 875.

The amounts apply per person and for a whole year. If, for example, you incurred additional expenses as from 1 October 2024, you take 3/12 of the deductible amount.

Travel expenses for visiting a sick person

- You may deduct travel expenses for visiting a sick person on the following conditions:
- You and the sick person were running a joint household when the illness started.
 - You visited the sick person frequently in 2024.
 - The sick person was nursed for more than 1 month.
- Was the sick person nursed more than once a year? In that case, you may only deduct the travel expenses if the sick person was nursed for more than 1 month in total and if the nursing was always the result of the same illness. The breaks in between the nursing periods may not exceed 4 weeks.
- The one-way distance between your house or place of residence and the place where the sick person was nursed (measured along the most commonly used route) was more than 10 kilometres.

You may deduct the expenses for:

- travelling by car
You calculate a fixed amount of € 0.23 per kilometre.
- travelling by taxi, public transport or in a different way
You include the actual travel expenses.

Increase of specific medical expenses

- If you meet the conditions, you may increase part of the specific medical expenses by:
- 40% if you had not yet reached state pension age on 1 January 2024.
 - 113% if you had reached state pension age on 1 January 2024

Did 1 of the tax partners reach state pension age and the other tax partner did not? And do you meet the conditions? In that case, 113% applies to both.

Conditions

For the increase of 40% or 113%, your threshold income may not exceed € 40,021. Did you have a tax partner for the whole of 2024? Or did you have a tax partner for part of 2024 and do you opt to be tax partners for the whole of 2024? In that case, your and your tax partner's joint threshold income may not exceed € 40,021.

Was your threshold income, possibly together with your tax partner's threshold income in 2024 higher than € 40,021? In that case, the increase does not apply. Only the costs for medical and surgical help and the travel expenses for visiting a sick person do not count towards this increase.

Threshold

You may only deduct the part of the expenses exceeding a certain amount: the threshold amount. The amount of this threshold depends on your threshold income.

Threshold income

Your threshold income is the total of your income and deductible items in box 1, box 2 and box 3, but without your personal allowance.

Qualifying non-resident taxpayer

If you were a qualifying non-resident taxpayer in 2024, you calculated your threshold income at question 41d. If you had a tax partner for the whole of 2024 and you were both qualifying non-resident taxpayers, you add up your threshold income (question 41d) and your tax partner's threshold income (question 42i).

Table of threshold for specific medical expenses

You did not have a tax partner in 2024
Threshold income		Threshold
from	up to and including
-	€ 9,420	€ 163
€ 9,421	€ 50,034	1.65% of threshold income
€ 50,035	-	€ 825 + 5.75% of the amount above € 50,034
You had a tax partner for the whole of 2024
Joint threshold income		Threshold
from	up to and including
-	€ 18,840	€ 326
€ 18,841	€ 50,034	1.65% of threshold income
€ 50,035	-	€ 825 + 5.75% of the amount above € 50,034

A tax partner for the whole of 2024

Did you have a tax partner for the whole of 2024? In that case, you add up both your specific medical expenses. If you were a qualifying non-resident taxpayer, you already calculated your own threshold income at question 41. You calculated your tax partner's threshold income at question 42. Add up your and your tax partner's threshold incomes. You may apportion the deductible amount as you wish, as long as the total is 100%.

Please note!

If your tax partner died in 2024, you should make sure that you apportion the deductible amount such that your deceased partner does not have a remainder of the personal allowance.

A tax partner for part of 2024

Did you have a tax partner during part of 2024? And do you not opt to be tax partners for the whole of 2024? In that case, only calculate the deductible amount to which you are entitled yourself. Do you opt to be tax partners for the whole of 2024? See A tax partner for the whole of 2024 above.

No tax partner

If you did not have a tax partner in 2024, you only calculate the deductible amounts to which you are entitled yourself.

46 Study costs and other educational expenses

You will only be able to deduct study costs in 2024 if your performance-related grant has definitely not been converted into a donation.

Performance grant converted into a donation in 2024 or not

- Were you entitled to student finance in the form of a performance-related grant before 1 July 2015? If your 10-year diploma period has expired, 2 situations are possible:
- Your performance-related grant will definitively no longer be converted into a gift in 2024. You may still deduct an amount in 2024 for expenses that you were not allowed to deduct in previous years because you had a performance-related grant. See Your performance-related grant has definitively not been converted into a gift.

- Your performance-related grant for those previous years is definitively converted into a gift in 2024. You may no longer deduct study and other educational expenses for those years.

Your performance-related grant has definitively not been converted into a gift

Has the Education Executive Agency (DUO) definitively not converted your loan for the academic years 2015/2016 or earlier into a gift, because your diploma deadline has expired? In that case, in retrospect, in the years when you received a performance-related grant, you had to wrongly reduce your deduction by that performance-related grant. You may still deduct the amount of the performance-related grant in 2024. This is subject to a maximum of €1,693 per academic year for an MBO programme and of €2,443 per academic year for an HBO or University programme.

Did you take your course for part of the year? In that case, the deductible amount for educational expenses for an MBO course is a maximum of € 141.09 per month and for a HBO or WO course a maximum of € 203.59 per month.

Please note!

Was the amount of your performance-related grant lower? In that case, you may still not deduct the fixed amount of €1,693 or €2,443. However, you may deduct the lower amount of the performance-related grant.

47 Donations

Donations

Did you donate money to charities or church or social organisations in 2024? Or did you incur expenses for such an organisation? In that case, you may deduct these expenses under certain conditions. This also applies to donations in kind.

You calculate your deductible amount using the calculation tool on page 48. You should first read the conditions before completing the calculation tool.

Donation paid upon or after death

Was the donation paid, settled or provided at the time of death or afterwards? In that case, this donation cannot be deducted.

Lottery

Did you buy lottery tickets for a charitable or other lottery? You may not deduct these expenses.

Donation has become an interest-bearing debt

Did you have to pay the donation in 2024, but did you not do this? And has this now become a debt, on which you need to pay interest? In that case, the donation cannot be deducted in 2024, but in the year in which you pay this debt.

A tax partner for the whole of 2024

Did you have a tax partner for the whole of 2024? In that case, add up your and your tax partner's ordinary donations. In order to calculate the threshold and the maximum deductible amount, you also add up your and your tax partner's threshold incomes. You may apportion the total deductible amount of the ordinary donations and regular donations jointly between you as you wish, as long as the total is 100%.

Please note!

If your tax partner died in 2024, you should make sure that you apportion the deductible amount such that your deceased partner does not have a remainder of the personal allowance.

A tax partner for part of 2024

Did you have a tax partner during part of 2024? And do you not opt to be tax partners for the whole of 2024? In that case, you only add up your own donations and calculate your own threshold income. Do you opt to be tax partners for the whole of 2024? See A tax partner for the whole of 2024.

Public Benefit Organisation (ANBI)

A donation to an organisation is deductible if this organisation has been recognised and registered by us as a (cultural) ANBI. Do you want to check whether an organisation to which you donate money is registered as an ANBI? This can be done by using the tool 'ANBI opzoeken' at belastingdienst.nl.

Payment to a Public Benefit Organisation (ANBI) not always deductible

In the following situations, payments to an ANBI are not deductible. This concerns payments:

- that are required by law such as taxes and duties
- which are in return for something such as rent and energy costs or health insurance premiums
- for a lottery ticket from a charity such as the PostcodeLoterij, or for kinderpostzegels

Donations to a cultural ANBI

Did you donate money to a cultural ANBI? In that case, you may, in order to calculate the deductible item, increase the amount of the donation to this cultural ANBI by 25%. The total increase of the ordinary donations and regular donations to a cultural ANBI may be no more than € 1,250. This increase is calculated on the ordinary and regular donations jointly.

Example 1

You make a donation of € 500 to a cultural ANBI. In order to calculate the deductible item, you may increase the amount of this donation by 25% (= € 125). So the amount of the deductible donation is € 500 + € 125 = € 625.

Example 2

You make a donation of € 6,000 to a cultural ANBI. In order to calculate the deductible item, you may increase the amount of this donation by 25% (= € 1,500). However, the increase may not exceed € 1,250. So the amount of the deductible donation is € 6,000 + € 1,250 = € 7,250.

Supporting foundations for SBBI

A donation to a certain supporting foundation for an SBBI is deductible. A supporting foundation for an SBBI is a foundation especially created in order to collect money to support an anniversary of an SBBI in the area of sports and music.

Conditions for deduction of ordinary donations

- You made the donations to an organisation that is registered with us as an ANBI or as a certain SBBI.
- You can prove your donations with, for example, bank statements.
- You received nothing in return.
- A donation in kind that exceeds €10,000 per calendar year (or €20,000 for tax partners) is deductible only after an independent valuation.
- The total amount of your donations exceeds the threshold.
- For these donations, you may, in total, deduct no more than the maximum. See Threshold on page 47.
- The donation was not paid for with cash.

What is a consideration?

Did you receive something in return for what you had given? In that case, you received a consideration from the organisation. For example:

- You bought a special cook book from a patients' association. You then made no donation. You paid money and received the book as a consideration.
- You bought a lottery ticket from a lottery. In return for this, you got the chance to win money.

When are you allowed to deduct donations as a volunteer?

Did you do voluntary work for an ANBI? If you meet certain conditions, you may deduct an amount as an ordinary donation. More information can be found at belastingdienst.nl.

Conditions for deduction of regular donations

- At least once a year, you transfer amounts to an ANBI or an association that meets the conditions. See Regular donation to an association that is not an ANBI.
- The amounts are always equally high.
- You had the regular donation recorded before a civil-law notary or in a private instrument of donation. See Regular donations by a notarial or private instrument.
- You make this donation over a minimum period of 5 consecutive years. This period does not apply in the event of death.
- You received nothing in return.

No threshold and no maximum deductible amount apply to regular donations. You can also agree on a regular donation in kind.

What is a donation in kind?

A donation in kind is a donation in a form other than in money, such as a collection of coins, an art object or shares in a private limited liability company. With a regular donation in kind, you undertake to make an annual provision. If, for example, you undertake to offer a food parcel amounting to € 60 every year, you make a regular donation in kind.

Determination of quantity or value of donation in kind

If you enter into the agreement, the quantity or value of the regular provision should be determined and should be clear to everyone. This quantity or value should be the same every year.

Example of the same quantity every year

Every year, you donate toys to an organisation that gives St Nicholas' Eve (Sinterklaas) presents to orphanage children. You agree that you will provide 5 dolls, 5 cuddly animals and 5 children's books every year for a period of 8 years. The quantity of the annual provisions is the same every year, but the value may differ per year. As the quantity of the annual provision is fixed, you may deduct the actual costs of the provision each year in your income tax return. This could be € 250 in one year, and € 300 in the other year.

Regular donations by a notarial or private instrument

In order to qualify for the deduction of regular donations, you must record these donations in a notarial or private instrument of donation. This private instrument must, however, meet a number of conditions. These conditions can be found at belastingdienst.nl. Here, you will also find a model donation agreement.

Please note!

Does an organisation no longer meet the requirements that an ANBI has to meet? And after that, did you make a regular donation to an organisation that is no longer an official ANBI? And were you unable to terminate your contract with this organisation? In that case, this donation can still be deducted.

You cannot deduct the donation if you could have terminated your contract with this organisation. Your donation cannot be deducted either if it concerns a former ANBI with separated private assets.

Regular donation to an association that is not an ANBI

Supplementary conditions apply to a regular donation to an association that is not an ANBI. You may deduct this donation if the association meets the following conditions:

- The association consists of at least 25 members.
- The association has full legal capacity.
- The association does not have to pay corporation tax.
- The association may be established in an EU country, Curaçao, Aruba, Sint Maarten, Bonaire, Sint Eustatius or Saba or in another country designated by us.

48 Remainder of the personal allowance for previous years

For question 48a

The remainder of your personal allowance for previous years is the amount which you were unable to offset previously against your income for those years in box 1, box 3 or box 2 successively.

How do you know if you have a remainder of the personal allowance?

If you have a remainder of the personal allowance, this is stated in your final assessment for 2023. Have you not yet received a final assessment for 2023? In that case, you can deduce the remainder of the personal allowance from your tax return for 2023.

Calculating the remainder yourself

You can calculate the remainder of the personal allowance yourself on the basis of your income tax return:

1. You decrease the income from work and home (box 1) by your personal deductible items.
2. If this allowance is higher than the income in box 1, you decrease the taxable income from savings and investment (box 3) by the remainder of the allowance.
3. If an amount of allowance still remains after that, you decrease the income from a substantial interest (box 2) by that amount.
4. If a part still remains unsettled after that, this will be your remainder of the personal allowance for that year.

A tax partner for the whole of 2024

Did you have a tax partner for the whole of 2024? In that case, you may apportion the remainder of the personal allowance for previous years between you. Any apportionment is allowed, as long as the total is 100%.

A tax partner for part of 2024

Did you have a tax partner during part of 2024? And do you not opt to be tax partners for the whole of 2024? In that case, only deduct your own remainder of the personal allowance for previous years. Do you opt to be tax partners for the whole of 2024? See A tax partner for the whole of 2024 above.

49 Worldwide income

You calculate your worldwide income at question 49. We need your worldwide income in order to calculate the amount of certain tax credits.

For question 49a

Did you live in Belgium and have income that was taxed in the Netherlands, but were you not a qualifying non-resident taxpayer? Or did you live in Suriname or Aruba? In that case, for the calculation of your income tax, you may be entitled to a limited number of personal deductible items. At question 49a, you fill in the personal deductible items you did not enter in the form. At question 49b, letter B, you fill in the total of the deductible items you entered in the form at question 43 to question 48.

For letters A through E, you must do the calculation according to the Dutch rules.

A: Specific medical expenses

See the explanation for question 45 for more information. You have already calculated your threshold income for this question at question 41d.

B: Study costs and performance grant definitively not converted into a gift

See the explanation for question 46 for more information.

C: Donations

See the explanation for question 47 for more information. You have already calculated your threshold income for this question at question 41d.

D: Spousal maintenance paid

The paid spousal maintenance which you were allowed to deduct at question 43 is limited by the pro-rata facility. Here, you enter the part of the pro-rata facility you were not allowed to deduct at question 43.

E: Expenses for temporary stay at home of seriously disabled persons

The expenses for a temporary stay at home of seriously disabled persons which you were allowed to deduct at question 44 is limited by the pro-rata facility. Here, you enter the part of the pro-rata facility you were not allowed to deduct at question 44.

For question 49b

Were you a qualifying non-resident taxpayer in 2024? Add up the amounts entered at question 43 to question 48. You reproduce the data from the form.

Please note!

In 2024, did you live in Belgium and have income that was taxed in the Netherlands and were you not a qualifying non-resident taxpayer? In that case, you cannot simply reproduce the amounts entered at question 43 and question 44. You take 100% of the original amounts without taking account of the multiplier you calculated in Calculation tool A, pro-rata facility for Belgian residents at the back of these explanatory notes.

If you lived in Suriname or Aruba, you fill in the total of the deductible items you entered at question 43, question 44 and question 48, at question 49b, letter B.

50 Separated private assets

What does an APV include?

The concept of separated private assets comprises:

- (family) trusts
- Antillean Private Foundations (SPF)
- certain private foundations and associations – other comparable (foreign) allocated funds (such as Stiftungen, Private Foundations, Anstalten and Genossenschaften)

An APV mainly serves a private interest of a family, for example. Does it concern public service or a social benefit? In that case, it does not have to be an APV. An APV is not a social benefit organisation (sociaal belang behartigende instelling or SBBI).

What is an SBBI?

An SBBI is a foundation especially created in order to collect money to support an anniversary of an SBBI in the area of sports and music.

For question 50a

In the following situations, you state the capital and the income from the APV in your tax return:

- You transferred capital to the APV.
- You are the heir of the person who transferred capital to the APV.
- You have a specific entitlement at the expense of the APV. For example, an entitlement to payments.
- You have a tax partner who transferred capital to the APV.
- You or your tax partner have a minor child who transferred capital to the APV or for whom capital was transferred to the APV.

If you tick question 50a in the tax return, you must state the following:

- the full name of the APV
- the country code of the country of establishment of the APV
This code always consists of 3 letters. See the List of country codes on page 6.

For question 50b to question 50d

Complete question 50b to question 50d if the APV was a (real) active business. This is the case if the APV carried out pension, annuity and specific capital sum insurance activities for current or former employees. There had to be a sustainable organisation of capital and labour that participated in economic transactions and intended to make (or could reasonably expect to make) a profit. It is about entering into competition.

For question 50e

Enter the revenues and expenses, the assets and liabilities from the APV which are allocated to you, your tax partner or the minor children. You also enter these assets and liabilities and the revenues and expenses from the APV once again in the relevant sections of box 1, box 2 and box 3.

Disposal of shares and profit-sharing certificates

If the shares and profit-sharing certificates of the APV which belong to a substantial interest (box 2) are not or no longer allocated to you, your partner or the minor children, this will constitute a fictitious disposal in box 2. In that case, you fill in the economic value at question 23e Transfer price upon sale and suchlike of the substantial interest.

51 Withheld dividend tax or tax on games of chance

Did you have any withholdings for Dutch dividend tax in 2024? In that case, we will offset this tax against your assessment for income tax and national insurance contributions under certain conditions. You are only allowed to offset the dividend tax that was withheld from the shares in your company, from your shares that are part of a substantial interest and from your assets in box 3.

You can find the amount of dividend tax in the overview you receive from the financial institution that paid the dividend to you.

Dividend tax withheld from dividend paid to a minor child

Was dividend tax withheld from dividend paid to a minor child? In that case, the parent who has to state the income or capital of this child in his tax return will also offset the dividend tax withheld.

For question 51a

Dividend tax is withheld as soon as you receive dividend. Your dividend voucher will state this amount. You only state the Dutch dividend tax.

A tax partner for the whole of 2024 and dividend tax

Did you have a tax partner for the whole of 2024? In that case, you may apportion the Dutch dividend tax withheld between yourself and your tax partner. Any apportionment is allowed, as long as the total is 100%. Only mention the part you wish to state for yourself.

A tax partner during part of the year

Did you have a tax partner for part of the year? And do you not opt to be tax partners for the whole of 2024? In that case, only state your own Dutch dividend tax withheld. Do you opt to be tax partners for the whole of 2024? See A tax partner for the whole of 2024 and dividend tax above.

Revenues from games of chance

In 2024, did you have revenues from games of chance that were taxed as results from other work? In that case, you enter this amount in box 1 as taxable income.

You state the Dutch tax on games of chance as an offsettable amount. Enter the withheld tax on games of chance at question 51a. You may not apportion the withheld tax on games of chance between yourself and your tax partner.

52 Revisionary interest

In some cases, you must pay revisionary interest in addition to income tax, namely if you did not comply with the conditions of your annuity, pension right or occupational pension scheme. In that case, you paid too little tax in retrospect.

When do you pay revisionary interest?

You pay revisionary interest if 1 of the following situations applies to you in 2024:

- You commuted your pension.
- You surrendered all or part of your annuity insurance policy.
- You withdrew all or part of the balance in your annuity account or the value of your annuity investment account in a lump sum.
- The annuity was not converted by you or did not become payable in time.
- The annuity did not become payable in time after death.
- You donated, sold or pledged the annuity.
- Your annuity or occupational pension scheme no longer met the tax conditions.

Which rate applies to revisionary interest and on what do you calculate this interest?

The revisionary interest is 20% on:

- the lump sum pension payment
You entered this income at question 5a.
- the lump sum annuity payment, or the balance withdrawn from the annuity account or the annuity investment account
You entered this income at question 5b. If no payroll tax was withheld from the lump sum payment, you entered this income at question 22a.
- the value of the annuity that has not been converted or has not become payable in time
You entered this income at question 22a.
- the value of the annuity at the time when it was donated, sold or pledged
You entered this income at question 22a.
- the value of the annuity or occupational pension scheme at the time when it no longer met the tax conditions
You entered this income at question 22a.

Rebuttal scheme

Did you surrender the annuity within 10 years after the end of the calendar year in which you took out the annuity? Or did you commute your pension within 10 years after the end of the calendar year in which you became entitled to a pension? In that case, you can make use of the rebuttal scheme. The revisionary interest is then calculated differently. This could be more advantageous for you if the amount of revisionary interest according to the rebuttal scheme is lower than according to the 20% rate.

Whether this applies to you and whether this is more advantageous for you can be calculated with the Calculation tool for revisionary interest. You can only use this calculation tool for a surrendered annuity on which you must pay revisionary interest. More information can be found at belastingdienst.nl.

Is the outcome according to the rebuttal scheme lower than 20% of the amount you entered in the tax return as taxable income? In that case, you fill in the lower outcome at question 52a. We will then consider this as a request for application of the rebuttal scheme. Do not enclose your calculation with your tax return. You should, however, keep the calculation, as we may request it.

No revisionary interest payable if:

- you surrendered an annuity to which the scheme for the surrender of small annuities applies
You entered this income at question 5a. It concerns lump sum payments not exceeding € 5,364.
- you surrendered an old-regime annuity
These are annuity contracts which were concluded:
 - before 16 October 1990, of which the premium has not been increased after that, except if this was possible under a clause in the policy
 - before 16 October 1990, but at the latest on 31 December 1991 and for which premiums were no longer paid after 31 December 1991
You entered this income at question 5a. If no payroll tax was withheld from the lump sum payment, you stated the income at question 20b.
Please note! Was your old-regime annuity adjusted so that you were still allowed to deduct the premiums after 2000? And do you surrender that part of the annuity insurance? In that case, however, you have to pay revisionary interest on the lump sum payment of that part.
- you commuted a pension of which the pension payment would not exceed € 592.51 per year
You entered this income at question 5a.
- you surrendered an annuity because you are occupationally disabled
Your insurer has informed you of this.

53 Income to be protected

Did you place your pension or annuity entitlements with a foreign insurer? In that case, you may have to state 'income to be protected'. We impose a separate assessment for this income. You only need to pay this if, for example, your pension or annuity is disposed of or surrendered. In other cases, too, you may have income to be protected, for example in case of emigration or if you move to another country again after you emigrated (onward migration) or in case of suspension of a business due to death. You may have income to be protected:

- if you emigrated
- if you immigrated
- if you work internationally
- in certain situations in the Netherlands

You emigrated

You have income to be protected if you emigrated and you have:

- a capital sum insurance policy, savings account or investment account associated with home ownership
- a claim to a pension
- a claim to annuity insurance
- a substantial interest

You immigrated

You have income to be protected if you immigrated and your annuity insurance is continued with an unrecognised foreign insurer (see Recognised foreign insurer).

You work internationally

You have income to be protected if you:

- placed your pension entitlement with an unrecognised foreign insurer (see Recognised foreign insurer), because you accepted employment abroad
- were working in the Netherlands temporarily, your income was part of box 1 (work and home) and you placed your pension with an unrecognised foreign insurer
- you placed an annuity obligation with a foreign insurer (or pension fund) within the context of accepting employment outside the Netherlands. You did so in order to prevent a pension loss
- placed an annuity obligation with an unrecognised pension fund of a new employer outside the Netherlands
- were posted by the Dutch government

Recognised foreign insurer

A recognised foreign insurer is an insurer who concluded an agreement with the Dutch Ministry of Finance. Most foreign insurers are not recognised. Your insurer can provide you with more information. The insurer is obliged to provide us with information. In addition, the insurer is, just like recognised Dutch insurers, jointly liable for certain of your tax debts regarding your pension or annuity entitlements. A list of recognised foreign insurers can be found at belastingdienst.nl.

Certain situation in the Netherlands

There is income to be protected if:

- if you discontinued your business and you ask for a certain part of the discontinuation profit that was generated to be considered income to be protected.
- the person for whom you are filing a tax return has died, as a result of which you had a discontinuation profit.
- a person not living in the Netherlands acquires a substantial interest in case of a division of matrimonial property, in case of death, in case of a division of an estate or in case of a donation. This is subject to additional conditions.

If 1 of the situations applies to you, you should contact the Tax Information Line Non-resident Tax Issues: +31 555 385 385.

54 Compulsory insurance: income

Contribution base

In order to determine how much contribution you owe, we look at your joint annual income in box 1 in the Netherlands and abroad. You owe contributions on no more than € 38,098 (or € 40,021 if you were born before 1 January 1946). Your employer or benefits agency withholds contributions from your wage, benefit or pension. The contributions withheld are subsequently offset against the contributions you owe.

Do you have a tax partner in 2024? In that case, you may apportion the joint income and deductible items as you wish, as long as the total is 100%.

Example

You were living in Belgium and were married to your spouse in community of property. You received wages in the Netherlands and had an owner-occupied home in Belgium with a mortgage loan. Your spouse had no income of his own. You were not a qualifying non-resident taxpayer. For the calculation of the income tax, you are not allowed to take your owner-occupied home into account. Your spouse was not insured in the Netherlands. For the national insurance contributions, you are allowed to take your owner-occupied home into account. Because you had a spouse, you may apportion the balance between yourselves.

Please note!

If you and your tax partner were both qualifying non-resident taxpayers, you need to make the same apportionment as you did for income tax purposes.

Calculation of contribution base

Were you liable to pay national insurance contributions in the Netherlands in 2024? In that case, the whole of 2024 is the basis for entering your contribution base. It concerns your contribution base from the Netherlands and abroad combined.

55 Compulsory insurance: deductible items

The basis for the national insurance contributions is your income from work and home in box 1 in the Netherlands and abroad. See the explanation for question 54.

In calculating your joint income in the Netherlands and abroad, you may be entitled to the same deductible items as a Dutch resident. You can state these deductible items here.

57 Correction or reduction of your contribution base

Does part of your income fall under a foreign social security scheme? Or, as a non-resident, were you covered by the Dutch national insurance schemes during part of 2024? In that case, you can request a correction or reduction of your contribution base in some situations.

For question 57a

Correction of contribution base

Were you compulsorily covered by the Dutch national insurance schemes in 2024? And during that period, did you owe any foreign social security contributions on your income? In that case, you may be eligible for a correction of the contribution base in the following situations:

- Part of your income was subject to foreign social security legislation because of an international regulation.
- You paid statutory contributions for old-age benefits and death benefits on part of your income in another country.

For question 57b

Reduction of contribution base

Were you liable to pay national insurance contributions in the Netherlands for part of the year only? In that case, you can, in your tax return, ask for a reduction of your contribution base if 1 of the following situations applies to you:

- Part of your income was subject to foreign social security legislation according to an international regulation.
- On part of your income, you paid statutory old-age and life insurance premiums in another country.

Enter the balance between the income and deductible items for the period in which you were not compulsorily covered by the national insurance schemes.

Example

You were working in the Netherlands between 1 January 2024 and 1 July 2024. After that, you were working in your country of residence between 1 July 2024 and 31 December 2024. Because you were liable to pay national insurance contributions in the Netherlands in 2024, you must state your contribution base for the whole of 2024. However, you were only liable to pay national insurance contributions in the Netherlands between 1 January 2024 and 1 July 2024. In that case, for the reduction, enter the amount of the income minus the deductible items from 1 July 2024 to 31 December 2024.

2 methods for deriving

We derive the contribution base according to 1 of the following 2 methods:

- method 1
Your contribution base for the entire calendar year, minus the income and deductible items for the period in which you are no longer insured.
- method 2
The contribution base is calculated up to a maximum of € 38,098 (or € 40,021 if you were born before 1 January 1946) in proportion to the period in which you were compulsorily insured in 2024. So if your actual contribution base was higher than the maximum, the maximum amount will apply and this will be recalculated in proportion to the period in which you were compulsorily insured in 2024. We always calculate both methods, and apply the method that is the most favourable for you.

Example

You lived in Germany and were employed in the Netherlands. The wage was € 15,000. On 1 August, you stopped working in the Netherlands and you started working in Germany. Your wage there was € 25,000. You paid national insurance contributions for the 1st 7 months.

Method 1: Calculation deduction

We deduct the income for the period in which you were no longer insured (period of working in Germany) from the contribution base.
Result € 40,000 - € 25,000 = € 15,000.

Method 2: Calculation of maximum contribution base in proportion to the period

The maximum income on which we calculate contributions in 2024, is € 38,098 (or € 40,021 if you were born before 1 January 1946). For 210 days, the maximum contribution base will then be $210/360 \times € 38,098 = € 22,223$ (or € 23,345 if you were born before 1 January 1946).

In this example, method 1 is the most favourable for you. We therefore set the contribution base at € 15,000.

58 Statement of income from work

We need the amount of your worldwide income from work in order to calculate the amount of your employed person's tax credit. You fill in your income from work in the Netherlands at question 58b to question 58e. You reproduce the data from the form. You calculate your income from work outside the Netherlands at question 58g to question 58j.

For question 58a

At this question, you enter the total of the settled employed person's tax credit mentioned in your annual statement(s) of your wage, your income from other work or wage included in your profit.

For question 58g

Enter: the income you received in 2024 from employment outside the Netherlands. This is the wage from an employer outside the Netherlands, for example.

Company car

Did you have a company car from your employer outside the Netherlands in 2024? And did you also use this car for private purposes? In that case, you must add an amount to your income in the Netherlands. More information about this can be found at belastingdienst.nl.

Work-related expenses scheme

Were you employed outside the Netherlands? Or did you work in the Netherlands for a foreign employer who did not have an establishment or permanent representative in the Netherlands? In that case, your employer does not have to withhold any payroll tax from your wage. You then state the gross wage including the reimbursements. You may deduct 1.92% of this gross wage. We call this the work-related expenses scheme. More information can be found at belastingdienst.nl.

For question 58h

Enter: the tips and other income you receive in 2024 from employment outside the Netherlands.

Tips

Did you receive tips in 2024 while you were employed? In that case, you should state the actual amount of the tips, minus the amount of tips already included in your annual income statement.

Other income not subject to payroll tax

Did you receive any benefits from parties other than your employer during your employment? And did these benefits pertain to your activities in employment? In that case, you should state the actual amount of that other income, minus the amount included in your annual income statement. Your employer will know which amount is included in your annual income statement.

For question 58i

Enter: your results from other work in 2024 outside the Netherlands. These are, for example, revenues as a freelancer, artist or professional athlete outside the Netherlands or extra earnings. You may deduct some expenses you incurred for this work. See the explanation for question 7b for more information. The difference between the revenues and the expenses is called the results from other work outside the Netherlands. Place a minus sign before a negative amount.

For question 58j

Enter: your profits from business activities outside the Netherlands in 2024 before the entrepreneur's allowance and SME profit exemption. Place a minus sign before a negative amount.

59 General tax credit payment

(General) tax credit payment

The maximum amount of the tax credit is the income tax and national insurance contributions owed. If the tax credit is higher, the excess will not be refunded. An exception applies to tax partners. If you had little or no income in 2024, we will take the tax owed by your tax partner into account. In that case, you may be entitled to a payment of your tax credit.

Tax credit and liability to pay national insurance contributions

The tax credit is comprised of a tax component (9.32%) and of national insurance components for the national insurance schemes AOW (17.90%), Anw (0.10%) and Wlz (9.65%). If you worked outside the Netherlands, you generally owed tax and were insured there. In that case, you were not liable to pay tax and national insurance contributions in the Netherlands. As a result, you are usually not entitled to the tax and/or national insurance components for the periods you did not work in the Netherlands.

For question 59a

Tick the box if you meet the conditions for the general tax credit payment. You can read about the conditions below.

Conditions for payment

Whether you are paid the part of the general tax credit which we are unable to settle, depends on the following conditions:

- You had the same tax partner for more than 6 months in 2024. This condition does not apply if your tax partner died in 2024.
- Your tax partner owed sufficient tax. The example below will show you what sufficient tax is.
- You were born before 1 January 1963.

Example (with fictitious amounts)

You have a tax partner. You were born before 1 January 1963. Your wage is € 4,000. The calculated tax on this amounts to € 1,462. Your general tax credit is € 3,070. The difference between your calculated tax and your tax credits is € 1,462 minus € 3,070 = € 1,608. You may not offset this amount against your tax.

Your tax partner has an income of € 35,000. The calculated tax on this amounts to € 13,430. Your tax partner's general tax credit is € 1,536 and the employed person's tax credit is € 5,532. This is € 7,068 in total. The tax owed by your tax partner is € 13,430 minus € 7,068 = € 6,362. Because your tax partner owes more tax than € 1,608, we will pay this amount to you.

Foreign income

Did your tax partner have foreign income? In that case, he may owe less or no Dutch tax. As a result, the amount of general tax credit you receive may be lower.

Please note!

For the income limit, the foreign income you or your tax partner had is not included. In that case, we will look at the tax that is actually due in the Netherlands. If your tax partner lived in the Netherlands, his income from outside the Netherlands is included.

For question 59b

Did you tick the box in question 59a? And do you want us to pay you the general tax credit through your provisional assessment? In that case, enter your tax partner's Dutch aggregate income at question 59b. Your tax partner's Dutch aggregate income is the total of his income and deductible items in the 3 boxes, but without his offsettable losses for previous years. Reproduce your tax partner's aggregate income from his tax return. If you do not fill in your tax partner's Dutch aggregate income, you will not be paid the general tax credit until the final assessment is imposed.

60 Special increase of tax credit

Did you live in Belgium in 2024 and do you receive Dutch income? Or did you live in Suriname or Aruba in 2024? In that case, your spouse or housemate may be regarded as your tax partner for this scheme.

If you were living in Belgium and were not a qualifying non-resident taxpayer, you must, in 2024, both have income that was taxed in the Netherlands in order to be eligible for the increase and payment of your tax credit. Or one is a qualifying foreign taxpayer and the other has income taxed in the Netherlands.

For question 60a

Tick the box if, in 2024, you met the conditions for the special increase of the tax credit.

Conditions for special increase of tax credits

For the special increase of the tax credits, you need to meet the following conditions:

- You were not liable to pay Dutch national insurance contributions in 2024.
- You have the same tax partner for more than 6 months in 2024.
- The income tax you owe is lower than the income tax components of your tax credits.
- Your taxable income in box 1, box 2 and box 3 from the Netherlands and abroad combined was usually less than € 10,705 in total. Please note! The exact amount depends on the tax credits you were entitled to, and whether you only had income in box 1, or also income in box 2 or box 3. See Income in box 1 only and Income in box 2 or income in box 3 in addition to income in box 1.
- After deduction of his own tax credit, your partner owed sufficient tax and national insurance contributions (box 1) in the Netherlands. The fact is that you can never be paid a larger amount for tax credits than what your partner owes for tax and national insurance contributions.
- You were born before 1 January 1963.

Income in box 1 only

Did you have a taxable income in box 1 in the Netherlands and abroad which was lower than € 10,705? Did you have income from work and were you entitled to the employed person's tax credit for at least € 10,705? And do you have the same tax partner for more than 6 months in 2024? In that case, the composition of your income meets the above condition.

Income in box 2 or income in box 3 in addition to income in box 1

If, in addition to income in box 1, you had income in box 2 or box 3, the amount of the taxable income you were allowed to have in box 1 will depend on your taxable income in box 2 or box 3.

61 Income-related combination tax credit

Which children fall under the concept of 'child' can be found under What is a child?

What is a child?

A child is understood to be:

- a child of your own
- a stepchild
- a foster child for whom you received no fostering allowance
- an adopted child
- a child of your registered partner

You had not yet reached state pension age in 2024

You were of state pension age throughout 2024

Tax credit for persons entitled to an old-age pension

Elderly person's tax credit

You can calculate the aggregate income using the overview on page 1 and the Calculation tool for the aggregate income if you are not a qualifying non-resident taxpayer below if you are not a qualifying non-resident taxpayer, or if you lived in Belgium and had income that was taxed in the Netherlands, or if you lived in Suriname or Aruba. You only do this calculation if you want to calculate the amount yourself and want to include it in the calculation tool at the back of these explanatory notes.

Reproduce from I in the overview on page 1.

Add. Aggregate income

The single elderly person's tax credit is € 524.

Tick the box in the tax return if you met this condition.

63 Tax credit for young disabled persons

In 2024, were you entitled to a benefit under the Work and Employment Support (Young Disabled Persons) Act (Wajong) or to support in finding work according to the Wajong Act? In that case, you are entitled to the tax credit for young disabled persons.

The tax credit for young disabled persons is € 898.

For question 63a

Tick the box in the tax return if you received a Wajong benefit.

64 Tax credit for green investments

Green investments are investments in funds that invest in projects pertaining to environmental protection. At belastingdienst.nl, you can read which green funds have been recognised by us.

For question 64a

Under this question, you enter the total balance of the savings. You do not take into account the exemption.

For question 64b

At this question, you enter the total balance of the green investments. You do not take into account the exemption.

For question 64d

Exemption for green savings and green investments.

There is an exemption for green investments. In this question, you calculate the total exemption. The exemption for you is € 71,251. Do you have a tax partner for the whole year? In that case the exemption is € 142,502. The exemption can never exceed the total value of your green savings and investments on 1 January 2025. Is the value of your investments € 20,000? In that case the exemption is also € 20,000. Is the value of your investments € 75,000? In that case the maximum exemption of € 71,251 applies to you. Do you have a tax partner for the whole year? In that case the exemption is € 75,000.

What amount should you fill in under question 64d?

For the amount to be entered in question 64d, first compare a number of amounts.

Do you have no tax partner or have you not opted for whole year tax partnership? In that case compare the amount in question 64c with the exemption of € 71,251. Enter the lowest amount in question 64d. This amount is the total exemption applicable to green savings and investments.

Do you have a tax partner for the whole year or have you opted for a tax partnership for the whole year? In that case compare the amount in question 64c with the exemption of € 142,502. Enter the lowest amount in question 64d. This amount is the total exemption applicable to green savings and investments.

The exemption is 0.7% of the answer to question 64d.

For question 64e

Do you and your tax partner want to (continue to) make use of income-related schemes? These include schemes via the Central Administration Office (Centraal Administratie Kantoor, CAK), the Legal Aid Board (Raad voor de Rechtsbijstand), the Education Executive Agency (Dienst Uitvoering Onderwijs) and Benefits (Toeslagen). In that case, you should look carefully at how you divide the exemption for green investments and which part you thus allocate to yourself and your tax partner. For no exemption for green investments apply to income-related schemes. Information can be found at toeslagen.nl, for example.

65 Income that was subject to the Healthcare Insurance Act

In principle, everyone living or working in the Netherlands is covered by compulsory insurance. The same is true for the medical expenses under the Healthcare Insurance Act (Zvw). An income-related healthcare insurance contribution has to be paid on certain income:

- Were you an employee? In that case, your employer paid this contribution via the employer's levy under the Healthcare Insurance Act.
- Did you receive a benefit, pension or annuity? In that case, the income-related healthcare insurance contribution was usually withheld from your benefit, pension or annuity by the benefits agency.
- Did you also have other income? In that case, you may have to pay us the (additional) income-related healthcare insurance contribution. It concerns the following types of income:
 - profits from business activities
 - income from other work, extra earnings for example
 - income from freelance work or income according to the tax facility for performing artists
 - non-Dutch pensions
 - non-Dutch wage if the employer paid no income-related healthcare insurance contribution
 - regular payments from which no wage tax or national insurance contributions were withheld, such as spousal maintenance

You pay the income-related healthcare insurance contribution by means of a (provisional) assessment. The income-related healthcare insurance contribution is 5.32% of the total of the income referred to above, but no more than on € 71,628.

Calculation of the contribution if you received wages or a benefit and other income

Were you employed or did you receive a benefit and did you, for example, also have income from freelance work? In that case, we only calculate the income-related healthcare insurance contribution on your other income. Was the wage or benefit higher than € 71,628? In that case, you no longer have to pay an income-related healthcare insurance contribution on this other income.

No income-related healthcare insurance contribution

You pay no income-related healthcare insurance contribution if you were a member of the military throughout 2024. Enter this at question 65b.

For question 65a

If the total of question 54b and question 54c is higher than € 71,628. tick 'Ja'. You do not need to complete question 65 any further.

If you entered any non-Dutch wage and suchlike in question 54d, the following applies:

- Did your employer pay the income-related healthcare insurance contribution? Tick 'Ja' if the non-Dutch wage was more than € 71,628. Also tick 'Ja' if the income for question 54b, question 54c and question 54d together exceeded € 71,628. Did your employer pay no income-related healthcare insurance contribution? Tick 'Nee' and continue completing the questions. Enter the non-Dutch wage at question 65g.
- Did your employer pay no income-related healthcare insurance contribution? Tick 'Nee' and continue completing the questions. Enter the non-Dutch wage at question 65g.

For question 65b

Were you on active military service in 2024? Or were you a member of the military on fully paid exceptional leave? In that case, the Ministry of Defence took care of your medical expenses. In that case, you do not have to pay any income-related healthcare insurance contribution. You were insured and liable to pay national insurance contributions under the Wlz. During your employment with the Ministry of Defence, did you have other income in 2024? In that case, no income-related healthcare insurance contribution is paid on this either. State the period during which you were on active military service or a member of the military on exceptional leave.

For question 65c

State the amount of the income from employment that was included in the profit on which the employer paid the employer's levy under the Healthcare Insurance Act, including the allowance under the Healthcare Insurance Act.

For question 65d

Were you a share fisherman in 2024? In that case, you stated your income as profits from business activities. You must pay the healthcare insurance contribution on these profits if the costs were not paid for by another party or if less than 30% of these costs were paid for by another party.

You do not pay a healthcare insurance contribution on your profits as a share fisherman if, during a sea fishing voyage, an important part of the medical expenses (i.e. 30% or more) was paid for by another party, such as the maritime employer. You therefore do not pay a healthcare insurance contribution in the following situations:

- The ownership of the fishing ship was transferred to a professional or general partnership.
- The fishing ship was transferred to a private company and 1 of the share fishermen was a director and major shareholder of this private company.
- The fishing ship was rented by several persons.

Please note!

Does the ship only have 1 owner and are you this owner? Or are you the only person who rents this seagoing vessel? In that case, you therefore do pay the healthcare insurance contribution on your profits as a share fisherman.

For question 65e

Did you complete question 33c? If so, you should also enter this amount at this question.

For question 65f

Did you complete question 33d? If so, you should also enter this amount at this question.

For question 65g

Did you have non-Dutch wage in 2024? In that case, your employer perhaps did not pay the employer's levy under the Healthcare Insurance Act. If that is the case, a (provisional) assessment of 5.32% of your contribution income will be imposed. At this question, you fill in the non-Dutch wage on which the employer did not have to pay an income-related healthcare insurance contribution.

For question 65h

Were you covered by healthcare insurance? However, did you already pay a premium or contribution for a statutory health insurance scheme on part of the income in another country? In that case, you should state this non-Dutch income. This way, you are requesting a correction of the contribution income.

Did your non-Dutch employer or benefits agency withhold the contribution for a non-Dutch statutory health insurance scheme? In that case, enter the non-Dutch income. You can find it in the annual income or benefit statement issued to you by your employer or benefits agency.

For question 65i

Were you compulsorily covered by healthcare insurance for part of 2024 in the Netherlands and for another part of 2024 abroad? In that case, state the part of the year in which you were insured in the Netherlands. You do this in question 1g.

Do you want to request a reduction of your contribution income? In that case, at this question, state the part of the contribution income you earned in the period in which you were not covered by healthcare insurance, because you were compulsorily covered by a statutory health insurance scheme in another country.

CALCULATING TAX

In the Overview of income and deductible items on page 1, you can enter the income and deductible items for 2024. This gives you an overview of your taxable incomes in the 3 boxes. Open the fold-out page for the overview.

CALCULATING TAX: STEP 1

You can use this calculation tool to calculate the total amount of the income tax and national insurance contributions. You need this total amount in order to calculate the amount of tax and contributions that you have to pay or that will be refunded to you.

Please note!

Some amounts or percentages are between brackets. These amounts only apply if you had state pension age throughout 2024.

Special rules in order to calculate the assessment

In a number of situations, special rules apply when calculating the assessment. This is the case if, in 2024, you:

- reached state pension age
- were not liable to pay tax in the Netherlands for a certain period
- were not covered by the national insurance schemes or Healthcare Insurance Act for a certain period

- were entitled to an exemption from national insurance contributions and the income-related healthcare insurance contribution, because you were registered as a conscientious objector
- still had an offsettable loss from a substantial interest, while you no longer had the substantial interest
- had income for which you are requesting a reduction of national insurance contributions at question 57b
- had income for which you are requesting a reduction of the income-related healthcare insurance contribution in question 65i

In these cases, you cannot use the calculation tool at all in order to do the calculation. If the calculation tool states: 'Reproduce from (...) on page 1'? Then reproduce the amount from the overview on page 1 of these explanatory notes.

Please note!

Round all amounts to whole euros. In doing so, you may round to your advantage.

CALCULATING TAX CREDITS: STEP 2

Calculation tool for tax credits

Tax credits are taken into account when calculating the amount you need to pay or will be refunded. These are reductions in income tax and national insurance contributions. You then have to pay less tax. Whether you are entitled to certain tax credits depends on your personal situation.

General tax credit. See the Calculation tool for the reduction in general tax credit below

Employed person's tax credit. See the Calculation tool for the employed person's tax credit on page 65.

Single elderly person's tax credit. See the explanation for question 62a. Enter €524.

Young disabled person's tax credit. See the explanation for question 63. Enter €898.

Amount of income from work

The amount of the employed person's tax credit depends on your age and your income from work. The employed person's tax credit is no more than €5,532 if you reach state pension age after 2024 (or €2,854 if you reached state pension age before 2024). You calculate the employed person's tax credit using the calculation tool below. It concerns the amount you entered at question 58l in the tax return 'the income from work in the Netherlands and abroad combined' (worldwide income from work).

If 58l is higher than €124,934, the employed person's tax credit is €0.

If 58l is €115.295 or lower, continue below.

Reproduce from 58l from the Calculation tool for income from work, but enter no more than €11,490 in.

Amount for the first bracket. Calculate 8.425% of Q if you reach state pension age after 2024 (or 4.346% if you reached state pension age before 2024). Enter no more than €968 if you reach state pension age after 2024 (or €501 if you reached state pension age before 2024).

Subtract: 58l minus Q but enter no more than €13,330.

Amount for the second bracket. Calculate 31.433% of R if you reach state pension age after 2024 (or 16.214% if you reached state pension age before 2024). Enter no more than €4,190 if you reach state pension age after 2024 (or €2,161 if you reached state pension age before 2024).

Subtract: 58l - Q - R, but enter no more than €15,137.

Amount for the third bracket. Calculate 2.471% of S if you reach state pension age after 2024 (or 1.275% if you reached state pension age before 2024). Enter no more than €374 if you reach state pension age after 2024 (or €192 if you reached state pension age before 2024).

Did you live in Belgium and did you have Dutch income? And do you not meet the 90% requirement? And were you entitled to personal allowance (question 43 and/or question 44)? In that case, the amount of this deduction is limited by the pro-rata facility. This means that the part of the expenses you may deduct in the Netherlands must be proportionate to the part of your income that is taxed in the Netherlands.

You calculate the maximum part of your personal allowance as follows:

- Enter your income details in this calculation tool.
- Divide your Dutch income by your income from the Netherlands and abroad combined.
- The outcome (the multiplier) should be multiplied by the personal allowance for which you are eligible.

a Taxable profits from business activities. Place a minus sign before a negative amount.
